Delaying Page 3

IL9.00 (inc. Vat)

Post Diplomatic Correspondent The simmering row between

Premier Menahen Begin and Defence Minister Ezer Weizman

over Eilon Moreh and settlement policy seems to have fizzled out (for the present at least) following a brief conversation between the two men

On the specific issue of the Eilon Moreh hearing pending before the High Court of Justice, Begin told

Weizman that he would ask the chief of staff to submit a sworn affidavit

on the security value of the Gush

Emunim settlement southwest of

The High Court issued a temporary injunction last week forbid-ding further work at the site, in part because Chief of Staff Rafael Eitan's declaration on its security value was submitted in the form of an unsworn statement. The government was given 30 days to make its case again.

Despite the tense anticipation in advance of yesterday's Begin-

Weisman encounter, the meeting passed off smoothly and quietly.

Sources close to Begin had said at the weekend that Begin intended to make Weizman aware of who is prime minister," and would take him to task for criticizing government settlement policy. And sources close to Weizman had said that if Begin forced a row, Weizman would

In the event, the Weizman sources noted delightedly last night, Begin steered the conversation away from any reference to this media-war

no discussion of the genuine

By DAVID LANDAU

Post Diplomatic Correspondent

.The Israel-Egypt negotiations on

Palestinian autonomy resume at Herzliya this morning with the two sides still far apart over what to negotiate about. Egypt has proposed introducing, inter alls, such wide ranging issues as (UN Security Council) "Resolution 242" and a "comprehensive settlement," for the Palestinian issue. Israel wants to focus on the specific and practical matters involved in setting up the

The "talks about talks" on the level of "experts" at Herzliya last week "did not achieve very much,"

according to a high Israeli source.

The "experts," who were Foreign Ministry officials on each side aided by U.S. State Department officials, were charged with compiling a list of items to be included in an agenda for the talks. But they did not manage to agree on even half a list, and so the agenda remains the first item on the agenda for today's full-scale session of the ministerial negotiators.

Israel's position, presented at Herzliya last week by Foreign Ministry legal adviser Meir

Rosenne, is that the negotiators should immediately buckle down to such prosaic matters as elections, eligibility of candidates, eligibility of voters, constitution of the self-governing authority (number of departments, nature of departments, etc.), the authority's powers to raise taxes, to issue ordinances, to "constitute" its own police force as provided by Camp

Dayan surgery

TEL AVIV. - Foreign Minister

Moshe Dayan was operated on

Sheba Medical Centre for the removal of a polyp from his in-testinal tract, the hospital reported.

The operation lasted slightly less than two hours, and the foreign minister recovered consciousness

shortly afterwards and spoke briefly

Soon after Dayan's operation was over Premier Menahem Begin was fully yesterday morning at rtangements

David, and so on.

with his doctors.

projected autonomy.

Israeli sources on eve of Herzliya talks:

Egypt wants wider issues

on autonomy agenda

Nabhus. Weizman did not demur.

early yesterday morning.

MONDAY, JUNE 25, 1979 .

SIVAN 30, 5739 •

RAJAB 29, 1399 •

VOL. XLIX, No. 14650

The remains of a Ford Transit van which blow up yesterday in the central bus station in Tel Aviv, killing two suspected terrorists. (Israel Sun)

suspects die in TA bus station blast

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — Two men whom police. believe were about to place a bomb in Tel Aviv's central bus station were killed yesterday morning when

van. Three passersby were slightly injured and released yesterday evening from hospital. Less than two hours after the bomb exploded, a PLO spokesman in Damascus announced that the perpetrators belonged to the

the two-kilo charge exploded in their

Palestine Liberation Organization. Tel Aviv district police com-mander Nitzav Moshe Tlomkin told The Jerusalem Post yesterday how the explosion occurred:

A yellow Ford Transit was driving on Rehov Hagra towards Rehov An Egged bus moved suddenly from its parking place into the street and the Ford's driver had to brake abruptly. Immediately, an ear-splitting explosion was heard. The Ford burst into flames and the body

Somoza hints

E - Sandinista

guerrillas yesterday said they had

Anastasio Somoza, who bombed

Costa Rica and his own capital of hat rigid opposition to resigning.

Manuagua, appeared to soften his captured the town of Masaya, 25 km

south of the capital, and President

Somoza had earlier rejected calls for his resignation, which came from

(OAS) and received hearty pledges of loyalty from the commanders of 'Nicaragua's 16 states — a pledge

that one Sandinista leader said

But later yesterday, in a nationwide broadcast, Somoza gave would cost them their lives.

the Organization of American States

at quitting

of the driver was thrown out. The other man burned to death inside the Soldiers and passersby began to put out the flames and to keep the gathering crowd of curlous lookers away from the fire. Within a few minutes fire fighters and ambulances arrived, but all that remained for them to do was to transfer the two corpses to the Institute for Forensic Medicine at Abu Kahir.

· Tiomkin also said that a series of miracles had prevented the loss of

The owner of a record store in Rehov Hagra, whose front windows were damaged in the explosion, told The Post that parts of human limbs were blown into his store through the broken windows.

"Theard a great explosion and saw parts of a car scatter all over. I didn't manage to lift my hand to protect myself from flying glass, and parts of a human body fell into the store," the owner said. "It was a miracle," said Nissan Kirschenbaum, 64, who was knocked against the wall of his appliance store when the blast shattered his door and windows. "There was a bus full of people right here, and suddenly I heard the explosion. I was saved by a miracle and by the fact that I lieve in God."

The owner of a cosmetics shop next door said he had seen the flaming explosion at the edge of his sidewalk. "We're closing up and going home for the day," his wife said. We've had enough already."

Yesterday evening a special unit headed by Rav-Pakad Shmuel Carmeli was appointed to investigate the blast. Carmeli and his men will work with the security

The Post has also learned that following yesterday's explosion some 80 Arabs were arrested in the central bus station, but almost all of them were released by last night.

Carter in Tokyo, seeks united stand on oil

TOKYO (Reuter). — U.S. President Vietnamese "boat people" with Jimmy Carter arrived in Tokyo last night hoping the industrialized countries of the countri tries will find a way through an energy crisis threatening their way

Carter wants the seven-nation momic summit which starts here on Thursday to form a united front te deal with soaring oil prices.

U.S. officials said Carter was determined that the summit should take action to control oil imports, reach a common understanding on the competition for oil which has been pushing up spot prices, and embark on programmes to develop alternative fuels.

The two-day meeting of the U.S., France, West Germany, Britain, Japan, Italy and Canada is regarded as the most important since annual meetings of the seven began in 1975.

(Summit background — page 8)
The second most pressing issue on the agenda of the summit will be the plight of the tens of thousands of now permits entry of 7,000 a month. Carter was expected to press Japan to do more during talks with Prime Minsister Masayoshi Ohira. The president is making a three-day state visit to Japan before the summit begins. Japan has agreed to accept up to 500 Vietnamese but only six entry permits have been issued so far. Left-wing radicals made repeated attempts to disrupt airport communications as Carter flew into Tokyo, Officials at Haneda Airport, which had been transformed into a fortress because of leftist anger at Carter's trip, said the extremists jammed ground-to-air communications passed through a relay station south of Tokyo-

But the control tower kept in contact with the presidential plane, Air (Continued on page 3, Cel. ?)

Seek Sinai supervisor to pact

U.S. station some of its planned 110,000-man "quick-reaction" con-tingency force in the Sinai to supervise the peace agreement between Israel and Egypt. The source of the proposal said that the U.S. would thus have troops stationed near the oil routes and would help the peace

Other sources said that the U.S.

was unlikely to commit its troops

The proposal came amid disagreement.

able to inform the cabinet, in session in Jerusalem, that it had been successful. A cabinet source said last night that the premier had given the clear impression that the growth removed from Dayan's abdomen had been found to be non-malignant, and the general reaction in the cabinet was therefore of relief.

Prof. Goldman, acting medical director of the hospital, stated members. A decision on permitting visitors other than the immediate family will be taken this morning. The surgical team was headed by Dr. Isifor Wolfstein. Prof. Goldman said that if the foreign minister continues to recover at the present pace, he will spend about one more week in the hospital, a second week convalescing, and a third week "taking the hatchet — for now between the two men on settlement

Begin's bureau, moreover, later issued a statement strongly denying that the premier had told Weizman that he must implement government policy - because there was absolutely no question of Weizman's having done otherwise.

Another issue resolved during the Begin-Weizman chat was the defence minister's insistent desire to be relieved of his membership in the ministerial negotiating team on the autonomy. This, too, was quickly and quietly settled: Begin agreed to inform the cabinet of Weizman's wish — and an hour later the cabinet gave its formal approval to Weizman's resignation

Only Health Minister Eliezer Shostak wondered aloud whether Weizman could not still be persuaded to change his mind. Begin explained that the defence minister had agreed to take part in all committee meetings and negotiating sessions involving defence- or curity-related matters.

The Defence Ministry, moreover, as chief negotiator Yosef Burg noted later, would continue to provide logistic and communications support for the negotiating team. And Weiz-man's planning aide, Aluf Avraham Tamir, will retain his role as permanent adviser to the committee.

Cabinet sources told The Jerusalem Post last night that no sign of last week's high tension between Begin and Weizman was visible during yesterday's cabinet

This would enable the negotiators to make some tangible progress before they come up against such land and control of water resources.

Egypt, on the other hand, sub-mitted at Heraliya a brief list of topics couched in general terms.

Some seemed to the Israell side to transcend the scope of the autonomy negotiations altogether, and to anticipate the negotiations over the 'permanent status" of the West

Bank and Gaza which, under the Camp David framework, are to be held only in three to five years time.

The Israell side was nonplussed by the Egyptians' inclusion as an item in their list "The self-governing authority (administrative council),"

" and another item "the transitional

"That is what the whole negotiations are supposed to be about," an Israeli source noted drily.

Israeli sources say they appreciate Egypt's need to have the broad political issues reflected in the agenda — co that it can demonstrate to the Arab world that it is not ignoring or betraying these matters.

But at the same time, the Israelis are apparently not prepared to agree to an agenda formulated in such

(Continued on page 2, cel. 3)

Peres to Egypt in July

TEL AVIV (Itim). — Labour Party

chairman Shimon Peres last night told the party's bureau that he has accepted President Sadat's invitation, and will visit Egypt in the middle of July. A larger Labour delega-tion will to to Egypt in December.

yesterday that the foreign minister's general medical condition was good, his spirits high, and that his physicians were satisfied with the progress he was making.

family were allowed to visit him.

However, Prime Minister Begin

telephoned to the hospital and talked to Prof. Goldman. Begin asked him to convey to Dayan his best wishes and those of all the cabinet

Yesterday only his immediately

a success

Begin and Weizman bury Prices of basic items frozen 'for time being'

Post Economic Reporter

Following Premier Menahem Begin's recent call for a price freeze until the next elections are due in 1981, prices of basic commodities including beef, poultry, water, electricity, fuel and transport - are to be frozen "for the time being." The decision comes in the wake of consuitations yesterday between the prime minister and ministers dealing with economic affairs. Meanwhile, Begin is to prepare a detailed plan to back up his pricefreeze proposals for presentation at next week's cabinet meeting.

Cabinet Secretary Arye Naor was not prepared yesterday to define the period covered by the present

A highly placed government source, however, said there was no intention of embarking on a longterm price freeze, though ministers wanted to try to meet Begin's

Yesterday's decision gave no in-dication as to whether the Bank of Israel would act to prevent rapid devaluation of the pound, but such a move is possible in the government's effort to curb inflation and halt inflationary speculation.

The Bank of Israel has protested

the government's plan to halt infla-tion, saying that it is built on too narrow a basis. The bank's proposal is that ministerial budgets should be cut in parallel with the freeze. If the government is incapable of doing this, it should raise prices as it had previously planned; otherwise, in the medium range, the price freeze will increase rather than decrease

Bank of Israel Governor Arnon Gafny cited as an example last year's price freeze: it had in the end raised inflation from the rate of 40 per cent a year to a high of 60 per cent, he said.

Begin reportedly told yesterday's cabinet session that "the in-flationary spiral must be broken even if we have to take an axe to it!" The Treasury and other ministries are to submit assessments and ideas on a price freeze for cabinet decision next week. Agriculture Minister Axiel Sharon is known to have disapproved of the decision which effectively increases the subsidy on poultry and will probably further increase the subsidy in an endeavour to make poultry competitive with imported frozen yesterday told The Jerusalem Post that he would prefer to help the poorer sections of the population by giving them special allowances rather than by embarking on a general price freeze.

The entire subsidy mechanism works poorly, according to Katz. The upper income brackets benefit from it, he charged. The order of priorities on subsidies must be changed; and first place must go to fresh vegetables, flour, edible oils, egga, milk and sugar, Katz suggested. But it would be better still, the minister thought, if people were helped by allowances rather than by subsidies on basic commodities.

When allowances are given, the lowest decile in the population benefits eight times more than does the upper decile. The minister feared that if funds were not forthcoming to increase the budget for subsidies, the general budget would be cut in areas that were of greater urgency.

The economic ministers participating in yesterday's meeting, who included the ministers of finance, building, energy, labour, agriculture and the deputy minister of finance, were told that in real terms their salaries have dropped by 10 per cent. This is the result of new arrangements whereby they pay income tax on transport services they receive from the government. The new calculations were worked out at the instigation of the premier and under Treasury influence.

Meanwhile, the Knesset Finance Committee has issued a statement saying the government must stand by the agreement reached between the committee and the farmers last week. This provided for an agreed price to be paid to the farmers for the poultry they raise, while the subsidy on frozen imported beef was to be done away with as illegal (because it was not budgeted for).

The committee's chairman, Shlomo Lorincz, says the Treasury spends IL100m. a month on an average in subsidizing the beef for which it pays $180m., while all it gets back from sales is $120m.

Transport Minister Haim Landau has meanwhile issued an order controlling transport prices and services. The move is an attempt to ensure that the recent lowering of customs duties on auto spares is passed on to consumers. The ministry says the reduction should be 4 to 5 per cent.

Cabinet sacks Razin, senior economic adviser

mance.

By SHLOMO MAOZ Post Economic Reporter

Prof. Assaf Razin, recently appointed head of the Treasury's Economic Planning Authority, was sterday fired from his iob by a unanimous decision of the cabinet. The dismissal followed Razin's repeated attacks on the government's economic policy and on premier Menahem Begin.

Razin is out of the country on a visit to the University of California at Berkeley. Attempts were being made yesterday to contact him and inform him of the cabinet decision. Treasury Director-General Amiram Sivan recently suggested to Razin that he resign his post, but

Razin apparently refused. Cabinet secretary Arye Naor, speaking on Israel Radio yesterday, said that "with all due respect" to Razin's academic standing (he is a sor of economics at Tel Aviv University), a civil servant's duty is to carry out government policy, and not to "give marks" for its perfor-

A Treasury spokesman yesterday indicated that the ministry had held its fire on Razin's dismissal after the interview he gave to "Ha'aretz" at the end of May. But Razin compounded the criticism last week when, during an international conference on development in an in-(Continued on page 2, col. 2)

Israeli planes hit terrorist strongholds in South Lebanon

Jerusalem Post Staff and Agencies

Israel Air Force planes yesterday attacked Palestinian terrorist strongholds in Southern Lebanon. the IDF spokesman announced. He reported that the attack took place at 3.30 p.m. and that all planes returned safely to base.

According to hospital sources in Sidon, Lebanon, at least 20 people were killed or wounded by the attack. Yasser Arafat's PLO reported that one man was killed and eight persons, mostly women and children, were wounded in the 35minute air strike.

Lebanon's Beirut Radio reported

As Ben-David walks through Katamon Tet, youngsters approach

him to ask about activities, scheduled meetings, symposiums being organized by Ohel for the comthey're unemployed, they have nothing to do. They feel lost, so we are providing them with a map.

They are our soldiers," Ben-David

He describes a "demonstration"

Ohel organized to convince the Jerusalem Foundation to provide some funds for a project.

"They had brought a big U.S.

philanthropist to one of our shows, and he had been so impressed that on the spot he donated $10,000. Later, we needed some money for a theatre

project. So we went to the foundation and asked for IL10,000. They said we had to go through channels, that our kind of project isn't on their list, that we don't know how to budget money.

They made a lot of excuses. So we

"These kids are out of school,

munities.

string of villages along South Lebanon's Mediterranean highway about 15 km. south of Sidon. A spokesman for the governor's office in Sidon, provincial capital of the south, reported that the towns of Agibiya and Tuffahta took the brunt of the Israeli raid. It was also reported from Beirut that the jets also struck deep inland against the Sohmor area, a terrorist-

that the eight Israeli planes blasted a controlled region at the southwest end of the western Bekaa Valley. Sohmor is very close to Syrian troop positions and the strategic Litani River Dam at Lake Qaracun. The PLO spokesman claimed that the jets were met with intensive antiaircraft fire from Palestinian The air strike was described as Israel's second against terrorist targets in Lebanon in less than a week and the 10th in the past two months. Yesterday's raid was regarded by sources in Beirut as a reprisal for the bombing in Tel Aviv's Central Bus Station some six hours earlier.

Sources in Lebanon claimed that at least five houses and 20 shops and a number of cars were destroyed in the air raid.

A terrorist report quoted by Israel Radio said oil dumps near Zaharani

POP IN!

While cooling your heels at Ben Gurion Airport take steps to keep in touch with Israel, fiftytwo times a year. How? By reading The Jerusalem Post Weekly International Edition.

Pop into one of the two Bronfman Bookshops in the Duty Free Lounge and subscribe on the spot.

Have a good journey. Shalom.

Jerusalem Post Reporter It was proposed yesterday that the cussions over Soviet indications that it will veto the extension of the UNEF's mandate in the Sinai, which expires on July 24. Israel, Egypt and the U.S. are considering asking the UN Truce Supervision Organization or friendly countries to supervise the

BACKGROUND REPORT / Robert Rosenberg

Neighbourhood activists 'looking for belief in ourselves' bomb shelter as their centre. An ofour culture, in our strengths," Ben-"We started a few years ago with "We've been sold out by every of 3,000 that included President ment. From Ben-Gurion to David Levy, we've been used as cheap labour and as votes, and in return they've sent us psychiatrists, social workers, street counsellors, special agents, you name it. But never, ever, have we understood it's up to us. They've always decided what's good for us. And since they never knew us, or understood where we come from, and what we grew up into, they never knew what was good for us. But we know. And now we are going to decide.'

The words are spoken softly, without vehemence, but a burning anger lies just beneath the surface. And a desire to make a real change in the life of Israel's shun quarters the "neighbourhoods" — is apparent as Moti Ben-David speaks.

He is a 30-year-old electrician who for the past eight years has devoted all his spare time, and more, to the problem of his people.

For Ben-David, "his people" means the residents of the slums, those Oriental Jews trapped in overcrowded housing, a poor self-image, and the vicious cycle of poverty.

Ben-David says he has found an outlet for his energy. The outlet is called Ohel, an umbrella of united, independent from government policy, self-help community organizations throughout organizations throughout Jerusalem, and for Ben-David, hopefully throughout Israel.

Ohel Yosef. Then we thought we'd just have a local community centre. where instead of Ashkenazi social workers and university students who come from North Tel Aviv and Rehavia, we'd decide what kind of theatre we'd like to do," Ben-David Ohel Yosef, in the heart of Katamon Tet, Jerusalem's most problematic slum neighbourhood. has managed through the past four years to raise an annual IL14m. budget for projects, workshops, programmes and plans designed, implemented and participated in by residents of the community.

various government agencies. But the policies and the activities are generated by the community's 1,000

participants, who have refurbished a

The money comes from donations from foundations, individuals and fice for the entire organization is planned, but meanwhile, another seven fledgling Ohalim approach local community centres and ask for the use of the buildings. Ohel Yosef is the model. "Any outside help we get, we ask for. The time has come to stop being passive in the face of the big shots, Ben-David explained. In mid-June, Ohel held an evening "protest and culture."

Renting Binyenel Ha'coma, they put on a three-hour show that included Oriental music, satirical theatre and a mass Bar Mitzva for nearly 100 children whose families cannot afford the costs of the traditional feasting that accompanies the ceremony.

Most important for the Ohel organizers was a "Declaration of Independence," read to the audience

Yitshak Navon. "We asked him to come onto the stage to sign and accept the declaration and to pass it on to the prime minister. But he turned us down. That showed us, once again, how our lives must become our responsibility." said one Ohel organizer.

The 'Declaration o

Independence" says, in essence, that for 31 years the Oriental community in Israel has not been getting a fair deal and that the community plans to take its affairs into its own hands. And Ben-David said he believes, that as opposed to previous protests by young Oriental Jews, Ohel has a ance to make a real impact.

"We hurt, but we aren't going out into the streets to cry about our pain. We're going out to raise the consciousness of our people, to organize ourselves, to learn to take pride in fic had been clogged in all directions for some time. placards, the demonstrators said they were protesting the "continuing oppression of the poverty-stricken neighbourhoods." Activists said last night that more

Police on horseback who accompanied the demonstrators persuaded the few hotheads who set the two tires ablaze to extinguish the fire, but not before traf-slum quarters to the public's attention.

demonstrations are planned to bring the problems of the came back the next day with 70 pcople playing instruments, singing songs and doing pantomine in the corridors of this fancy office." Chanting slogans and carrying anti-government Ben-David, slightly balding and one of the oldest of the Ohel organizers, finally smiles, "We did get something from them. But more

(Continued on page 5, col. 5)

Slum activists to air complaints in meeting with Levy Jerusalem Post Reporter Representatives from several Jerusalem slum quarters are due to meet with Housing Minister David Levy today after a tire-burning demonstration yesterday that clogged traffic for 45 minutes in the Katamonim The demonstrators, led by activists from the community organization Ohel Yosef, got police permission for the rally, which began at the intersection of Rehov Yohanan Ben-Zakkai and Shikun Patt.

important, we showed ourselves and his own interpretation of the Venezuela proposal approved by the OAS, which called on him to resign. "The people should be conscious of the fact that this solution is not obligatory, it only urges the ments of the hemisphere to eek in a bilateral manner to Nicaragua's problem respecting the principle of non-intervention. I want the Nicaraguan people and the world to know I am open, and I am disposed to receive the (bilateral in-Syrians sentence

14 to death for - Aleppo massacre DAMASCUS (Reuter). - Fourteen > sentenced to death for taking part in the massacre of about 50 military cadets in the northern city of Aleppo, informed sources said here last night.

> The sources said the sentences had been passed by Aleppo's state security court last week in sessions convened after the worst mass kill-

Twelve of the defendants were sentenced in absentia, the sources

ing in recent Syrian history.

Syrians (12 in absentia) have been acid, and a huge manhunt was continuing for them. In the dock were a corporal and a civilian who were expected to be hanged soon. Those tried in absentia include Captain Ibrahim Youssef, found guilty of having ordered men under his command to cut down military adets lured into the assembly hall > 16, the sources said. Syria has asked Turkey to help hunt down Youssef. The authorities believe that Youssef, 29, slipped across the border into Turkey after the killings.

of the Aleppo artillery school on June

The Aleppo incident, officially plamed on the extremist Moslem Brotherhood, was the most serious challenge to the Syrian leadership wince President Hafez Assad came to power in a bloodless coup in November 1970.

The Weather at Main SWISSAIR Destinations

BRUSSELS. BUENOS AIRES_ CHICAGO____ COPENHAGEN ___ Geneva... Helsinki Johannesburg Lisbon MONTREAL NEW YORK.... rio de Janeiro SAO PAULO... STOCKHOL M VIENNA.

Offices in Israel

Tel Aviv, 53 Ben Yehuda St.

(03) 243355.

Jerusalem, 30 Jaffa St.

(02) 228868/233192.

Haifa, 2 Sea Road, (04) 84655

THE WEATHER

Forecast: Clear. Yesterday's Yesterday's Today Humidity Min-Max Max Jerusalem Nahariya Haifa Port Afula Tel Aviv B-G Airport Jericho Gaza

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

for_contributions to cultural, educational and artistic life in Reersheha were made last night to Dr. Puah Menczel (education). Moshe Agmon (art), Nissim Alshech vice) and Eliahu Livnat (sport). The awards were initiated by the local "Parod" under monthly patronage of Machteshim.

ARRIVALS

Dr. Joel I, Hamburger and Dr. & Mrs. posium on thyroid cytology and cancer at the Hebrew University-Hadassah Medical School this week. Dr. Miller is the first recipient of the Hamburger Price in Thyroid Research and will give the inaugural lecture at the avmus

The chairman of the board of directors of the Steigenberger Hotels Corporation, who is also the honorary consul-general of the Republic of Panama in Frankfurt, Egon Steigenberger, and Mrs. Steigen-burger, as guests of Israel Resort Hotels, to familiarize themselves with the hotel properties managed by IRH. They will also investigate possibilities for expanding the cooperation between the two com-panies with regard to the development of tourism and other projects, who is also the honorary consul-general of p.m.

In Memoriam

A memorial service will be held today at the Kiryat Shaul cemetery Tel Aviv at 4:30 p.m. on the 30th day after the passing of Clara Medi, wife of Marcel Janco.

last Friday at the age of 78 at Sheba Medical Centre. Sharett, who immigrated from Russia with his family at the age of five, spent most of his life in Israel on kibbutzim. groups and as a shaliah abroad. His wife died in 1941, following a car ac-

On the occasion of my 80th birthday, the 60th anniversary of the establishment of the firm of Anron Rosenfeld (Aaron Rosenfeld & Sons Ltd.) and the 50th anniversary of my starting to serve as Belgian Consul.

I will be at home to my friends on June 27 and 28, 1979. between 10.00 a.m. and 12.30 p.m. and 5.00 and 8.00

Aaron Rosenfeld 25 Pinhas Margolin Street Bat Galim, Haifa

RUTHIE (nee Mann) and ZVI FEINE

are happy to announce the birth of their

SON

Jerusalem

June 22, 1979

Power cuts expected due to heat wave

Jerusalem Post Staff TEL AVIV. - The Electric Corporation will cut electricity throughout the country for as much as one hour during peak load periods today and in the next few days. The blackouts are necessary because of record electricity consumption during the

There were scattered power cuts yesterdav. As temperatures soured to 37 in Jerusalem, 38 in Afula and 40 in Ellat yesterday, consumption at 2 p.m. was 2,020 megawatts, some 10 per cent above the highest peak demand last July. Air conditioning is the extremely hot weather, a corporation spokesman said yesterday.

main factor in the increased usage The Meteorology Service predict lower temperatures for today, and said that the sudden heat wave seems to be broken. The Electric Corporation nevertheless asks the public to conserve as much electricity as possible between 8:80 a.m. and 2 p.m., to avoid power interruptions.

The electric supply situation is further complicated by sanctions at the Reading and Eshkol power stations, which are slowing the required periodic inspections of the Tel Aviv and Ashdod facilities. The sanctions have not been approved by the Electric Corporation's works com-

Cabinet takes fig-leaf action on national service

By ASHER WALLFISH Jerusalem Post Reporter

The cabinet yesterday sewed on a fig leaf, to cover its nakedness and that of the previous Labour-led governments for the past 26 years with regard to the non-implementation of the National Service Law's clauses about alternative armed forces on religious grounds.

The cabinet approved the amendment to the 1953 National Service Law, to say that the alternative service for women exempt from uniform would only be put into effect in the wake of a specific cabinet deci-

(Since the law was passed, women who get exempted on the claim that they are observant have no national obligation whatsoever, and can get a head start in employment or higher education over their peers who do not claim exemption.)

Cabinet secretary Arye Naor, asked yesterday why the cabinet did not native service for women, said, 'That is not neccessary.' The official explanation appended to the text of the draft amendment simply decide to repeal the relevant said that each successive government since 1953 had failed to implement Clause 20 "for social and political reasons." (The reason was fear of a violent campaign by the The official explanation added

"This government feels it is not fitting that a law on the statute book should not be implemented" - and so it was adding another clause to say that the government would decide when the time was ripe.

The fig leaf was a result of an injunction from the High Court of Justice, ordering the government to enforce the inoperative Clause 20 or amend it. It was handed down in response to a plea submitted by former Liberal MK Yedidia Be'eri. Be'eri's two daughters are serving in general terms. One Israeli source argued that by omitting to mention the detailed arrangements for the autonomy, and instead suggesting the all-embracing formula "The self-governing authority (administrative council)," the Egyptians might be seeking to imply that the details would be for the self-governing

DIFFERENCE

This approach, of course, conflicts with the Israeli view that the ambit of authority of the self-governing authority must be delineated clearly by Israel and Egypt in these negotiations (not left to the authority's subsequent discretion)

and that the legal source of power must remain in Israel's hands even after the self-governing authority is

At any event, the Israeli team,

after a two-hour meeting with

Premier Menahem Begin yesterday,

are going into today's talks anxiou to get into the nitty-gritty of the issues. "But it will depend on the Egyptians," and Israeli source said last night, "whether they are ready insist on formulating an agenda comprising declarative statements

In Egypt yesterday, an official spokesman charged that Israel's tactics during the two previous sessions of the negotiating teams

(one in Beersheba and one in Alexandria) had "tended toward procrastination." The statement came following a two-hour meeting at which Premier Mustapha Khalil

Defence Minister Kemal Hassan Ali

and Foreign Minister Butros Ghali

made ready for today's encounter at Israel, the spokesman said, had sought to limit the scope of the agenda and reduce America's role to that of a mediator out of fear that the U.S.

would team up with Egypt against settlements on occupied land, which the U.S. has maintained are illegal.

Egypt would put forward s

Israeli sources countered that if there was an atmosphere of procrastination, the Egyptians must be held to blame. "We will want to know today," a high Israeli source said, "whether there is to be some meat to sink our teeth into - or whether we are to talk about declarations again. " Meanwhile last night there was still no certainty over whether Begin will meet with Khalil tomorrow. His spokesman said Begin wanted to meet with the Egyptian Premier, and would seek to coordinate a meeting once the Egyptian team arrives today.

The talks at Herzliya are due to last until tomorrow afternoon, and Begin apparently hopes to call on Khalil after they end. The Premier will be touring the Gaillee today and proposal for a draft agenda, the spokesman added.

of principle.

Herzliya.

authority itself to determine.

CABINET

flationary economy at Tel Aviv University, he attacked the government's ministers for trying to increase their budgets to strengthen their own personal standing. This. he claimed, was the principal cause of the present inflationary spiral.

"This government and its premier are simply not serious," Razin was quoted as telling the "Ha'aretz" reporter in May. Razin also said Begin was totally divorced from reality and had not spent so much as a minute during his term of office trying to learn anything about economics. The last rise in the Consumer Price Index (8.7 per cent at the time of the interview), while it had come like a bombshell to the entire Israeli population, had left Begin unmoved. Razin said.

The economic adviser had also said he was unimpressed by cabinet meetings. Ministers did not understand the material, he charged. The present government is responsible for inflation, he said, and it was Razin's impression that it was less capable than its predecessors of tak-

Ministers, Razin said, were capable of applauding proposed budget cuts as they left a cabinet meeting, and then putting up a fight against cuts affecting their own ministries.

Following this newspaper interriew, Razin was called in for a talk by Sivan and apparently promised to desist from further attacks on the political leadership and from further political comment.

However, a fortnight ago he returned to the attack, this time at a conference at Tel Aviv University. The more a minister rises in the political hierarchy, the greater must his budget be, he claimed. A particular target for Razin's criticism was the Ministry of Education. "The decision to make education free to all sectors of the population was a regressive measure designed to win political support at the expense of the Israeli economy."

The formal motion for his removal was put by Finance Minister Simha

In his short term of office, Razin prepared a new five-year economic plan and also pressured the government into linking development loans 100 per cent to the Consumer Price Index - a move he championed over the opposition of his superior, Finance Minister Ehrlich.

Yehuda Sharett dies at 78

Yehuda Sharett (Shertok), com-poser and musical educator, died,

Sharett was active in musical

Yehuda Sharett was the brother of the late Moshe Sharett, Israel's second prime minister.

> Moda'i to Mexico today for oil talks

> > Post Economic Reporter

Yitzhak Moda'i, minister of energy and communications, leaves this morning for Mexico for talks aimed at ensuring Israel's future oil supply. The Energy Ministry spokesman refused to give details on the trip, but oil contracts are generally signed in September and October, and Moda'i is thought to be making preliminary arrangements for an agreement.

On Saturday night, Israel and U.S. officials signed an agreement guaranteeing American oil to Israel in the event of a boycott, as provided by the Camp David agreements. The Energy Ministry spokesman said the pact was to last 15 years, but that Israel would make every effort not to exercise this option, taking care of its own oil supply through other

BIOTECHNOLOGY. - Prof. Ephraim Katzir, former president of Israel, will open an international conference on biotechnology today in Jerusalem's Hadassah Hospital, receives a IL25,000 cheque yesterday from Shmuel Horey, Jerusalem division manager of the National Insurance Institute. At left is the proud father. (Zoom 77) Clause 20 of the 1953 law about alter-

Farmers unhappy over gov't move to freeze food prices

By ALAN ELSNER Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — Initial reactions from the country's agricultural organizations to the Ministerial Economic Committee's treese on food prices has been decidedly un-

Simha Assaf, director-general of the Histadrut Agricultural Centre, which is coordinating the farmers organizations action, told The Terusalem Post yesterday evening that he was "very worried about the implications of the decision." "I am afraid that this decision is not what we were waiting for," he said. "At first glance, this decision seems to offer no solution to the problems of domestic meat and poultry

"We are very unhappy with this decision," Naftali Yavin, an Agriculture Ministry spokesman said. "We favour eliminating the subsidy on imported beef so that poultry farmers can compete on equal terms. But the ministerial committee has decided to do the exact opposite of this. The farmers will receive more subsidies and will benefit; but the net result, in the opinion of the ministry, will be further

Last week the farmers prevented some products from reaching the market in protest against the subsidy on imported beef. Chickens and potatoes supplies were cut off completely, while dairies supplied shops with 15-25 per cent less milk and dairy products than usual in selected

The sanctions were lifted last Friday as a gesture to the Knesset Finance Committee, pending yester day's government decision.

Assaf told The Post that the farmers' representatives would meet this morning to discuss the government's decision and whether to resume a more active campaign. Both Histadrut deputy secretary-general Yisrael Kessar and the Knesset Finance Committee yesterday came out against the subsidy. Kessar called on the government to support the local producer instead of his foreign competitor. In the Knesset Finance Committee, MK Gad Ya'acobi (Alignment) condemned the subsidy on imported beef as "illegal" and pressed for its speedy removal. He was supported by committee members of all par-

Labour hits Begin's price freeze scheme

Post Political Correspondent TEL AVIV. - Premier Menahem Begin's proposal to freeze the prices of some basic commodities was dismissed yesterday by the Labour Party spokesman as "amateurish" and indicative that "his knowledge of economics is minimal."

Putting an artificial brake on some prices under present inflationary conditions would only mean an eve bigger price jump later on, the spokesman said. They must be part of overall economic planning.

The dismissal of Prof Assaf Razin as Finance Ministry adviser was described as "smashing the thermometer instead of curing the high fever" by Knesset Economic Committee chairman Gad Ya'acobi, the Labour Party spokesman on economic policy. He charged that the government was not serious in its talk of curbing inflation because it lacked the courage to cut public spending.

Mapam yesterday charged the scapegoat for its economic failures, and purging "the adviser who had the courage to tell the government the truth." It was the finance minister who should have resigned, Mapam claimed.

Flomin attacks 'gutless' ministers

Post Political Correspondent

RAMAT GAN. - Deputy Finance Minister Yehezkel Flomin has attacked his boss, Simha Ehrlich, and other unnamed ministers for lacking the "guts" to push through Liberal Party economic policy. He told a meeting of the party younger leadership, "Our new economic policy was a good plan, but our ministers did not have the guts to go on to Stage B after proclaiming Stage A."

However, he declined to take up the meeting's call for the four liberal ministers' resignation if the party programme is not implemented.

On the thirtieth day after the passing of our dear

CLARA MEDI JANCO >1%

there will be a memorial service and unveiling of the tombstone today,

We shall meet at the entrance to the Kiryat Shaul cemetery at 4.30 p.m. Our thanks to all who comforted us by letter and verbally.

The Janco Family

The unveiling of the tombstone of our beloved mother

LUBA RICHTER 57"

will take place on Wednesday, June 27, 1979. We shall meet at the gates of the Kiryat Shaul Cemetery at 4 p.m.

Anne Bloomstein, U.S.A. Buth Sacks, Israel. For further details phone Monday evening, 03-763204.

We announce with deep sorrow the death of our beloved

MOSHE GURON 5"

The Family

The funeral will leave at 10a.m. today from the courtyard of the Foreign Ministry in Jerusalem to the Har Hamenuhot cemetery.

Agricultural Research and Development Fund — Board share the sorrow of its director, Mr. Yair Guron on the death of his father

Mr. MOSHE GURON

Board of Directors and Staff

Project Renewal held up: no budgets for directors

By ASHER WALLFISH Jerusalem Post Reporter

Deputy Premier Yigael Yadin told the cabinet yesterday that Project Renewal for slum rehabilitation in the country's 160 distressed areas could not get off the ground until the final arrangements between the government and the Jewish Agency vere worked out, and until the Treasury approved the budgets to pay for the new posts of neighbourhood coordinators.

Yadin fended off a sharp attack against Diaspora Zionists by Housing and Absorption Minister David Levy who charged that the World Zionist Organization was trying to create "a state within a state" and was refusing to release $600m. collected for Project Renewal."

None of the other ministers supported Levy's outburst, which was a repetition of many previous attacks by him against the draft agreement between the government and the Jewish Agency over Project

Yadin said that the slum rehabilitation projects would be carried out just as had been agreed with the Jewish Agency. One of the ministers told The Jerusalem Post that in theory it would have been more efficient for the government to handle all the administrative and executive functions connected with Project Renewal. However, the price of the agreement reached with the overseas donors who were mounting the scheme had been to give them a hand in the implementation, the minister said; and that price now had to be paid, according to the spirit and the letter of the

One of the ministers grumbled that the presence of "that Mapainik" Eliezer Raphaeli (former president of Haifa University) in the key post of Jewish Agency rehabilitation coordinator did not make for smooth cooperation between the agency and the government. Raphaeli was appointed by Arye Dulzin, chairman of the Jewish Agency Executive and a Liberal Party leader. Premier Menahem Begin wound up the brief discussion by urging everybody involved to "settle all the outstanding issues fast and get the scheme under way." However, Finance Minister Simha Ehrlich who has not yet approved the neighbourhhood coordinators' budget, was not present. So several ministers were left with the impression that the loose ends had still not been tied up.

The government also set up a committee of ministers chaired by Minister without Portfolio Moshe Nissim to draft a new convention to be signed between the government and the Jewish Agency which will spell out the relationship between them. This convention, which does not require Knesset ratification, is expected to be drafted and signed this week during the Jewish Agency

Egged buses to run today; strike threat still looms By ALAN ELSNER

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. - The Egged bus strike threatened for today won't take place, but the threat of a strike possibly within 24 hours — still hangs heavy over the public. The National Members Committee, a dissident group within the bus cooperative, has scheduled mass meetings this morning in various locations throughout the country. The major meetings will take place at Egged's headquarters here at 10a.m. The meetings will not disrupt bus services. A source told The Jerusalem Post that "the question of whether to strike will be put to the members during these meetings, and if they are in favour, a strike is possible within 24 hours.

The decision by the committee in cancel today's planned strike appears to represent an important victory for management. Management has consistently refused to acknowledge publicly the existence of the committee, which is demanding better pay and conditions for members. A secret meeting between management and the committee reportedly took place last Thursday without any results.

The committee had been threatening today's strike since last Wednesday when its attempt to paralyse Jerusalem and Haifa failed after 117 back-to-work orders were issued to strike leaders by the Transport Ministry. Management refused to comment yesterday on the committee's decision not to strike today.

Embassy move seen delayed as Clark names M.E. 'envoy' loss of Arab contracts.

OTTAWA (Reuter). — Canadian Prime Minister Joe Clark has appointed a senior Middle East envoy in a move which indicates a delay in his controversial plan to shift the Canadian embassy from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem.

The envoy, appointed to hold wideranging talks and make recommen-Middle Eastern countries, will not start consultations until late this year and is unlikely to report until early 1980. This suggests that no action will be taken until then on the embassy move, which has sparked protests from Arab countries and from Canadian businessmen fearing

Clark asked Robert Stanfield, man he succeeded as leader of the Progressive Conservative Parition be the Middle East envoy.

The Canadian prime minister, who leaves today for the Tokyo econo summit, made his statement after talks with the ambassadors of nine Arab countries and Israel. clearing the air on the embassy

Clark said before being elected that he wanted to move the Canadian embassy to Jerusalem, a symbolic gesture that no other country has made since Israel annexed the entire city after the 1967 war.

. A meeting and service commemorating

Dr. THEODOR GOLDSCHMIDT 574

Ramat Chen, formerly London,

will take place at the end of the shloshim of his passing on Thursday evening, June 28, 1979 at 8.30 p.m. at the Ramat Chen synagogue, Rehov Ramat Chen, in Ramat Chen.

> A Memorial Service for our dear husband, father and grandfather formerly chief Cantor of the Great Synagogue, Johannesburg. is to be held on Sunday, July 1, 1979 at 4.30 p.m. at the Herzliya Cemetery, Pinsker St.

Cantor ABRAHAM REICH

Sarah Reich Naomi and David Frendmann Yehndit and Howard Glazer and families

The unveiling of the tombstone of our dear wife and mother will take place on Tuesday June 26, 1979 at the Holon Cemetery: We will meet at 4.30 p.m. at the main gate.

LORAINE MILLER

Miller and Geri Families

We announce with deep sorrow the death in London on June 18, 1979 of

BAR-KOCHBA NAROD

Buth Michael and Gilad Lidor, Givaisyin Family in England, Israel and the U.S.A.

Our beloved

Dr. MARTIN GUTTFELD

has left us forever. The funeral will leave today, Monday, June 25, 1979, at 3.15 p.m. from the Municipal Funeral Parlour, 5 Rehov Dafna, Tel Aviv for the Holon Cemetery.

> The Bereaved Family and friends in England and larael fishubski MA discu Inesset.

HOM

Balls Mirasini america i sta the state of the later of h recommendati is med centr ige Kupa: H. .: entre aus e ga lemestem 1: ... bedactors and The new receive en entain i gardeal (a.:!!!!!on almion int'I ns four-day daments .!

A-The animal : ent Internation PERSONAL ASSESSMENT Expresident An And Vester lav leis membera fr tal att attending 🚟 which will die ⊇ne of the practice a the develop We Techn. galant prokets. Special places a coll " independent buck. icception fe edetball all-s bushem Post Re Tille — lacari a beroes, where de matching and European . all tonight to Petal medala : a Labat

Presentation: will

tel reception at ed the players and duty at so Malen Post Rev Education M ... 9 let 10th 1111 ents do gua; d . to part of their ne the ministry on chief recons inestifated in the attonal services in border The Je on Inte

T): at the . yce will the and anti-ferral-ta

4. 8 30 4 W

A 1979 St. 1979

All the session

ali, derunkle:

AACI: Postpone aliya unless housing improves

Unless there are drastic changes for the better in Israel's housing supply, the national president of the Association of Americans and Canadians in Israel will advise potential olim to postpone their aliya for three to five years until more flats are available, or until they can save more money

Esther Zackler, who was head of Piones Women in the U.S. before coming on aliya, said yesterday that the AACI is launching a determined effort to press for more housing.

A demonstration of veteran and new Israelis in support of more housing will take place outside Binyenei Ha'ooma in Jerusalem at 8 a.m. tomorrow as delegates to the Jewish Agency Assembly enter the building to attend session on aliya and absorption.

the South African Zionist Federation are not yet poning aliya. But they will join in the fight for more flats. "Hundreds of South African olim are talking of leaving the country, and many abroad are changing their plans to come on aliya," claims Yitzhak Stern, director of the SAZF office here. Ralph Hadani, deputy-director of the BZF's Israel office, is also concerned that the prices of flats are discouraging potential olim.

While blaming the previous and current ministers of construction and housing for not doing enough, they are particularly incensed by Agriculture Minister Ariel Sharon, whose Israel Land Administration parsimoniously frees land for construction of residential buildings.

"We might be able to get something moving if the administration would allow land developers, whether private or semi-governmental, to abolish the land lottery and release land at a reasonable price," says Hadani, noting that over one-third of an apartment's cost is for land. The immigrants associations feel neglected by government ministers, especially Absorption would not meet with them and sent them to his director-general, who referred them to his deputy. (Levy's spokesman said the director-general is ready to meet with them and that the minister never deals with such groups.) 'They've been passing the buck," maintains Zackler. "We even had to ask Charlotte Jacobson, chairman of the Zionist Executive in New York, to get us in to see Levy."

Commenting on statements by Jewish Agency officials that absorption problems were much more severe in the old days than they are now, natives and come only if they want to."

A refrigerated Shekem supply truck waits its turn to cross the Egyptian border near El-Arish, along with a large convoy of trucks and buses which daily make the border passage for destinations in Israeli areas of the Sinai.

Navon at opening of Jewish Agency Assembly:

Deeds must overtake talk of urban renewal

By JUDY SIEGEL

Jerusalem, Post Reporter President Yitzhak Navon warned delegates to the eighth Jewish Agency Assembly last night that Project Renewal for the rehabilitation of slum neighbourhoods may "beomerang" unless the "great deal of talk... is overtaken by deeds."

Adressing the opening of the five-day annual assembly at the Jerusalem Theatre, the president said that expectations in the disd neighbourhoods have been very high since the project was proposed by Prime Milster Menahem Begin nearly two years ago.

"The plans have been published, but very little seems to be happening on the spot. Immediate decisions must be taken on who is to do what and how. It is important," noted "that the Jews of the Diaspora, the local authorities and the inhabitants themselves should be taken into partnership in thinking and planning... It is not too late to put the situation right."

The rehabilitation project has been slated to affect 45,000 disadvantaged families around the country at a cost of $1.2 billion — half from Diaspora Jewry and half from the government.

Israel's emigration problem is tragic but should not be viewed out of proportion, Navon advised. "We should carefully investigate the reasons for yerida, (but) I would like to suggest that we should not put all the blame on ourselves. It is enough to accept a part of it." he said, adding that from 1920 to 1931 28 per cent of the olim left the country and that, from 1948 to 1975, "only" 18 per cent of the olim left.

Jewish Agency Executive chairman Arye Dulzin told the more than 600 delegates that the country's pop-ulation must double by the end of this century. He praised the achievements of the agency in the fields of settlement, education and aliya in the 50 years of its existence.

Plenary sessions open this morning at Binyenei Ha'ooma with briefings on the agency budget by Melvin Dubinsky and Akiva Lewinsky and on the economy by Finance Minister Ehrlich. In the afternoon, rural settlement will be

Kahane out on IL50,000 bail for illegally entering Hebron

Jerusalem Post Reporter A military court in Ramallah yesterday released Kach movement leader Rabbi Meir Kahane on IL50.-000 bail after he was arrested last week for defying an order preventing him from entering Hebron,

He was released despite the argument of the military prosecutor that Kahane might repeat his defiance of the ban if allowed to go free. In fact, Kahane declared that he would attempt to enter the town again.

Kahane was arrested in Hebron last Wednesday night after ripping up another in a series of orders presented to him by military government officers. He was taken into custody outside the Tomb of the Patriarchs.

Before this he made a speech in Kiryat Arba praising the attacks by a number of his followers last month on Arab homes in Hebron. Two of his supporters are awaiting trial for the attacks.

Kahane stated in court yesterday that he had defied the ban to protest laws he said were designed to deal with "hostile Arabs." No body in the world, he argued, could prevent the free entry of Jews into Hebron.

Kiryat Arba residents, who seek to stress that Kahane's supporters are a tiny and isolated minority in the Jewish suburb, are meanwhile continuing their campaign to publicize the struggle for a Jewish Hebron.

As the 50th anniversary of the 1929 Hebron massacre nears, which will be in late August, they are stepping up efforts to explain their case for full-scale settlement in the Arab town. They will hold a press conerence today in the suburb devoted to promoting their specific demands and the general aim of Jewish settlement inside all the major Arab towns on the West Bank.

W. Australia PM promises tree aid

Jerusalem Post Staff

TEL AVIV. — Western Australia has offered Israel expert aid for planting certain tree species indigenous to Australia in Israel, while Israel has been asked to give the Australian state expert aid in solar energy

Sir Charles Court, the premier of Western Australia, said on last week before leaving for home that he had discussed the commercial potential of growing the Australian flora in Israel for export.

He was here for a six-day visit highlighted by the dedication of the Western Australia 150th Anniversary Recreation Park at Kin Zeitim. The park is a gift from the Jewish community of Western Australia,

Sir Charles said he was impressed by kibbutz irrigation projects he in-

Katz to Sweden

Jerusalem Post Reporter Minister of Labour and Social Affairs Israel Katz will leave for Stockholm this week at the invitation of the Swedish government. Katz and his Swedish counterparts are expected to discuss the possibility of a bilateral accord on reciprocity in matters relating to social insurance — similar to agreements that Israel has with other countries.

Building for Peace and Renewal

United Israel Appeal Keren Hayesod

spected, and particularly with the resulting improvement in cotton

Solar energy was another field of significant mutual interest, and it is expected that an exchange of expertise and coordination of research and development between Israel and Western Australia will be arranged, particularly on solar-powered tur-

Less Burgundy wine

DIJON, France (Reuter). — Freak storms have devastated Burgundy vineyards ruining the region's wine prospects for 1979.

According to unofficial estimates, some 600 hectares of vines were stripped of grapes and leaves and a further 400 hectares badly damaged by hail storms in mid-June.

GENSCHER. - West German Foreign Minister Hans-Dietrich Genscher was received by King Khaled in Riyadh yesterday. Genscher arrived on Saturday on a two-day visit for talks on energy issues and Middle East developments.

Plan to take communications out of government's hands

By AARON SITTNER Jerusalem Post Reporter

The first step towards reorganizing the nation's telephone and postal services — by removing them from the civil service — has been taken. After a meeting in Tel Aviv last weekend, Communications Minister Yitzhak Moda'i and Finance Minister Simha Ehrlich announced they would ask the cabinet to anprove formation of two new corporations - the Israel Communications Company Limited and the International Communications Company Limited.

Later on, it is understood, Moda'i will push for forming an Israel Postal Service Company Limited as well.

A Canadian firm - Intel - is reportedly studying the possibility of acquiring an interest in the two communications corporations if they are

If the reorganization plan — recommended last year by the Ministerial Economic Committee is approved by the cabinet, legisla-tion would have to be passed by the Knesset. Moda'l would be prepared to table the required bills before the Knesset rises for its summer recess. The law would provide for exclusive franchises for the two communications companies, to maintain and operate telephone, telex, cable, facsimile data-processing transmissions and other telecommunication services on an economically feasible basis. The law would also prescribe the role of the government in the companies' affairs, including their rate structures and taxation.

As corportations with private shareholders, the two companies would be granted "approved enterprise" status for a five-year period. This provides for substantial tax benefits which, it is believed, would be used for rapid development activities, to eliminate or greatly reduce the long waits of telephone

The proposed legislation setting up the two corporations is based on a master plan prepared by Tel Ya'ad Company of Tel Aviv, a Tadiran subsidiary, on order from the Communications Ministry. Israel has one of the world's highest per-capita utilization rates of international

Interior Ministry charged with holding up demolitions

By MICHAL YUDELMAN Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — Angry municipal of-ficials claim that the Ministry of Interior is standing in the way of carrying out court demolition orders in Tel Aviv's Amal Bet quarter.

The municipality requested police protection for demolition of illegal buildings in Amal Bet. Tel Aviv police submitted the request to the Interior Ministry over a month ago, but have not yet received a reply, the head of the municipality's emergency services department, Shalom Harari, told The Jerusalem Post yesterday. Harari charged that Interior Minister Yosef Burg was avoiding the problem of illegal buildings in Tel Aviv because he feared violence and disturbances by squatters and owners of illegal buildings.

Interior Ministry spokesman Yehezkel Lavi denied all knowledge of the affair. He claimed that no one had approached the Interior Ministry with any such request, adding that the ministry has no connection to Tel Aviv's illegal building problems, which Tel Aviv should solve with the help of its police force. Lavi suggested the municipality had its own reasons for not wanting to carry out demolition orders and should not blame the ministry for the city's shortcomings.

In answer to The Post's questions Harari explained yesterday that some demolition orders, such as in Amal Bet, the Hatikva Quarter and Kfar Shalem, where some residents had "violent tendencies," required considerable police protection. In the case of Amal Bet, Police Inspector-General Haim Tavori decided to obtain the approval of the minister of interior, Harari said.

While police protection for demolitions in Tel Aviv is being discussed in National Police Headquarters and the Interior Ministry, the number of illegal buildings in the city is increasing daily and has reached 10,000 units, concentrated mainly in slum quarters, Harari told

The municipality submits some 50 law suits a month against residents who have built illegally, and these invariably lead to demolition orders, Harari said. He added, however, that thousands of court demolition orders are gathering dust in City Hall because the municipality has not yet found a way to prevent violence when the bulldozers go to

in Tel Aviv Museum's Recanati Hall,

An IPO spokesman told The Jerusalem Post last week that his orchestra has worked hard to identify itself with the Mann Auditorium.

and allowing another orchestra to

But, The Post learns, the auditorium is leased to any manager, for any kind of performance other than an orchestral performance. It has opened its doors to beauty contests, rock concerts and various other forms of entertain-

Tel Aviv Municipality, which owns the other 50 per cent of the hall, has so far refrained from intervening in the dispute, leaving the two

Knesset Education. Committee

chairman Ora Namir has tabled a parliamentary question concerning the ''scandal' of preventing Ashkenary from performing in the Mann Auditorium.

orchestras to solve the problem.

which seats only 550 people.

petition."

IPO refuses Mann hall to chamber orch., Ashkenazy Now, Ashkenazy will have to play

By MICHAL YUDELMAN Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — Controversy between the Israel Philharmonic and Chamber Orchestras will deprive the latter of some IL250,000 income and over 2,000 music lovers of enjoying pianist Vladimir Ashkenazy's only Tel Aviv performance on July 1, Chamber Orchestra manager Ron Avramson said yesterday. (Jerusalemites will be able to hear Ashkenazy and the Chamber Orchestra in Binyenei Ha'ooma on

Avramson has charged the IPO, which owns 50 per cent of the Mann Auditorium, the city's largest concert hall, with refusing to lease it to his orchestra for fear of competi-

Russian-born Ashkenazy has volunteered to play free of charge in Tel Aviv as a gesture of friendship to the Chamber Orchestra's conductor, Rudolf Barshai, a friend and former compatriot, Avramson said. Proceeds were to go to the orchestra. half of whose 45 members are also from Russia:

NORTH AMERICANS. - Over 200 American and Canadian olim in Galilee will meet in Carmiel on Wednesday evening in a get-together sponsored by the Association of Americans and Canadians in Israel to provide them with a framework for discussing shared interests and problems and encouraging others to join them in the region's development towns.

$1b. bridge to link Saudi Arabia, Bahrain

KUWAIT (UPI). — Saudi Arabia and Bahrain have revived the idea of building a bridge to link Bahrain to the Saudi mainland, the Kuwaiti daily "Al-Watan" said yesterday. In a dispatch from Bahrain, the newspaper said that Saudi Arabia has agreed to pay the entire cost of the bridge — an estimated $1b. and that American, Japanese and South Korean companies are bidding for the contract.

KLEIN. — Israel's top soccer coach Avraham Klein left for Buenos Aires this weekend to referee a special football match there tomorrow between Argentina and an ali-star

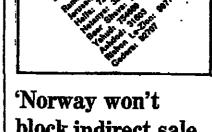

FIFTH INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON SEX EDUCATION

cocktailsparties

block indirect sale of oil to Israel'

KUWAIT (UPI). — A Kuwaiti daily newspaper said yesterday that the Norwegian government had promised U.S. Vice-President Walter Mondale recently that it will not prevent companies from selling Norwegian North Sea oil to Israel.

Quoting "reliable oil sources," the daily "Al-Anbaa" said the Carter administration has told companies which purchase Norwegian oil that the U.S. will pay surcharges or other additional fees in order to cover the oil sales to Israel. The administra-tion, however, has tried to keep this information secret, so as not to disturb members of the Norwegian government who are opposed to the sale of the North Sea oil to Israel, the

During his visit to Kuwait earlier this year, the Norwegian oil minister said at a press conference that, while his government has no intention of selling oil to Israel directly, it cannot control the destination of oil sold to independent oil companies.

Meanwhile, Histadrut secretarygeneral Yeroham Meshel, currently visiting in Norway, was told by the country's foreign minister that Norway will not establish official contacts with the Palestinian Liberation Organization as long as the PLO refuses to recognize Israel's right to exist and calls for the expulsion of Jews from Israel. However, the foreign minister, Knut Friedlund, also criticized the establishment of Eilon Moreh.

CARTER

(Continued from page 1) Force One, by using stand-by radio links, they said.

As the president landed some 500 white-helmeted leftists marched towards the airport shouting "Stop Carter's arrival" and "destroy the summit." The protesters were accompanied by hundreds of Japanese riot police carrying tear gas guns, shields and long fighting staves.

About 6,500 police were on duty at the airport and along the motorway leading to the U.S. embassy, in central Tokyo, where Carter will stay. Some 23,000 police were out in the capital itself.

Carter said yesterday that Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev has assured him that the Soviet Union would not establish military bases in southern Vietnam. The U.S. has been concerned by the presence of Soviet air and sea forces at Da Nang, and at Cam Ranh Bay, the former big.U.S. base built. during the Vietnam War. Carter said in an interview with Japanese reporters in Washington before leaving for Japan that he received Brezhnev's assurance during their summit talks in Vienna last

In Ankara, Turkish armed forces Chief of Staff General Kenan Evren was quoted yesterday as saying Turkey could not allow American U-2 spy planes to overfly its territory to verify the U.S.-Soviet Salt-II (strategic arms limitation) treaty. Two Turkish newspapers said Evren made the statement when he arrived in Ankara on Saturday night after an 18-day visit to the U.S. and Canada.

Asked for his reaction to last week's decision by the U.S. House of Representatives not to grant $50m. in new military aid to Turkey, Evren said: "Aid should not be linked with the issue of U-2 flights. Even if they gave $150m., we can make no con-cessions. Under these circumstances, we cannot allow U-2 flights over Turkey."

WE PAY ANY PRICE INCREASES FOR ONE YEAR!

BEAT THAT. WAR-ON - INFLATION BOARD.

Here's what you do.

Take out a one year subscription to The Jerusalem

We'll not only deliver it direct to your home everyday (at no extra cost), but WE'LL PAY ANY PRICE IN-CREASES THAT OCCUR DURING THE NEXT YEAR. And according to the Government's own figures, that could be 60%.

So, forget about trotting to your local shop everyday send us your cheque and we'll deliver.

THE JERUSALEM To: POST P.O.B. 81, Jerusalem.

Please deliver The Jerusalem Post to me for .

6 months IL1500

IL2800

3 months IL775 VAT included.

My chaque is enclosed.

Room 914, Jerusalem, Tel. 222490, 228553.

Leaders of the British Zionist Federation and ready to back the demonstration officially or to concur with Zackler's statement about post-

Virshubski wants MDA discussed in Knesset MK Mordechai Virshubski yester day tabled an urgent motion for the agenda in the Knesset, to discuss the situation of Magen David Adom volunteer first aid organization's stations. The administration was severely criticized by a Health Ministry committee investigating fast April's fraud charges against the MDA Ramat Gan branch's director and three officers. Virahubski said it wasn't enough to check into just one branch of the MDA when such serious problems were discovered, claiming that the entire system should be investigated, including its relations with health ministry organisations, local medical centres and Kupst

Health Minister Eliezer Shostak approved the committee's recommendations on the MDA, which also criticized his ministry. The recommendations call on Shostak, interalia, to re-examine the appointments of MDA's 15-man council and to see that the ministry keeps closer tabs on the organization. (Itim)

New med centre opened A new Kupat Holim Meuhedet medical centre was opened yesterday in Jerusalem in the presence of U.S. benefactors and the Bnei Zion order. The new centre, at 4 Rehov Ben-Sira, contains in one building the medical facilities formerly dispersed in four locations. (Itim)

Technion int'l board all opens four-day meet Jernsalem Post Reporter HAIFA. - The annual meeting of the > chairman Evelyn de Rothschild and Technion president Amos Horev on the campus yesterday afternoon. Over 200 members from Israel and abroad are attending the four-day meeting, which will discuss the implications of the peace treaty with Egypt on the development of the Technion, the Technion's academic development programme, campus development plans and the operating Technion's international board of governors was opened by board and development budgets for 1980. TA reception for Jerusalem Post Reporter TEL AVIV. - Israel's triumphant basketball heroes, who confounded Europe by snatching second place in the recent European championship in Italy, will tonight be presented with special medals to mark their

Guard duty at schools

The Education Ministry has agreed to let 10th, 11th and 12thschools as part of their national service. Thus the ministry has accepted one of the chief recommendations of the Davidi Committee which last year investigated the country's Shlomo Labat The presentation will highlight a municipal reception at City Hall in honour of the players.

chool-guarding procedures.
Until now, national service for the high school pupils has been limited to short spells in border kibbutsim.

Monday, July 2, 1979

Thursday, July 5, 1979

Morning, 9.30 a.m. — Subject:

Afternoon, 2.30 p.m. — Subject:

Evening, 8,30 p.m. — Closing Session

basketball all-stars grade students do guard duty at their achievement by Tel Aviv Mayor

13 Arab youths held for robberies in West Bank Jerusalem Post Reporter

The Samaria district police have arrested 18 Arab youths from the area on suspicion of participation in a number of robberies in the Jenin-Tulkarm area in recent months, it was announced yesterday. Police said they now hope to catch a number of Jewish criminals who are believed to have cooperated with the Arabs. So far the police have unearthed over IL1m. worth of stolen goods in the northern part of the West Bank. The Samaria district police commander, Sgan-Nitzav Yitzhak Ohana, said yesterday that the Arab youths were organized into two bands that terrorised villagers in the area. On several occasions the perpetrators were dressed in IDF uniforms and carried arms during the robberies, he said.

Gaddafi to Jordan AMMAN (AP). — Libya's Col. Muammar Gaddafi will pay a threeday official visit to Jordan beginning today, the Jordanian royal palace

The palace said Jordan's King Hussein extended an invitation to Gaddafi, who is currently visiting Syria, to come to Jordan for talks on mutual relations and Mideast

The Jerusalem Conference

on International Terrorism

will be held under the auspices of The Jonathan Institute on July 2-5, 1979 at the Jerusalem Hilton Hotel

The Conference will bring together 40 leading statesmen, scholars, journalists and anti-terrorism experts from nine countries to discuss the roots and objectives of international terrorism, the threat it poses to all free societies, and the effective measures that democratic governments could adopt against it.

SESSIONS

Evening, 8.30 p.m. — Opening Session

With the participation of Prime Minister Menachem Begin and

Opposition Leader Shimon Tuesday, July 3, 1979

State Support for International Morning, 9.30 a.m. — Subject: Terretian The Threat Posed by Terrorism Afternoon, 2.80 p.m. - Subject: to Democratic Societies Wednesday, July 4, 1979 Morning, 8.30 a.m. — Subject:

All the sessions will be conducted in English.

Tickets can be obtained through "Kenes," Clai Building,

The Current Besponse of Democratic Societies Mass Media and the Struggle Against Terrorism Proposed Countermeasures for

the Democratic World

jerusalem

Meetings dinners

Reagan shows early as 1980 Republican leader and-file Republicans on the other. For example, Tannessean Howard Baker, the Senate minority leader and highest ranking Republican of-ficeholder in the land, has not yet announced his candidacy but places se-cend to Reagan among potential

voters. Baker, however, does poorly

Former Texas governor John Connally, who has announced his candidacy and has already been campaigning actively, does comparatively well with party activists

but poorly, so far, with prospective seems, is intense manoeuvring within state party organizations and an exciting round of early primaries

next year. No poll can yet suggest with any certainty who will emerge

The "Post" poll does make clear that all candidates will be measured against Reagan. As Robert Teater, a consultant and pollster for whether you call it moderate or to coalesce around one candidate.

strongest against Reagan.

What these factors point to, it among party activists.

Republican voters.

They are a long way from doing that right now; it probably won't happen

. John Connally seems to emerge as a possible compromise candidate. There is a certain irony in that

Connally seems to spark intense likes and dislikes among the delegates, not the usual attribute of a

"The Post's" sampling of Republican voters is at best a rough gauge of sentiment. Most people

1880 cambails and won, tot drips a gange or sentimeer. was became while. In addition, in the poll of 1,808 people, only 851 identified themselves as Republicans; 155

more said they were independents who lean Republican. Findings based on a group that small are on a larger sample.

Even on this rough gauge, however, some statements may be made with a degree of certainty.

Reagan clearly has a substantial lead with rank-and-file Republicans but not an overwhelming one. If he is ecessarily shakier than those based until the primaries start."

compromise candidate.

Malaysia bars landing of two refugee boats

while backing off from its threat to expel its 76,000 Vietnam boat refugees, appeared determined yesterday to prevent another single refugee from setting foot in this

The Malaysian navy held twin 12metre Vietnamese fishing boats just offshore, turning back all would-be visitors and offers of aid, even though one of the boats was damag-

Eye-witnesses said the boats, anchored off the beach, were tied alongaide a navy ship, while patrol boats circled them to keep away the

Women and children were taken from one of the boats, which arrived from Vietnam on Saturday, because the fishing vessel was damaged. But they were kept aboard a Malaysian patrol boat as the navy made preparations to send the boats on their way through the South China

Since announcing a tough new refugee policy on June 15, Malaysia has escorted three refugee boats back into international waters. At the same time, however, it became clear to refugee officials that Malaysia would not make good on its threat — at least for the present time — to tow refugees already here back to sea and "shoot on sight" any trying to return. In fact, it was reported yesterday that Malaysia has decided to admit about 2,500 of the refugees stranded on its beaches to official UN camps. The crowded camps run by the UN already hold more than 65,000 boat

On Malaysia's beaches, living in extreme squalor, are thousands more who are barred from the official camps.

Meanwhile, the first unit of British troops to help Hongkong stem the flow of illegal Chinese immigrants arrived from London yesterday. The 111 members of Britain's Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders are part of some 1,000 British troops requested by Hongkong Governor Sir Murry Maclehose

An army spokesman said the men will rest for three days "to get themselves acclimatized" before starting to patroi the rugged terrain along the border.

Hongkong has been inundated with escapees from China as well as refugees from Vietnam. To combat the influx, Maclehose went to London 12 days ago to plead for more troops for Hongkong.

(AP.UPI.Reuter)

A Managua family flees their home on Saturday as a Nicaraguan National Guard tank opens fire nearby.

Violence may replace Uganda's euphoria

KAMPALA (Reuter). -- As the third president in nine weeks takes over in Uganda, old political divisions have. surfaced and the spectre of violence looms in a power struggle between two rival groups.

The cuphoria that greeted the overthrow of Idi Amin's repressive regime has gone from the streets of Kampala and one diplomat said: "I think the potential for violence definitely remains. I don't think the government has many more com-promise positions it can adopt."

When the ruling Uganda National Liberation Front (UNLF) voted President Yusufu Lule out of office last Wednesday, rioters took to the streets for 12 hours of demonstrations which left at least two people dead and 50 with bullet

The new president is Godfrey Binaisa, a plump, London-trained lawver who seemed numb with surprise when he was aworn in last

WASHINGTON. — Egypt and China

have reportedly agreed on the sale of at least 40 more Chinese MIG fighter aircraft to Egypt.

The "New York Times" reported.

on Saturday from Cairo that the Chinese have already provided

Egypt with at least 40 Shenyang F-

6s, their version of the Soviet-made

("About 20 aircraft have been assembled and at least four are now flying," the report quoted military sources as having said.) It said an estimated 12 to 15 Chinese flight instructors and technicians are in Cairo helping to put the planes

together and training Egyptian

RICHMOND. Virginia (AP). — A passenger on a bus stabbed the bus driver to death on Interstate 95 near here on Saturday, then was struck by

The driver, identified as Jesse

Bennet Pridgen, managed to pull the bus into the right lane and stop

The identity of the passenger was being withheld until relatives could

MUZOREWA UNINVITED. -

Zimbabwe-Rhodesian Prime Minister Abel Muzorewa will not be invited to attend the Organization of African Unity summit in Liberia next month, the OAU spokesman was quoted as saying yesterday in Khartoum.

Emet Vetzedek

Irgun Olei Holland

Hitachdut Olei America Latinit

Hitachdut Olei Brit Hamo'atzot

Hitachdut Olei Tzarfat Utzion Africa

Hitachdut Olei Australia

a hit-and-run driver, police said.

before he died, police said.

Death on the highway

Mig-19s.

pilots.

be notified.

More Chinese Migs to Egypt

On the streets of Kampala, people speak of disappointment that the shops are still largely empty of consumer goods and the prices of the few essential commodities that can be obtained remain high. Ugandans complain that the government which took over from Amin on April 13 has been too busy with political in-fighting to improve the lot of the peo-

Binaisa has set a moderate course, telling reporters he is in favour of a mixed economy and intends to seek aid from the East and West.

"I'm working on plans to try to get as much aid as possible from all quarters," he said.

Recognizing the country's volatile state, he said: "Our main objective is the maintenance of law and order. which I think we've done commendably well, judging from the fact that our police and army were terribly provoked. (in the demonstrations).

The Lule government had said it

("In return," the paper continued,

'the Egyptians have given China a more advanced Mig-23 supersonic fighter...China will examine it with the apparent aim of manufacturing a

The Soviet Union supplied about two dozen Mig-23s to Egypt before halting military aid after the 1973

war. All Egyptian Mig-28s are now grounded because of lack of spare parts and the two squadrons have been disbanded, according to the

"The first 40 Chinese planes were donated to Egypt," it said. "The two countries are now discussing an additional 40 to 50 Mig-19s at a low

LOS ANGELES (AP). — A gold-

coloured 1968 Cadillac once owned by Elvis Presley was sold for $80,000 on Saturday to a Saudi Arabian

The El Dorado coupe was originally expected to go for about $25,000

said Joe Molina, spokesman for Classic Cars of Las Vegas. The

"Evidently he's an Elvis fan,"

DIAMOND. - The 60.42-carat diamond that Richard Burton gave

Elizabeth Taylor when he was her husband, has been purchased by a

New York City jeweller for nearly $3m. Burton paid $1.2m. in 1969 for the flawless, 58-faceted pear-shaped

HOUSING CRISIS DEMONSTRATION

Make your voices heard and join us at the meetings of the Jewish Agency Assembly.

Place: Binyenei Ha'ooma, Jerusalem

Our aim is to encourage world Jewish leaders, together with our own Israeli leadership, to solve this pressing problem affecting the entire society.

Association of Americans and Canadians in Israel

British, Australian and New Zealand Zionist Federation

Time: Tuesday, June 26, 1979 at 8:00 a.m.

התאחדות עולי אנורימה וחנדה בישראו

ASSOCIATION OF AMERICANS & CANADIANS IN ISRAEL

6 Simtat Beit Hasho'evah, P.O.B. 26101 Tel Aviv

businessman, a spokesman said.

Elvis' gold Caddy

buyer was not identified.

said Molina.

Chinese version.")

"Times" report.

price."

aimed to hold elections within two years of coming to power last April. Binaisa said he was committed to this time schedule. Political sources identified the two main government factions as a northern leftist group and a more conservative southern group in which members of Uganda's largest tribe, the Baganda, are dominant.

The sources said that the leftist group, while perhaps heirs to the political philosophy of ex-President Milton Obote, did not all have his return home as their objective.

The national consultative council of the UNLF, the executive body which dismissed Lule, said in a statement last week: "The UNLF has no intention of returning Obote as president, vice-president or minister in the front's interim government."

It said he could end his eight years of exile in Tanzania and on his return home would be treated in a manner befitting a former president. Ceausescu 'mediating

CAIRO (U[I). — Rumanian President Nicolae Ceausescu has been playing an unofficial mediation role between the U.S. and the Palestine Liberation Organization, and the Palestinian side has welcomed the efforts, the weekly magazine "Rose el-Youssef" said yesterday.

between U.S., PLO'

"President Ceausescu is now mediating unofficially between the U.S. and the PLO in preparation for a meeting that will be held secretly as a first stop between PLO representatives and some U.S. officials in Bucharest or another place nia." the mag

Ulster soldier killed

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP). — A member of the Ulster Defence Regiment was found shot dead yesterday outside his farm near Armagh, police reported. They said they believed he was killed by terrorists.

No group immediately claimed responsibility, but suspicion fell on guerrillas of the mainly Roman Catholic Irish Republican Army's "Provisional" wing. They have declared UDR men legitimate targets in their fight to drive the British from the province and unite it with the overwhelmingly Catholic Irish republic to the south.

YEMEN. - South Yemeni Premier Ali Nasser Mohammed left for Moscow yesterday for talks to strengthen bilateral relations between his country and the USSR.

$20 a barrel price tag seen for OPEC oil

chief Hassan Nazih was quoted vesterday as saving he thought the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) would fix the price of crude oil at over $20 a barrel - more than a third above the current theoretical price - at its

Nazih, who leaves today to head the Iranian delegation to the OPEC session, was to meet vesterday with Iranian oil experts and government officials to discuss what price Iran producer after Saudi Arabia — even at the reduced rate of Iranian output since the overthrow of the shah.

'market premium" which effectively raises the price to $20 or more.

Cairo warns Moscow on UNEF mandate

CAIRO (UPI). — Egypt has notified weekly magazine "Rose el-Youssef" magazine said that the U.S. side to the SALT-II talks last week conveyed to the Soviet side a message

$10m. worth of hashish said vesterday.

Spain to ration petrol

madrid (Reuter). — spain may in-troduce petrol rationing if consump-tion is not reduced significantly, the Madrid newspaper "El Apsis" said yesterday. The newspaper said the government had drawn up an energy-saving plan aimed at reduc-ing a rise in oil consumption of more than 11.5 per cent in the first five months of this year.

Burmese going home

TEHERAN (Reuter). - Iranian oil

forthcoming Geneva meeting.

should propose at the meeting.
Iran is OPEC's second-biggest

The current OPEC oil price is $14.54 a barrel, but all OPEC countries except Saudi Arabia charge a

the Soviet Union that if it vetoes the renewal of the mandate of the UN Emergency Force (UNEF) in Sinai, it will ask it to withdraw its observers from the peninsula, the

MONTREAL (Reuter). — Narcotics agents in Canada, Britain, and West Germany, working together to out-wit an international drug smuggling ring, have seized three-quarters of a ton of hashish worth $10m. and arrested 11 people, Canadian police Inspector Gilles Favreau said customs officials in Frankfurt, alerted by Canadian and British police, had quietly seized most of the hashish in a 700-kg shipment and replaced it with cement blocks and sand before sending it on to Canada.

MADRID (Reuter). - Spain may in-

A sharp increase in petrol prices is planned for next month and some service stations will be closed from next September, the newspaper said.

DACCA (Reuter). - The 24,000 Burmese refugees still in Bangladesh will be repairlated by July 31, marking the end of a problem which the country has faced since early last year, a Red Cross source said yesterday. The chairman of the Bangladesh

Red Cross, Justice Shahabuddin Ahmed, who visited the refugee camps recently, said in Dacca that two of the four camps still operating would be closed this mouth, and the rest by July 31.

from Savak executed in Iran nounced the execution yesterday of a lieutenant general, Morteza Shirani, in the central Iranian city of Isfahan

TEHERAN. - Two accused master torturers, whose highly publicised murder and torture trial drew mass audiences on Iranian television, were executed yesterday by a firing

Washington Post News Service

WASHINGTON, - Ronald Reagan

appears to be the frontrunner by far in the race for the 1980 Republican nomination, according to a

Not yet an announced candidate,

Reagan has kept his popularity high in the conservative wing of the party and is substantially in front of his likely opponents among the Republican rank and file as well. .

But the sharp and hitter divisions of the 1976 campaign, when Reagan nearly took the nomination from incumbent Gerald Ford, remain. Reagan has not picked up substantial support from party activists among either strong moderate or small liberal elements of the party,

the poll indicates. Many appear concerned about some of Reagan's followers - "arch-conservative kooks," one poll respondent called

Nevertheless, Resgan's opponents are fragmented and do not appear to be lining up behind one or even two other candidates. Furthermore, conflicting signals are being emitted by party activists on one hand and rank-

Two 'disgusting' torturers

'Washington Post" poll.

Bahman Naderipour, 35, was charged with 13 counts of murder. Fereidoun Travangar, 25, was charged with carrying out "the most disgusting torture" with electric shocks, broken bottles and the beating of prisoners with whips and cables. Both were officers of the deposed shah's feared secret police,

The executions took place early yesterday. Photographs of the bloodied bodies of the convicted torturers, lying on slabs in the city morgue, were splashed in the afternoon newspapers. Tavangar was reputed to be the most feared man in Savak, a specialist in torturing women and kicking victims with his sharp-pointed shoes.

"I was always in dread of the worst when I was called for in-terrogation by him," testified a 54-year-old woman who had been imprisoned by the former government. The torture room was upstairs and the whole way was splattered with blood. People would be bloody masses, crawling down because they couldn't walk."

Both defendants had admitted to torture, but said they sincerely believed at the time they were fighting enemies of a legitimate government. Both men claimed they had been fighting against leftists, whom the new regime has also criticized strongly.

Meanwhile, Iran state radio anon charges of involvement in the killing and wounding of anti-shah demonstrators last winter. The three executions brought to 287 the number of people put to death by revolutionary courts since February. A provincial official in Khuzestan claimed that six suspected Iraqi spies were arrested yesterday on a mission that included trying to destroy the Iranian oil refinery at Abadan. Iranian officials have accused Iraq of providing weapons to dissident Îranian Arabs.

In Teheran, a police statement said officers had foiled an apparent assassination plot last Wednesday againat Ayatollah Sahabi, Iran's minister for revolutionary affairs and an author of the country's new draft constitution.

They said officers discovered Sahabi's tiny granddaughter carrying a hand grenade, concealed in a toy ball, into the minister's house. The ball was apparently planted near the house in hopes she might find it, police said. Meanwhile, the Teheran paper

"Kayan" reported that Islamic revolutionary guards destroyed almost $10m. worth of Israeli beer belonging to the brother of an executed Jewish businessman. The consumption of alcohol is banned under Iran's new Islamic regime.

The beer belonged to the businessman brother of Habib Elghanian, a Jewish millionaire executed last month on charges of aiding Israel, the paper said. (Reuter, AP)

Moro murder gun linked to police deaths

same weapon used to shoot down two policemen in a recent Red Brigades attack, police ballistics experts said yesterday.

The experts said the jet-black Skorplon found in the apartment of arrested Red Brigades terrorist suspects Valerio Morucci and Adriana Faranda was used in the May 3 assault on a Rome Christian Democratic Party headquarters where two officers died. A search of the apartment hideout near Vatican

ROME (UPI). — The Czech-made Skorpion sub-machinegun that killed former premier Aldo Moro was the City also turned up detailed maps of the headquarters, police said.
At least 15 Red Brigades terrorists assaulted the downtown party building on May 9, setting off bombs and shooting three officers who raced to the scene in an unmarked car. One officer was killed instantly, a second died of his wounds within a week, and a third was treated for wounds and shock.

Anti-terrorist police speculated Morucci was one of the gang's leading gunslingers and linked him with at least four hit-and-run attacks, including three killings.

Rugby team fights off SWAPO attack

WINDHOEK, South West Africa (UPI). - A busicad of rugby football players in remote northern South West Africa (Namibia) Saturday fought off an attack by guarrillas whose gunfire had wounded nine of them, a senior army spokesman said yesterday.

Maj. Gen. Jannie Geldenhuys, commander of South African forces in Namibia, said the rugby players were on their way home to the Giant, cuddly pandas saved from extinction PEKING (UPI). — The giant pan-das, which almost died out in the disastrously cold winter of 1976-77, are again thriving in their remote mountain habitat of western China, the New China News Agency reported yesterday.

The pandas' problems during the cold winter were made worse by a shortage of their natural food, arrow bamboo, which dies out naturally once every 60 years, the agency said. The cycle occurred during 1976 and 1976 and many of the pandas died of starvation as well as the cold. The news agency said that the rare pandas were saved from extinction by rescue teams which rounded up the cuddly creatures, housing and feeding them until the danger was copper mining town of Tsumeb from Oshakati when the guerrillas opened fire about 50 kilometres south of the Namibian frontier with Angola.

Geldenhuys said the rugby players returned the gunfire and the at-tackers fled. He said the guerrillas were members of the South West African Peoples Organization (SWAPO). Nine of the passengers in the bus were admitted to hospital. The other eight were lightly wound-

Chinese children try hand at hairdressing PEKING (Reuter). — Thousands of unemployed youngsters in the eastern Chinese city of Nanjing (Nanking) have applied to become hairdressers, cleaners and bathhouse attendants, the "Peking Daily" reported yesterday. It said more than 2,500 young people replied to an advertisement placed in the Nanjing daily by a city business bureau calling for applications from people wanting to become hairdressers. "The heads of many families personally took their children round to register," the paper said, adding that 578 applications were accepted.

Summer Camp at Aloney Yitzhak (near Caesarea)

and Kibbutz Glikson Barkai, 31 Rehov Brandeis, Tel Aviv, Tel. 03-441962, 03-291293

Republican candidates, put it. 'The non-Reagan wing of the party, to be successful, he must strive for more support than he has among those who consider themselves something else, will probably have liberal or moderate Republicans. Afghan gov't, ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (UPI). -Tanks held strategic points in the Afghan capital of Kabul yesterday after fighting errupted between government soldiers and Moslem rebels.

Moslems clash

Shooting broke out in the streets of Kabul on Saturday between troops of the government of Soviet-backed President Nur Mohammad Taraki and auti-communist Moslem rebels who oppose Taraki's rule.

Radio Kabul, monitored in Islamabad, said the fighting was triggered by "mercenaries of the Iranian fanatics," a reference to the Moslem guerrillas who have sparked uprisings in half of Afghanistan's 28 provinces.

The English-language daily, "The Muslim," said in its editions published here yesterday that government troops and security forces opened fire on the rebels on Saturday and killed several. No casualty figures were reported.

Rebel sources said 76 Afghan troops and 15 guerrillas were killed in clashes in the mountainous province south of Kabul. They gave no indication when the fighting took The rebels also claim they had forced Taraki and many of his senior government officials to flee their homes in the capital and take refuge in military encampments outside the

The Moslem rebeis have been conducting a relentless struggle against the Taraki regime since it came to power following a bloody coup last

Ambassador's 88 past ires N. Zealand unions

WELLINGTON, (Reuter). - Trade unions have threatened to ban services to the West German embassy in Wellington if Ambassador Karl Doering, a former captain in the Waffen SS, returns to New Zealand from sick leave.

Union leader Pat Kelly said the Wellington Trades Council would this week discuss suspending rubbish collection, and banning tradesmen and union members from working at embassy social functions if Doering returns.

Earlier this month the West German foreign office confirmed a British newspaper report that Doering (62) was a member of the SS during World War II, A spokesman said the ambassador had been exonerated in 1948 by a denazification tribunal which decided there were no grounds for further investigation.

CINEMAS. - China's ministry of culture has asked cities throughout the country to re-open children's cinemas closed during the cultural revolution, the Peking daily said yesterday.

IMPORT« AND SAVE UP TO

Details from better dealers Sole Agent: KINORI Itd. 4, Peretz st. Tel-Aviv Tel. 624193, 621984

BAR-BE-QUE AT THE COUNTRY CLUB HOTEL

Eat as much As you can....

Salads, steaks, meat-on-the-spit, desserts Every evening (except Fridays) from 7-10 p.m.

Background music . Congenial atmosphere Country Club Hotel, Tel Aviv, Tel. 418181

THE ISRAEL PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA

LUCIANO PAVAROTTI tenor

ZUBIN MEHTA conductor ONLY 2 CONCERTS

(as part of the Israel Festival) TEL AVIV, Mann Auditorium, Saturday, 7 July, 1979, 8.30 p.m.

SOLD OUT JERUSALEM, Binyenei Ha'ooma, Tuesday, 3 July, 1979,

(Tickets for Jerusalem available in Tel Aviv at the IPO box office. Transportation assured.) TICKETS in JERUSALEM at Kla'im Agency, 8 Shamai Street, daily 10-1,

4-6; Fridays 10-1 only. In TEL AVIV at the Mann Auditorium box office, (Huberman Street), daily 18-1, 4-8; Fridays 18-1 only, and at the Union agency, 118 Dizengoff

American Mizrachi Women Network of Educational Projects in Israel

The National Convention of American Mizrachi Women's Employees in Israel in the presence of the National President

Mrs. Sarah Shane will be held on Tuesday, June 26, 1979 at 5:30 p.m. in Kfar Batya, Rasnana. Our congratulations are extended to those who will be presented with the prize for the

OUTSTANDING WORKER

to Mrs. Shulamit Shitrit of the Motza Children's Home — Jerusalem Mrs. Sultana Ben Eli of the Tel Raanan Children's Home -- Jerusalem Mrs. Rivka Ashkenazi of the Baka Youth Centre —

Jerusalem Mrs. Rivka Ben Zion of the Hermon Community Mrs. Zohara Haddad and the team of teachers which which will be awarded by the Executive of the Network prepared the fashion show of Beit Zeirot Misrachi — Beeraheba Mrs. Shoshana Ziv and Mrs. Esther Patya of Beit Zeirot Mizrachi — Tel Aviv Mr. Meir Winstadt of the Technological Religious

High School in Gush Dan, Ramat Gan. Mr. Shmuel Sheller and Mrs. Sarah Avraham of Mosad Aliya — Petah Tikva Mrs. Lea Berkowitz and Mr. Binyamin Sharabi of Kfar Batya — Rasnana

THE END of June is the beginning of the really hot period during the Israeli summer, a time with temperatures well over 30° C, dry hamsin winds and no rain. This is when damaging insects play havoc with crops if not controlled. Flowers in bloom, especially roses, need watering more now than at any other time. You must do guard duty in your garden for about half an hour daily. Your weapons are a pair of garden sheers and a bucket or rubber basket.

Flowers. Remove weeds, trim hedges and shrubs to desired size and shape. Cut back all hollyhocks that have finished blooming and cut faded flowers on biennials and perennials. Remove all ugly-looking annuals such as calendulas, larkspurs, godetias and others, even though some unopened flower buds may still be growing on them.

Add 2-3 teaspoons of general fer-tilizer to perennials, especially roses. Trim chrysanthemums if you haven't done so already; cut above the third pair of leaves. Continue disbudding dahlias, leaving the central bud and removing both smaller ones from each dahlia stem. Tie up any loose dahlia stems. For dry indoor decorations cut (only when com-pletely dry!) stems with seed pods of naria, poppy and montbretia. You can still plant summer flowers at the end of June (zinnia, agetes, gomphrens, aster, celosis. ageratum, petunia, salvia, efc.), but only plants offered in tins, yoghurt cups or black nylon bags so they can be transplanted with the whole root ball. Nursery frame plants are difficult to transplant during the hot summer. When transplanting from the season in th

Ture flatting the haven a Alghain

dilliona pak

Salurda Sulurda

48 BER

ones They ones

in a library

1: See 1

. Eleg

7.3 co

1 t 100

Lik it

SS pas

ed as base

THE PROPERTY.

spendig t

- 1 tuzz

: castent

Test

തിട

r: Diff

2:1:

190E

3.35

. Fre ce

9 23

BEST

TERED

gs(N

SĮ.

9

NOR IF

. : 22

12.12.1

GUARD DUTY IN THE GARDEN

GARDENER'S CORNER/Walter Frankl

then turn them upside down, holding. plant and soll with four fingers. Knock the tin or oup lightly on a solid object, and the whole plant will slip Sow kohirabi and beetroot in a out smoothly, ready for planting. To nursery frame to get them ready to remove nursery plants from nylon move to the vegetable spot in your garden in early August. Both these bags, just cut the bag and free the vegetables take a long time to mature, about 24-30 weeks. If you plant with its surrounding soil. Vegetables There is still time to sow now and transplant in August, sow cucumbers, marrows and they will benefit from the cooler melons, but do so now only in trenches, and not in hills. The latter weather in autumn and early winter. refers to the old-time farming prac-You may also plant more peppers tice of piling up the soil before planand eggplant now for autumn ting so the seed won't become harvest. Sow New Zealand spinach waterlogged and rot. Sowing and directly where it will stay to maturiwatering in trenches is especially ty. Add some general fertilizer to beneficial for summer crops. All tomato plants as long as they are in watering from above (sprinkling) bloom and don't forget to remove all encourages mildew, a fatal disease to the gourd(cucurbitaceae) family. side or sucker shoots, leaving a single strong stem, which will bear To avoid this, sow and water in clusters of fruit all the way up. shallow trenches, 2-3 cm. deep and Water potato plants as long as recommended for the later summer sowing. Sweet melons also like hot

70-80 cm. apart. parts of the stems and foliage are Before sowing, let the seeds ait overnight in lukewarm water. Thin still green. When all of the plants have dried, stop watering and wait 2-3 days before harvesting your crop with a spading fork. Throw away all seedlings after germination as follows; cucumbers 30-40 cm. hetween plants; marrows 50-60 cm.; green or partly green potatoes too close to the surface, because they and melons, 70-80 cm. Cucumbers love heat, not only warm air, but also warm soil. They do best in light (sancontain solanin, a strong alkaloid dy) soil. If your soil is beavy, add Lettuce generally is a cold some sand and ample organic matter. The bush marrow, in conweather crop and does not like the heat of our summer. It reacts to high trast to the vining kind, is temperature by producing a flower dopt the following growing method: fill a medium-size container with aleved rich garden soil and sow lettuce seeds in it by scattering them. Water daily. Put the container in a partly shaded place. After 4-5 weeks, you will be able to cut vitamin-rich fresh lettuce leaves. This system is very popular in Europe, and the nurseries there sell special kinds of quick-growing "pluck salad."

THE PLEASANT prospect of vacation days ahead for many will mean trips away from home. Who then will take care of the garden and the house plants? The best solution to this problem is a helpful friend or neighbour who will volunteer to take over maintenance, or at least regular watering. Often this is done reciprocally.

If for some reason, you have no one to rely on just when you want to go away, you can try to save your perennials and trees by building deep and wide trenches around each plant and watering these trenches to capacity before you leave. Most of the plants and all trees will overcome several waterless weeks.

Most annuals, of course, will perish. It will be better for you and for the garden to remove them before your departure. Use the flowers for decorations or presents. All succulents and cacti can withstand a lengthy dry spell. Even deep-rooted — not newly planted — lawns will recover slowly when watered again after a period of drought. For house plants there are several solutions to their caretaker's

plants just as they are in their pots inside a large tub or other large container fixed the following way. Cover the bottom of the bigger container with a 10-cm. deep layer of ordinary gravel. Put your flower pots on the gravel and entirely fill the space between them and the big tub with moss (karool in Hebrew) and water the small pots and the peat moss to capacity. If the big tub is in a cool place with a minimum of light, the house plants will resist drought for several weeks. A one-time additional watering will, of course, prolong the time they can be left.

"Wick" method. Place the end of a cotton wick in a bucket filled with water. Insert the other end of the wick into the drainage hole of the pot screwdriver to lift the flat stone or potsherd serving as the drainage cover of the pot so as to fix the wick end in the pot soil.

The plant's roots will absorb the moisture coming through the wick. The bucket must always be higher than the pots it is being used to water table or a chair and put the pots on the floor. It is important that the wick should fall straight from the bucket to the pot and not be bent at any point, or that point will act as a collection point of the moisture. To conserve water provide each pot with a saucer under it.

Lu-wa-sa (from Luft, Wasser, Sand, or air, water, sand in German) is a Swiss invention. These containers, available locally in many shapes and sizes, are based on hydroponic feeding by a nutrient solution. The upper part of the double container is failed with toof hagolan pebbles and holds the plants; the lower waterproof part feeds the roots, which grow downwards through holes in the upper part of the container.

"Jardy" containers are another way of keeping house plants alive without human care. This is a French invention, now also produced here. A medium-size plant container holds, in its lower part, a certain amount of water, reached by the roots of the plant. These containers come in several colours and can be linked together to form a chain or other indoor decoration.

ONCE I HEARD a story about a young man who was called out of town for military reserve duty in the middle of the summer just when his garden was in full bloom. There was no one in his neighbourhood he could ask to care for his plants. He thought of leaving them at a nursery centre but he didn't want to shock them with the move, especially since he would be gone for less than a month.

"No." said his mother. "No stranger is going to take care of my grandplants." So twice a week she drove a considerable distance to see that her son's plants were cared for by someone they knew. It was said that each time she left her son's flat the plants were heard to murmur, "We love grandma...."

The Israel Ballet.

Captivating spirit

DANCE/Dora Sowden

WITH "Graduation Bail" (music: Johann Strauss) the Israel Ballet has a winner. In the Habima Theatre (June 21), the charm began to work from the moment the curtain opened. Though the choreography was more "after Lichine" than by Lichine, as I remember it, the performance had enough of the captivating spirit to make memory bloom. Ballet mistress Rosaline Subel, who told me she had set it. from an old film, deserves congratulation. Occasionally, the fizzy comic antics of the boys and girls — the cadets visiting the girls. "finishing" school -- came dangerously near becoming fuzzy farce, but the clear lines of the dancers' classical technique corrected this, and all danced as if they believed in the par-

Jean-Michel Lazarell's 'Drommer Boy," Marcia Sussman's "Pigtail Girl" were highlights. The duet from "La Sylphide" (Iris Birnbaum and Pierre-André Morard) sufficiently suggested the Bournonville grace, and this was a remarkable achievement, seeing that experts in that style had so recently been here from the Royal Danish Ballet. A lively

Polka by Erez Dror and Deena Laska also added to the merriment. Pamela Osserman's Headmistress needed broader lines of characterisation and the General (Anthony McDonnel) could have atreased his weakness for younger game a little more, but they danced well. An asset to the performance was Lydia Pincus-Gany's decor. ANOTHER premiere was Naomi Aleskovsky's "Contrasts" - an admirable creation that didn't quite get to what it set out to do according to the programme. As a contrast between decent, romantic youth and sensual, self-centred authority, it made its point. As the Jezebel story, it didn't. The interest came mos from the abstract designs. The choreography sometimes looked old-fashioned rather than ancient. The Prophet (Yves Decourt), stalking through, added nothing to the story

. In Berta Yampolsky's "Shades," the solo by Erez Dror (with Na'ama Yadiin as the unattainable ideal) in "Nocturne" was finely conceived and done. "Electro-Bach" had a nice crisp look with Brigitte Roman as the new soloist.

THE JEWISH AGENCY FOR ISRAEL JUBILEE ASSEMBLY

Binyenei Ha'ooma

- Monday, June 25, 1979 8.45 a.m. 12.30 p.m. THREE YEAR BUDGET PLENARY. Opening Remarks — Chairperson: Mr. Melvin Dubinsky Israel's Needs in the Next Three Years Minister of Finance: Mr. Simha Ehrlich Jewish Agency's Three Year Budget

Treasurer of the Jewish Agency: Mr. Akiva Lewinsky Discussant: Mr. Morton Mandel Open Discussion

1.30 p.m.-2.30 p.m. PLENARY - Rural Settlement Chairperson: Mr. Paul Zuckerman Projection and Needs Head of the Rural Settlement Department: Prof.-Raenan Weitz YOUTH ALIYA Chairperson: Mr. Raymond Epstein Projection and Needs

Head of the Youth Aliya Department: Mr. Yosef Shapira 2.30 p.m.-6.00 p.m. WORKSHOPS

"I WOULD FEEL that the Tora and the Exodus are more important to Jewish history and theology than the Holocaust," says David Demson, Professor of Systematic Theology at the University of Toronto. "But who am I to tell you?" added the tall, shortbearded and striking looking Presbyterian during an interview with The Jerusalem Post, after speaking on the subject in Haifa at the Technion's Department of General Studies.

stalk instead of a head. But you can enjoy fresh, crisp lettuce leaves during our hot summer months if you

Demson feels that so great a catastrophe as the Holocaust must raise questions for every believer in God. "How can so deep an evil have had its place in the world? Surely hope must be taken away when such an enormous evil flourishes for so Both believers and theologists must apply themselves to the ques-tion of continued belief in spite of such evil, Demson contends. "It is a question that plagues us, and only God has the answer.

He sees the State of Israel as a sign of the redemption of the Jews who, in snite of the Holocaust, were determined to endure as a nation and achieve a Jewish State. "Israel is an act of defiance against hopelessness. Instead of giving up, the Jews showed their resolution."

But Demson does not accept the theory that the State of Israel was the result of the Holocaust. Noting that the return to Zion started late in the 19th century, he feels that "the Jews developed their resoluteness to endure because of the Holocaust. and that event added a qualitative dimension" to the groundwork for the Jewish State which earlier about 80 in the past few years, with

JERUSALEM SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA. Avi Ostrovsky conducting; with James Starker, cello (Jerusalem Theatre, June 20). Schubert: Symphony No.3 in C Major; opus 33; Tchaikevsky: Variations on a Roceco Theme for Cello and Orchestra. opus 33: Prokofiev: excerpts from

DESPITE this being the fifth concert of the Jerusalem Proms on the fifth consecutive night there was a large crowd. Their applause was enthusiastic for the soloist and, at the end of the concert, for the orchestra for its spirited performance of the ever-so-exciting 'Romeo and Juliet' music.

Conductor Avi Ostrovsky was in firm command all evening, collaborating solicitously with the soloist and leading the orchestral contributions with clear conceptions of their musical content. The final work was a really impressive

Janos Starker retained the composed coolness and objective interpretative attitude that we had seen in the two preceeding evenings of sonatas. This may have robbed discriminating listeners of stimulating personal statements but, apparent-

'An act of defiance against hopelessness'

By YA'ACOV FRIEDLER/Jerusalem Post Reporter

pioneers had already laid. Demson explains that systematic theology is the attempt to unify the different theologies in the Bible and their interpretations, so that Christians and other people of faith can clarify and deepen their teaching and faith.

HE FIRMLY believes that Christians, perhaps even more than Jews, must study the Holocaust, and that they must study the Germany and Europe of the early "thirties, when anti-Semitism was adopted as the official policy of the rising Nazi party, "not merely to face our guilt. but to learn the dynamics by which Christian anti-Semitism prepared the ground for the Nazis' anti-Jewishness. Only thus, Demson feels, will Christians discover whether they still have something in them that reinforces anti-Jewish attitudes, and thus be able to change.

Speaking of his own department in Toronto, Demson says that student enrolment in theology has doubled to teaching and the church as the students' goals. This revival of student interest is the backlash of the hippy movements of the 'sixties when God was declared "dead," he

But he has mixed feelings about this "revival," and fears that his students want to be "conservative and safe" and are looking for a similarly conservative God. "It's not because of the Bible that they feel this way, but rather that they look to the Bible to underpin their conservatism," he says. The students seek a Biblical fundamentalism, but, unlike the fundamentalists, they have no prior knowledge of the Bible, he fears. He also regrets that they show so little concern about the Holocaust. the establishment of the Jewish State, or general social problems. They approach the Bible as a source of personal faith, but put off consideration of bigger, more agonizing Demson is spending a year in Jerusalem with his family, doing adHebrew University and at the Ecumenical Institute for Advanced Theological Study, at Tantour.

WHAT HAS Israel given him? "A deeper understanding of all things Jewish, and of Jewish religious thought. I felt close to the Toronto Jewish community, now I have an emotional tie," he notes. He has also had the opportunity of talking to Palestinians, and now feels that "the Palestinian question, is only one aspect of the deeper question of the Jewish State, which is of great importance to all Jews and to the entire Does he consider the State of Israel a religious phenomenon?

"I suspect it is," he replies, but also asks, "If the Jewish people are the people of God, how do you account for their having to wait 2,000 years to

RETURNING TO the problem of the Holocaust, Demson agrees with the discussion that neither God nor Jewry's sinning against His Law can be held to account here, the explanation must be sought in the forces of evil in the world.

This is why he thinks it vital that there should be no time limitations on the prosecution of Nazi war criminals. No anti-Semitie anywhere should be allowed to feel that he can get away with anti-Semitism, wven after a lapse of time, he feels. Anti-Semities must always fear discovery and the hand of justice, not as a matter of vengeance but as a deterrent, and a safeguard for the "History does not repeat itself, but processes have their own dynamics and if the Statute of Limitations is applied, there is surely the danger of a new anti-Jewish movement." The emergence of neo-Nazism in Germany was a clear indication of such a danger. The neo-Nazi phenomenon must also, in his opinion, stimulate study of the Holocaust so that it does not become merely a vague memory, for if it does, the neo-Nazis will be able to deny it ever happened.

'Anti-Semites make outrageous statements, such as denying that Auschwitz was an extermination camp, to stir up emotions. There seems to be something in their paychological make-up that gives them an almost sexual craving to arouse emotions and heated controversy. It also slowly implants their claims in the public consciousness. Demson adds. In his view, constant study of the Holocaust that keeps its evil memory before the world's conscience may well be the surest way to counter this insidious anti-Semitic

IN FIRM COMMAND

MUSIC REVIEWS

it impressed the audience at large. The cellist's sovereign handling of technical demands is surely impressive. In the Saint-Saens Concerto, the soloist's not too expansive tone volume was quite often drowned out by the orchestra; this was more the scoring's fault than the conductor's or the orchestra's. Tchaikovsky was much more considerate, and the "Rococo" Variations give the celle sound space uncovered by orchestral accompaniment. Here, Mr. Starker came through with beautifully shaped phrases and singing lines, which revealed his artistic stature at its YOHANAN BOEHM.

JERUSALEM PROMS. Jerusalem Symphony Orchestra, George Singer conducting: with Budolf Buchbinder, plane; Janes Starker, celle; Robin Weisel-

Capsouto, soprane. Prelude: The Unknown Country Band. (Jerusalem Theatre, June 23.) Mexart: Eine Kleine Nachimusik, K. 525; Aria Deh Vieni non Tardar from Le Nozze di Figaro; Piano Concerto No. 21 in C (K. 467). Haydn: Cello

Concerto in D, Op. 101. Johann Stranss: Die Fledermaus Overture and Czardas. IN TRUE "Prom" spirit, the final concert had a special air - informal on stage, enthusiastic in auditorium with encores galore and entertainment beginning on the plazza with what we used to call "hill-billy" music (now 'folksong') and a Strauss film in the hall and waitzing in the foyer at the end. In between there was "serious" music that will remain long in the mind.

Rudolf Buchbinder, who had proved himself a spellbinder in previous performances, was never more so. Even his encore (a Schubert impromptu) had more of his magic marvellous touch, perfect control, brilliant attack. In the Mozart, he expressed the momentary darker inwas marked 'adagio' in the programme. The planist indeed played it so, quite exquisitely, but I have always seen it marked "ardante," and heard : Janos Starker gave a virtuoso performance of the Haydn aristocratic even in the fastest sections, elegant in the arioso quality of the adagio, dazzling in the 6-8 rhythms of the final allegro.

Robin Weisel-Capsouto brought the house down with the Strauss Czardas. Strangely, her tessitura in this Fledermaus excerpt met the spectacular needs of high and low register in a way she didn't achieve earlier in the more moderate range of Suzanna's sensuous aria.

Conducting through all this and also in the works without soloists. George Singer did yeoman service, seeing that he was called in at comparatively short notice. Though somewhat heavy-handed in the Nachtmusik, he was in his element in the Fledermaus. In both concertos, his best direction was in the tutti passages, for he inclined to drop pace when accompanying the soloists. The orchestra was in ex-DORA SOWDEN

Advertise by Mail! No waiting in line! No travelling!

Just fill in the coupon below. Give your full home address: a P.O.B. address is not sufficient. Post this form, accompanied by a cheque, at least' seven days prior to the requested date of publication,. That's all there is

Rates: Minimum weekday rate is IL125.60 for eight words: IL15.70 for each additional word. Minimum rate for Friday and holidays is IL170.40 for eight words; !L21.30 for each additional word. All rates include VAT. CUT ALONG DOTTED LINE

Classified Ads Dept., P.O.B. 81 Jerusalen

if space above is insufficient, print text on separate sheet of paper THE TEXT BELOW IS NOT INCLUDED IN THE AD

(date) (day) (day) (day) 11.15.70 per word (including (including VAT) — 8 words-IL125.60 weekdays. IL170.40 Fridays

ALL ADVERTISEMENTS SHOULD BE POSTED AT LEAST SEVEN DAYS PRIOR TO THE DATE OF PUBLICATION The Jerusalem Post reserves the right to refuse or postpone publication or revise the ent and to make necessary changes without prior notification

TWO-IN-ONE CROSSWORD

quence as the robust passages and

CRYPTIC PUZZLE EASY PUZZLE ACROSS
I Who? (6)
7 Misdeeds of receivers (8) ACROSS 8 Avid singer? (4)
10 Jumped up when an animal was led out (6) 11 Consolation from a close 1 Pursued (6) 7 Pathfinder (8) 8 Laggage item (4)

source? (6)

14 There's sadness when we get out for a duck (3)

16 They grow in six directions (5)
17 Darn for money (4)
19 Food by the bowl (5)
21 A gerfect sitter? (5)
22 Tightly encicse one letter in two others (5)
23 Go a rotten colour! (4)
25 Duck into bars with beasts 28 No right, neither! (3)
29 When the final is played, after all (2, 4)
36 Metal mount for an officer (5)
31 Able to change name (4)
32 Did he south across the ocean in search of booty?
(3, 5)
33 Keep in date, possibly? (6)

DOWN

1 Do everything up right for nonev (6)
2 Stand for an excursion to some woods (6)
2 The say to ruin for Dora?
3 The say to ruin for Dora?
4 It means more disturbance for Val (7)
5 Indian cance, possibly? (5)
6 Arthur's trophy? (5)
8 Early bird (4)
9 One letter or five (3)
12 Salid in a very good place of part or units (5)
13 Battery units (5)
15 Pay out for a portion of padding (i.e. rice) (5)
16 Give everything up right for properly (6)
17 Table in a very good place (3)
18 Give everything a share of the loot (5)

19 Lad out of prison? (3)
20 He goes half a mile south (3)
21 Batleding on which bombs have been dropped (7)
22 A couple of cups of brandy?
(3)
23 Small (6)

Yesterday's Cryptic Solution ACROSS.—I, S-toop, 6, Joyre.
ACROSS.—I, S-toop, 6, Joyre. DOWN

14 Wager (3) 17 Watched (4) 19 Provide food (5) 21 Fact (5) 22 Unrelaxed (5) 22 Harbour (4) 26 Thong (5) 29 Household tasks 22 Sailor (3) (6) Mother or father 30 Carrier (6) 31 Sheep (4) 25 Reptile (6) 25 Lengthy per lod (4. 4) 27 Circular (5) (4. 4) 28 Farm animal (3) 33 Small (6) 36 Rind (4) 33 Small (6)

1 Dog (6) 2 Out of the sun 3 Animal (4) 4 Inclined (7) 5 M (Se act 6 \ Ties 12 Rocky beight (3) 13 Not once (5) 15 Become void (5) 18 Young adult (5) 19 Tin (3) 20 Clothing it em 21 Is sorry (7) 24 Chooses (4)

DOWN

SOLUTIONS TO TODAY'S PUZZLE TOMORROW

Mu

Air controllers repeat threat of summer delays

By JACK MAURICE
rusalem Post Correspondent

PARIS. - Hundreds of thousands of holidaymakers are threatened again this summer with being stranded at European airports by slowdowns of air traffic, similar to those which made last year's vacations a miserable memory, and Israelis will not be spared.

Air traffic controllers in Britain, France, Spain, Italy, Portugal, Germany and Morocco have already given warning that they could soon "work to rule" — thus handling a set number of flights an hour - in order to obtain better wages and working conditions.

The controllers in these countries are responsible for routing over 90 cent of airborne holiday travel to destinations in Europe's Mediterraneam sunshine belt and North Africa. So their threat could bring gloom for the tourists.

Since the bulk of this traffic crosses French and Spanish air space, the situation in these two countries holds the key to the crisis. France particularly is a major crossroads for traffic between Europe and the U.S. and from Engiand and Scandinavia to Spain. Overflights account for 40 per cent of all movements in French air space.

The problem is of special concern at Bordeaux, one of four centres handling air traffic over France and which interfaces with the Spanish control system. The Spaniards allowed between six and seven flights an hour into their air space from France in 1977. Last year they lowered this figure to four. This summer it is likely to drop

Spanish air controllers say their long-standing grievances about low pay and poor equipment remain un-resolved. New radar in Barcelona, one of three Spanish centres which handle flights between Britain and the Balearic Island resorts, has improved its ability to handle more movements at a time. But the Madrid and Seville centres are still below international standards.

French controllers say their demands are being stonewalled by an adamant government. But the French Civil Aviation Authority (DGAC) replies that it is the controllers who are being unreasonable.

France has 2,500 controllers of whom 1,500 work in airport control towers. The most important aerial navigation centre is Paris with 520 controllers, followed by Aix-en-Provence near Marseilles with 257 for the southeastern quadrant.

Then comes Bordeaux for the south-west with 170 and Brest's 140 controllers for the north-west. Last year the government hired 48 controllers and is planning to take on 108 more this year and 111 in 1980.

But the controllers complain that the north-eastern quadrant is overloaded. They say it, will remain so until the Paris centre is relieved in 1982 by a new traffic centre, scheduled to open in Reims.

Their unions also blame the French government for trying to introduce military controllers into civilian control towers. This was the weapon with which the authorities tried to smash a prolonged go-slow by controllers six years ago. The move was discredited when two Spanish airliners collided over Nantes, eastern France, with the loss of 69 lives. An official French report found a military controller was to blame.

There have been rumblings at

Swissair flies without DC 10s

By BARUCH SAVILLE Post Aviation Reporter

SWISSAIR, whose flights to and from Israel ceased for two days as the result of the Transport Ministry ban on all DC10 flights, has decided to use a DC8.

With its passengers stranded and El Al flights cancelled over the weekend due to strike action of its ground staff, the Swissair head office decided that as a service it would use the DC8.

The DC8 arrived late Saturday night and left yesterday morning with a full load of passengers; others were transferred to El Al. Bruno Greif, Swissair representative for Israel, said the DC8 flights would be continued, but he hoped the Transport Ministry would soon lift the ban on DC10 operations.

Israel Lands Administration

Northern District The Israel Lands Administration announces the Leasing of Plots for Self Construction within the framework of the Build Your House programme.

Details as follows:

Build Your House in Upper Nazareth
Block	Plot	Approx. area	Land price
		in sq.m.	in ĪL
17528	7	543	130,320
17528	44	550	132,000
17528	46	489 -	117,360
prices do not	include develo	pment costs to be	defrayed sepa

Registration is reserved for those residents of Upper Nazareth who have completed their army service.

	Build Your Ho	use in Carmiel
Block	Plot	Approx, area in sq.m.	Land price in IL
18983	10	708	210,000
18983	14	738	214.000

Land prices do not include development costs, to be defrayed separately to the Ministry of Housing, by those to whom plots have been allocated. Registration is reserved only for those residents of Carmiel who have completed their army service.

Registrants are required, at the time of registration, to deposit the sum of IL15,000, payable to the Israel Lands Administration.

3. Deadline for registration for this programme: Tuesday, July 17, 1979 at

4. Further particulars and registration at district headquarters, Upper Nazareth, Industrial Zone, during the regular working hours.

MINISTRY OF TRANSPORT Driving and Vehicle Services NOTICE

to Drivers and Vehicle Owners

Because of sanctions being imposed by staff in the Licensing Authority's data processing and registration department, driving and vehicle licences and notices are being sent out late.

To prevent a situation in which vehicles are being driven without licences, it has been decided to extend the validity of driving and vehi-cle licences, the validity of which expires on or after June 1, 1979, until

Holders of driving and vehicle licences must renew their licences, so that they remain valid after July 31, 1979.

A person whose driving or vehicle licence expired before June 1, 1979, and who has not received a renewal notice should apply to the Licensing Office in order to obtain a renewal form.

David Yachin Head, Licensing Branch

Notice to Pupils

1. 5739 Pupils' Certificates are valid until June 29, 1979. 2. 5739 Pupils' Certificates will be renewed, and will be valid for

EGGED

Association of Americans and Canadians in Israel Tel Aviv Region 6 Simtat Beit Hashoeva

SINGLES HAPPENING — HOT OFF THE PRESS Are you single?? Have you had a happening in your life? ISRAEL ALL STAR BASKETBALL TEAM (NIVHERET YISBAEL) will be our honoured guests

Art Expo - Music Sing-A-Long - Munching - Crunching - Guzzling Tuesday, June 26, 1979 — BEIT HAMLIN, 30 Weismann Street, Tel Aviv (near Kikar Hamedina) on the 3rd floor Time: From 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. Admission: IL20

These "passengers" are trying out the facilities that will be available in the 174 seats of the Boeing 757, due to be ready within a few years. Television cameras record the food service. Meanwhile, travellers in Europe this summer may find that their holidays are delayed, prolonged or interrupted by air controllers strikes.

Marseilles' Marignane Airport where the authorities say a military controller is needed to separate civilian traffic from military aircraft in a cluttered corridor close to an air force training school and a test flight centre. In April, controllers at Bale-Mulhouse Airport astride the border with Switzerland occupied the control tower for several days in protest against a reduction of staff on night shifts.

The French Ministry of Transport says its controllers; are trained to handle up to 20 movements simultaneously in any given sector. But the controllers set out to prove that 12 ought to be the maximum. This looks like being the tactic which they will adopt this summer.

Individual governments say their traffic control systems work well and their controllers are merely being awkward. But Knut Navmarskjold, director general of the International Air Transport Association (IATA) disagrees. Navmarskiold said recently: "The implementation of navigational aids, radar and other infrastructure equipment is effected on a national basis without sufficient inter-European coordination." He called for European countries to create a pan-European air traffic control authority with power to develop an "effective, integrated, overall air

Jean-Marie Giraud, deputy director of navigation at the French Civil Aviation Authority (DGAC) said: 'We are doing all we can to make the controller's job easier. We have recently introduced a safety net device which gives him proximity warning of impending collisions. This helps to reduce stress on the

"But we have to live with chronic dissatisfaction among the controllers. In France they are well paid — starting at 3,000 france a month and rising to 9,000 after 15 years service. But the nervous strain of the work is tremendous. An air controller is like a racing driver alone in his car. He must make split-second decisions and he cannot pass the buck to the next man."

French air controllers received a consolation recently. They were jointly awarded 20,000 francs after being chosen among 150 professions of a jury of 8,301 people for the 'punctuality grand prix.'' Holidaymakers hope their performance this summer will warrant the

Israel insurance men have 'nothing' to offer Egypt

By MACABEE DEAN Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. - Israel insurance companies have nothing to offer the Egyptians "except a highly unssional approach", according to A.H. Kadouri, head of the Atlas Insurance Company here.

The fact that his statements were-printed in a recent issue of the local journal devoted to the insurance industry indicates that many others in the same field agree with him. Kadouri told The Jerusalem Post that talk of "exporting Israeli in-Egypt, or setting up joint com-panies" shows how little those in the field here know about the situation in Egypt.

"The insurance industry in Egypt was nationalized years ago. If at one time at least 124 foreign insurance companies did business, in 1956 the number was reduced to 38. In 1961 not one foreign insurance company was left in Egypt."

But even if foreign insurance companies were let in again, he stressed, the Israelis would have nothing to offer of any benefit.

"We have no extensive knowledge of the insurance field itself, we have no rich experience, or a glorious

"All we can offer is cut-throat competition as it is practised here," he said, going on to describe prevalent Israeli practices "of stealing clients by unethical methods, such as offering lower rates, promising to pay claims not only faster but laiso to pay larger sums, and even selling the client a policy which does not meet his needs in order to get his

"Israeli insurance agents will do anything to steal a client from another company," he claimed. Kadouri charged that the "level of professionalism in Israel bordered on crass ignorance." He said that anyone in Israel could enter the field (In Egypt, a person had to prove his qualifications) without a thorough grasp of the subject, adding that knowledge despite long years of actual work.

Turning to the field of elementary insurance (fire, traffic accidents, burgiaries, etc.), he claimed that the industry lost several hundred million pounds in 1978 due mainly to the in-ability of its leaders to accurately predict events - one of the fundamentals of the industry - and to adjust rates in time.

"I'm not saying that the industry cannot have one bad year. One huge fire can rock the industry on its heels but this is only during one year. Over a long period, things even themselves out, or should.

He charged that the heads of the industry failed to change rates to take into account the soaring number of traffic accidents and burglaries, although they had plenty of statistical information on hand to show that the authorities (the police) were failing badly in keeping the situation under control.

FIXERUTTA PUMEMBRUR

* POMPADOUR * HERB TEA

Rich selection of types: rose tea fruit tea and others...

Tea for every season Wonderful — hot or cold Tea for every family

No tanin. Drink as much as you like. From supermarkets, health food shops, Shekem, and better shops

Leaders of East and West this week to hold summits over oil supplies

The energy crisis and what to do about it will dominate discussion at this week's Tokyo Economic Summit Conference of western states, as well as a meeting on Wednesday by Soviet bloc states.

The Tokyo meeting Thursday and Friday comes only 48 hours after members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) meet in Geneva to decide whether to boost oil prices again. An increase is expected. The question is how much.

The leaders gathering in Tokyo are grappling with a situation in which energy costs have climbed 35 per cent since the first of this year, bringing dire warnings of a world recession or chaos if the trend con-

Japanes Prime Minister Massyoshi Chira; the conference host, has conceded that participants have different approaches in dealing with oil producers, defined by their own resources and their access to other supplies. Japan, almost wholly dependent on imported oil, is expected to try for a conciliatory role in the summit talks.

'Japan would like to help form an agreement during the summit for cooperation instead of confrontation with oil producers," Ohira told reporters in a news conference.

Reports from Washington this week said President Jimmy Carter, heading the U.S. delegation, may propose the establishment of an international energy fund of as much as $10b. to develop synthetic fuel as an alternative to oil. The idea was said to be in line with getting a greater degree of government in-

In addition to Ohira and Carter, those meeting will be West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt, British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, French President Valery Giscard

Ghilio Andreotti, Canadian Prime Minister Joe Clark and European commission chairman Roy Jenkins

Meanwhile, Soviet bloc prime ministers will be holding their own economic summit in Moscow on Tuesday. The agenda, like the one for the west's seven-nation meeting, will make energy supplies for the 1980s a priority topic.

All the East European states in Comecon rely heavily on Moscow for fuel and raw materials. They are seeking firm commitments for Soviet oil, gas and other supplies into the next decade.

But so far the Soviet Union, which has yet to settle the broad outlines of its own 1981-85 economic plan, has not told East European governments how much they can expect. Last winter saw a serious energy shortage in parts of Eastern Europe, especially Poland. (UPL, Reuter)

protest Iraq's on petroleum

NICOSIA (UPI). - Crude oil

customers have been trying to talk

Iraq into changing or at least reinterpreting its decision to put a

"most favoured seller" clause into its contracts, the "Middle East Economic Survey" said this week. The clause, retroactive to June 1, would mean customers would make crude oil payments to Iraq on the basis of the "highest premium charged by any other oil producer,"

The authoritative oil publication said Iraqi oil marketing officials have made it clear that the "highest premium refers basically to Libya

but not to anomalous cases like ing customers to accept the new arrangement voluntarily. It added the new clause would involve an increase of about $2.77 per barrel, bringing the effective price of Basrah light up to $19.806 and that of

The customers, including major internationals, like British

Petroleum, Shell, Mobil, Gulf, Amoco and France's CFP, have been trying to persuade the Iraqis to at least reinterpret the decision.

They propose Iraq's gulf exports be subjected to the highest premium in the Gulf area — now Iran, which adds a $3.30 surcharge — and that Mediterranean exports from the Be-nian and Ceyhan oilfields be sub-jected to the highest African Mediterranean premium, now

Iraq's current surcharge level is

"MEES" said the customers w

also unhappy about reports that - apart from the understandable case of poorer developing countries— "certain deals with government companies in such countries as Italy,

Spain, Portugal, Brazil and Greece

may be exempt from the new

"The fact is that whereas U.S.,

British, French and Japanese companies have received verbal or formal notice of the new arrangement.

the groups concerned in the other homes opened in Carmiel recently and will provide accommodation for

"MEES" said the Iraqis are urg-

Equador '

Kirkuk to $20.058.

charged by Libva.

nul:

(1) (2)

35 457 *

` 31... 1

PERSON OF S

տերա, ։

27°J.

9 (4) 2

alm North

ada i .

C flassuff of 1

ψ spa#### '+

Et all times in the Para Carlo

med months

©±ne ::.-•

Cities 1. T.

267 (1.5)

12979 4.5

- ide ger

State that is de determine

it causes .

Tr leb-...

effecte i .

⇔ u ed ard

Lening

4 and lead,

f people

Legager

0L

BIRENRY

ded find pla

All that were patria:

77 m

📭 of and

Customers

surcharges

NEIGHBOURHOOD ACTIVISTS

(Continued from page 1)

them that we do have something worthwhile to say, and can say it. Ohel, a non-profit organization, consists of representatives from each of the neighbourhoods. Using Ohel Yosef as a model, they plan to develop in each of the slum pockets an entirely community-run centre. which ultimately will lead to community carpenters doing local work, community electricians doing local work, and community teachers in the schools," Ben- David said.

Sitting with Ben-David was Ephie Cohen, a 24-year-old musician, who lived in a mabara with 10 brothers and sisters, until one day his father won the Mifal Hapayis lottery.

It was Cohen who explained that Ohel, which means tent in Hebrew, refers to the original maharot transit camps for refugees arriving in Israel and placed by Jewish Agency and government officials in tent camps. "We were able to move out of the one-room shack," Cohen said. Showing a photograph of the day the famiy moved to Baka, an old neighbourhood just across the railroad tracks from the middle-class German Colony, Cohen points out the ubiquitous beret that in the 1950s was the sign of the Moroccan in Israel.

"It was too big on me, and it made me stick out whenever I left the neighbourhood, so I rarely did." Cohen said.

Cohen thinks of himself as lucky. He helps his father, an elderly whitehaired religious man who owns a newspaper kiosk on Rehov Emek Retaim, in the mornings. And in the afternoon he takes his guitar and like the Pied Piper of Rehov Ben-Yehuda plays protest songs and love songs for crowds of youngsters who sit at his feet on the bustling promenade. "When I got to eighth grade, the social worker said I should forget about music," Cohen said. "And my parents believed her. But since then I've decided to do what I can. And now, all my energies and my talent go to Ohel." Ben-David nods. "I wanted to study film. But when the time came to decide whether to go to high school, the social worker told my parents, 'Film?' It takes years of study.' And my parents listened to the social worker, and I ended up an electrician, like my father."

Since then. Ben-David has earned enough to buy his own movie-making equipment, and "crazy about movies" he is constantly filming his friends, his acquaintances and his neighbours, while reading about movies and going to them whenever he has the chance. "I'm too old now to go back to school, but in spite of everything, I'll make my movies."
In May, Ohel organized a week-long seminar in Tiberias for activists from each of the troublesome neighbourhoods in Jerusalem, as well as one neighbourhood in Beit

"We brought in a few experts even some Ashkenazim - to talk with us. The idea was to create a nucleus of people who could then work in each neighbourhood to raise the people's consciousness," David explained,

Although the Ohel activities are aimed primarily at youth, the programmes include children's summer camps, day care centres, evening sewing circles for elderly women, as well as oriental theatre, music, and crafts that Ben-David says has been so long neglected in the Oriental community.

The Likud, and especially Menahem Begin's populist oratory, was always popular with the Orientals, Ben-David says. "But now, more than ever before, the residents of the neighbourhoods feel that they've been sold out."

David Levy — who ostensibly epresents the working class Oriental community in Begin's govern-ment — "is atraid to show his face in our neighbourhoods, to come visit his so-called constituency," Ben-David said before Begin's promise yesterday to let the Ohel activists see Levy.
"We voted against Labour becaus they had always promised us something and never kept their promise." Ben-David explains. "The Likud promised even more, and we've learned it's all talk." "The Black Panthers brought our pain out into the streets," he continues, "but our parents never believed anything different was possible, so that failed too." After the Panthers disintegrated into factions and splinter factions, there was a vacuum of leadership among the young residents of the neighbourhoods. But Ben-David believes that the vacuum is being filled, slowly but surely, by the former social workers and educated residents of the communities. "We are aware now of a very basic cept ourselves. And help means keeping our neighbourhoods clean, keeping our kids out of jail, our girls out of whorehouses, and our families in decent housing. The government isn't going to do it for us. They are spending money somewhere else — in the settlements. "We are Israelis, and soon we'll be 65 per cent of the population. There are enough of us - meaning the youth who have been educated here, who have been given the taste of progress - to lead ourselves. We aren't thinking — yet — about a political party.

"But we are aiming for something more important, something that you could call power. The power to believe in ourselves, in our potential, in our strengths, is what we are

"For 31 years they've tried to make us into their own image, and while they've talked, we remained neglected. We know different now."

A. Gurel

Chairman of Greater Haifa

Regional Sewerage Authority

GREATER HAIFA REGIONAL SEWERAGE AUTHORITY

The greater Haifa Regional Sewerage Authority hereby invites Contractors to submit bids for laying of 100 AC Collector, in Haifs Bay, between the Oil Refineries and "Check Post." Tender documents and forms of tender can be obtained against payment of IL1,000 (non-reimbursable) at the City Hall, Haifa, room 105.

TENDER NO. 148/B-2/ISP/78

Prospective bidders should submit their bids in duplicate on the forms to be supplied to them, and in compliance with conditions of tender.

period ending 130 days from the last date set for the submission of bids, should be placed in the tender box, not later than July 17, 1979 at 12 noon.

The Israel Sewerage Project Tender No. 148/B-2/ISP/79

Greater Haifa Regional Sewerage Authority

Bids arriving after the closing day, and bids submitted without the re-

Terms of payment: 90% in cash against approved hid. Bids may be submitted by contractors who are registered in the Contractors' Register under symbolization 400, for works to the value of

A site inspection tour for contractors will be held on July 10, 1979, leaving the Municipality at 10.30 a.m.

The Tender Board is not bound to accept the lowest or any proposal or

lriyat Tel Aviv Yafo VACANCIES

Sewerage and Channelling Engineer — Design and Supervision

(7 positions), in the Culture, Youth and Sports Dept.

tional staff, with usual management supplement.

in the Sewerage and Channelling Dept./Engineering Administration Grade: 5-7 on engineering scale

Grade: corresponding to certificates of candidate, on scale of instrucnnaire is available from the Personnel Department — apply in person

Director, Municipal Service:

Further details have been posted on the notice boards of the Municipality's Personnel Department, City Hall, Kikar Malchel Yisrael, and at municipal informa-

Applications, accompanied by curriculum vitae and certificates confirming candidate's qualifications, should be submitted in a sealed envelope marked with the tender number, on a 'Candidate for Vacancy' questionnaire to the Personnel

Applications not accompanied by the required certificates will not be considered.

Last date for submitting applications: July 4, 1979.

The envelope containing the bid should be addressed:

quired bank guarantee, will not be considered.

Public tender 22/79/mh -

Public tender 20/79/mh

Manager/ess of Youth Club

or by post - and from information bureaux,

Bids accompanied by a bank guarantee of 5% of the bid total, valid for a countries have apparently not yet been so informed," the report said. CHILDREN'S VILLAGE. - A new village for children from broken charges.

240 youth.

CARGO VESSELS

At Haifa and Ashdod Ports

EXPECTED

25.6 Ashded/Halfs NERLANDIA Haifs/Ashdod n. Klipper 25.6 TEESLAND Beile 26.6 Holfs/Ashded MINERVA 21.6 RB 25.5 LOTUS 27.6 CARINA 27.6 PEGARIA 29.4 ANGELINA 30.6 CR. PRINCE 30.6 30.6

1.7

L7

2.7

JASMINE 2.7

MICHALIS

ASHDOD

DEROR II

At Ellat Port S. STAR 28.6 SANKURU 2.7

ZIM SINGAPORE L7

Subject to change without notice

Thursday night fever in Munich

By JOHN DORNBERG/Munich

THE QUAINT, narrow downtown streets of this picturesque old city are usually deserted at 7 p.m.

Stores have all closed a half hour earlier. Theatres, the opera, concert halls have not yet opened. Restaurants are just starting to crank up for the evening deluge of

Except on Thursdays. Cars are double and triple-parked, their engines running. Every phone booth is occupied, but the people in them are not making any calls. Little knots of people stand motionless, unspeaking, on street concerns, squares, at curbsides, looking anxiously, expectantly in all directions.

Suddenly, seemingly out of nowhere, newsboys carrying huge bundles of the "Suddeutsche Zeitung," this city's largest daily, appear, and pandemonium breaks

l'ag

89

 $\mathrm{tryling}_{(1,\gamma)}$ in line of the state of the sta

: 17: .Fr

.15 .250

Tile 1: E

Par le

of the

5x p 975

Mubble 6

CFF.

i the lea

* 45

CITY OF

S cream

Contract in

is Milita

0.000

· • • • • • • • •

∞ ಕಾರ∛ಆ

ALTER'S

A  45072

5 10 126

80.38 F

The carriers are pounced upon, the papers literally torn out of their hands. The car engines begin roaring impatiently as the drivers husbands or wives — wait for their spouses to dash back with a copy of "SZ," as it is called, clutched triumphantly like a club in hand.

Men and women spring madly toward the phone booths, dash inside to their waiting partners, flip open the paper to a certain page, glance at it quickly while simultaneously marking it with a pencil, then start dialing frantically. Occasionally there are violent arguments as several people try to crowd into an already occupied phone booth. There have been fistfights, and recently a paper carrier was severely injured when the crowd pushed him through the plate glass of a store window.

THERE ARE similar scenes in Cologne, Stuttgart, Hamburg, Frankfurt and West Berlin — every Thursday night.
The cause? West Germany's increasingly desperate housing shortage which the influential weekly. nagazine "Stern" recently described as "catastrophic" and Dieter Haack, the Minister of Urban Affairs, calls a "growing social"

It is around 7 p.m. on Thursdays that the first editions of large German papers hit the streets with weekly classified ad sections for available apartments. The pickings are getting slimmer week by week Two years ago the Munich "$Z's" apartment rental section used to average three pages; a year ago, it was down to one. Now it is a rare occasion when such ads fill half a page in a city of 1.8 million population.

Five years ago there was an excess market of almost a quarter million apartments in West Gershortage of half a million, and predictions are that matters will get much worse before they get better. The causes, according to demographers, economists, building industry representatives and government officials, are many. For one thing, the children of West Germany's "baby boom" era of the late 1950s and early 1960s are now maturing, getting married, starting families, and looking for places to Young people, even when not married, are eager to leave the family nests and find places of their own at an earlier age - 17 and 18, instead of the 21 that was the average a decade ago.

More of the 2 million foreign workers employed in West Germany Turks, Greeks, Yugoslavs, Italians to mention only the largest contingents — are settling in semipermanently and bringing their families from home. Simultaneously the supply has dwindled as a consequence of the recession in the building industry during the 1970s. At the height of the construction boom in 1978, just before the first-energy crisis, 714,000 new apartments were completed in West Germany. In 1974 only 600,000 new units were readied, and last year the completion rate was down to 370,000. Concurrently, older buildings are being torn down and are giving way to more lucrative of-

Meanwhile, rents are aky-rocketing with younger people and those in lower income groups, but not so low that they would be entitled to government-subsidized housing, being squeezed out.

WHILE there is still a glut of two and three-bedroom apartments renting for $800 and up — three-fourths the monthly take-home pay of an average West German industrial orker with wife and two children smaller and less expensive places have virtually disappeared from the

It is a seller's market and the sellers are laying down tough con-

They are demanding illegal and under the table payments for a few sticks of furniture left in a place by a previous tenant: curtain rods, floor covering, kitchen cabinets.

Ursula Fiala, a Munich real estate agent, recently reported on a case where a fandlord would rent an apartment to a young couple only if they agreed to pay $5,800 cash for a used washing machine in the place.

Regine and Frank Walther, a couple in West Berlin, went to court — and Won — when their landlady demanded that they pay $21,000 for the drapes, dining room and bedroom furniture in the place they had rented. The furnishings were so cheap and dilapidated, they maintained, "that we would have had to pay the junk dealer a fee to haul

Anyone with children, or the prospect of having them, is almost automatically out of luck.

Dogs, it seems, are more loved and wanted in West Germany these days than kids, and there is more evidence for that than merely the steadily declining birthrate and the statistics of negative population

The space allotted for an average child's room in a modern German high-rise is less than the minimum kennel area recommended for a police dog, and it is easier to appeal to a landiady's or rental agent's heart with three yelping canines in tow than with a like number of Leases contain clauses calling for immediate cancallation and election with the birth of a child, and one lease signed by a divorcee in Munich recently stipulated, as part of the rental agreement, that she take her anti-ovulant pills regularly.

WHAT the shortage has also revealed is that West Germany, despite its apparently high standard of living, is far from being the opulently affluent society it appears to be on the sur-

In Hamburg, a city of 1.8 million, there are 85,000 apartments with neither private bath nor toilet. In West Berlin, with 2 million people, there are 240,000 units with neither central heating nor private plum-

But with rising labour, building materials and real estate costs, there is little prospect that either the quality or quantity of housing will improve tangibly in the next few

"The housing shortage," says Stuttgart's Lord Mayor Manfred Rommel, "is going to be with us for some time, and the mad Thursday night scenes are going to get even madder. The shortage is catastrophic."

Youth versus experience

By HENRY DAVID ROSSO/Washington

THE EMPHASIS ON youth over experience in the U.S. armed forces may be a mistake with only three out of every five military personnel regarded as being "fully productive," a Brookings Institution study has noted.

The study, "Youth or Experience? Manning the Modern Military," made by the independent research organization, said the days of the combat-ready troops have been replaced by the need for technicians and specialists.

"The ascendancy of technicians and specialists over warriors that has been the result of technological substitution has yielded a more industrialized military institution, a large segment of which closely resembles civilian organizations," the study said. But military hiring practices do not resemble those in civilian organizations. The study said that of the 1.8 million enlisted personnel in 1977, 50 per cent were 25 years or less, and close to 90 per cent were 35 or less. In contrast, the study said, only 5 per cent of civilian workers are under 20 and less than 25 per cent

On the other end of the scale, 83 per cent of the civilian labour force is more than 44, compared to only 1 per cent of enlisted personnel in that age category.

THE STUDY's authors, Martin Binkin and Irene Kyriakopoulos, said a youthful force "is necessarily inexperienced. At last count, nearly 40 per cent of all military personnel were either trainees, apprentices or helpers. Only three of every five were fully productive." The authors contend that the military can have both physical fitness and experience. Citing research, the study said that while physical capacity diminished with age, the rate of decline was sharpest after the age of 50.

"The emphasis on youthfulness not only appears unwarranted but may also be misplaced," the study said, adding that the proportion of enlisted personnel in the 17-to-24 age bracket is the smallest in the clerical job category. "This pattern is quite unlike that prevailing in civilian employment, where clerical jobs are more likely to be staffed by young workers."

The study said the armed services, "adhering to outdated policies handed down from previous eras, place a greater premium on youth and vigour at the expense of ex-

The study called for a reform of the military retirement system and said the Pentagon "should take steps to improve retention among certain experienced personnel, thereby reducing the demands for new volunteers and for the resources now devoted to maintaining a relatively large pool of non-productive

These steps would not only allow the nation to field more effective armed forces but could save money

(United Press International)

IN A PARIS hotel a door banged late A RIFT AMONG at night. A few rooms away a man woke and called out in Russian "I'm not asleep." But there was no concentration camp guard at Edward Kuznetsov's door; no feeling of hunger, anxiety THE REFUGEES and despair on waking; no increasent radio blaring in his ear. It took a few moments for the man who has spent 16 of his 40 years in Soviet concentra-

By ROBYN SMYTH/Paris

Alexander Ginzberg

Ginzberg told "Le Monde" after his release. "If we had them, we would try to do without the West."

Alexander Solzhenitsyn, with whom Ginzberg has been staying in Vermont, positively rejects the Western way of life as a model for the country in which he has so staunchly resisted oppression. The author of "The Gulag Archipelago" told Harvard University last year that Western society is suffering from spiritual exhaustion, the triumph of mediocrity, treacherous self-doubt and the languor of excessive prosperity.

He thinks it was decadent of American liberals to oppose the Vietnam war and craven of the U.S. government to end it.

BY NO MEANS all the exiles agree with Solzhenitsyn. And differences are put aside when it comes to the struggle to rescue more political prisoners before they are destroyed by the random brutality and acute privation of concentration camp life.

But Edward Kuznetsov reminds one that the ideological rift among the dissidents runs very deep. Kuznetsov does not believe in Solzhenitsyn's Holy Russia; he hopes never to see his country again. He feels that the Russian citizen and his tyranical regime are to a certain extent well-suited. And he is doubtful about the wisdom of giving the relationship too severe a shaking.

As the journal smuggled out of his prison cell and published in the West revealed six years ago, this young philosopher was kept going in the camps by the power of his scorn and

Now, sitting in Marthe Robert's Paris spartment, a small sturdy figure in his first Western suit and shoes, he answers questions with a quiet gravity. His physical strength, he points out, kept him alive when other prisoners around him foundered. Only in dreams is he still a captive of the life he has escaped.

"As for the West, I have a better opinion of it now than before I came," he declares. "There is a greater understanding and insight into Soviet conditions here than I believed possible. Of course, I have so far met only people who are well-disposed. I would like to think that they are representative of the whole West, because what is amazing is to be at last among people who act from altruistic motives." The stoical pessimism of the prison journal is not far below the surface. Kuznetzov does not dis-guise his distaste for some of his more vociferous allies. "The oppression in my country is so ugly that it even creates an ugliness in its opponents," he says. 'The opposition has to work in conditions that are so abnormal that they are forced to become extremists. And if these people came out on top, it is doubtful if the result would be better than what we have today."

KUZNETSOV was two years old when his Jewish father died. Brought up by a non-Jewish mother. whose maiden name he still bears, he was all set to become one of the breed of homo sovicticus that he now so despises. But, caught up in a flurry of student unrest, he fell into the hands of the KGB. His first view of a prison camp — the inhumanity and anti-Semitism — set his course for life.

"He knew that he had been condemned for nothing," he wrote in his journal. "For a child's game, for a 20-year-old's romantic whim, for an impulse of the heart."

Alexander Ginzburg says: "I am only a Jew in the formal sense, I feel myself to be Russian and I have always rejected the idea of emigration." Kuznetsov has moved in the op posite direction. He decided to make dimself a Jew and to shake the dust of Russia from his feet as soon as possible. It was this which led him in 1970 to plan to fly a hijacked plane to Israel. But, with his wife and fellow conspirators, he was arrested before boarding the aircraft. Under international pressure his death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. He is not alone in fearing a Russian counter-revolution. Ginzberg warns: "The internal pressure is growing too strong and there is a risk that everything might be swept away. A revolution in this situation would mean wholesale destruction." For Ginzberg the answer is a very slow evolution, extending over two generations. Kuznetsov agrees, but his scepticism runs even deeper. "After all." he says, "not everything is wrong with this regime. There are very many Russians who see nothing to object to in the conditions and ideas by which they live. There doesn't have to be a change of regime. The wolf must be made to drop the lamb from time to time. But the wolf will remain the wolf, and there is no question of wip-ing him out. That would disturb the balance of nature. The wolf has a right to live."

erver Foreign News Service)

Technion Board of Governors Convene in Haifa

Five Honorary Fellows Named

tion camps to realise that he was safely berthed in a world where sleep is neither rationed nor for-

A month has passed since Kunnet-sov, shaven-headed and bewildered, was plucked from his cell and flown.

to New York with four other dissident leaders to be exchanged for two

Russian spies held by the Kuznetsov and his wife Silva have now started a new life in Israel.

He has been in Paris calling on French intellectuals such as Jean-

Paul Sartre and Marthe Robert, author of "From Oedipus to Moses"

and "Alone Like Franz Kafka," who have been in the forefront of the campaign to fix world attention on the plight of Moscow's political

The first wave of exultation over.

the time has come when those who have escaped from a life of con-straint often begin to suffer withdrawal pains. In the West we are apt to think that the desire for our brand of liberty — freedom from interference — is so overwhelming that the released victims of Communist oppression will find it easy to like what they discover on our side of

Then we are reminded by Alexander Ginzberg, who came over on the same plane as Kuznetsov, that the opponents of tyranny have one thing in common with its supporters

they choose to live under.

pressure. Their aim is to free someone — their own people — and not to enjoy the fruits of a liberty

Ginzberg says that where he really wants to be is a few miles from Moscow, with the power to inform

Russians of the true situation in their country and to help those he has left behind in the camps. "What we lack is powerful radio transmitters.'

won by others elsewhere.

the Iron Curtain.

bidden.

TECHNION CITY, HAIFA - Over 120 members and observers from outside Israel attended the formal opening session of the Board of Governors of the Technion - Israel Institute of Technology last Sunday. This year marks the graduation of the Technion's 50th undergraduate class.

Delegates from both Israel and overseas noted this historic event in their greetings to the Technion from the national societies they

Board Chairman Mr. Evelyn de Rothschild presided. The gathering.was welcowed by Technion President, Major General (Res.) Amos Horev. Five devoted Technion supporters were awarded Honorary Fellowships:

Louis L. Lockshin, Canada: Norman Seiden, U.S.A.:

L. Shirley Tark, U.S.A.:

Moshe Benno Gitter, Israel: In appreciation of his generous support for the students of the Technion. Joseph Greenblatt, Israel: In appreciation of his support for the teaching

> For the promotion of the Institute's dormitory building program. In appreciation of his support of the Institute's work in the area of soil engineer-of production engineering at the Technion.

In appreciation of his support in the field of aeronautical and mechanical engineering.

HONORARY DOCTORATES will be awarded on Degrees to: Prof. Morris Cohen, Israel

Israel Will Address Technion Governors

U.S. Ambassador to

The United States Ambassador to Israel, Mr. Samuel Lewis, will be the guest of honor at a dinner given on Tuesday by the Israel Technion Society for overseas members of the Board of Governors of the Tech-

The dinner, which will be held at the Dan Caesarea Hotel in the anclent Roman town of Caesarea, will be attended by leading representatives of Israeli government and

The guests at the dinner will be entertained by Israeli singer Hana

Experiments with soil and concrete will take place daily in the new Manerberger Geotochnical Roads and Airfields Laboratory.

MAUERBERGER BUILDING ADDS NEW WING

A new wing of the Helen and Morris Mauerberger Soil Engineering Building will be dedicated Tuesday at the Technion. The ceremony takes place before members of the Institute's Board of Governors. gathered in Haifs for their annual meeting. Members of the Mauerberger family attending were Mr. and Mrs. Solm Yach, Mrs. Shirley Goldman and Mrs. Pamela Levy. Among the specially-invited guests is Sir Richard Layt, Rec-tor of the University of Cape Town. The extension, as well as the original building, were made possible through the generous contributions of the Manerberger Foundation, Cape Town, South Africa.

The building will be the home of the Mauerberger Geotechnical. Roads and Airfields Laboratory, Since the main building was commissioned some 20 years ago, more than 4,000 students have used its facilities to specialize in fields related to soil engineering and geotechnology. It is the only source of trained manpower in these fields Penner Wing in Civil Engineering Building

Technion will honor Edith and Louis Penner of Chicago, Illinois with the dedication of a new wing of the Civil Engineering building in their name on Tuesday, Taking part in the ceremony are Mrs. Edith Penner and members of her family. A generous endowment from the estate of the late Mr. Penner was received for this building project of the Chicago Chapter of the American Technion Society. The Penner Wing will house laboratories and other facilities of the Technion's oldest faculty. There are well over 1,000 students currently studying civil engineering at the Institute, concentrating on such areas as construction, environmental engineering, water resources, geodesy and transportation.

Mr. Evelyn de Bothschild, Chairman, Board of Governors

Participants from Outside Israel overseas members of the Board of Governors and observers who are attending the 1978 Annual Meeting

From the U.S.: Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bernstein, Hy Brody, Nancy Carroll, Mrs. G. Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Cohen, Prof. George Dantzig, Ralph DeJur, Mr. and Mrs. Sol Dollinger, Col. J.R. Elyachar, Mr. and Mrs. David Erenberg, Prof. George Feher, Mrs. A. Fox, Greg Fried and Son, Dr. I. Ralph Goldman, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hassan, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Jelin, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kessler, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Krengel, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Matz, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Matz. Mrs. Pearl Milch, Mr. and Mrs. Firnst Nathan, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Pearlmutter, Mrs. Edith Penner, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Penner, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Penner, Mrs. Ruth Posin, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Rosen, Mrs. Frances Fried Rosenstein, Mr. and Mrs. Don Samuels, Ms. Ronya Schwaab, Capt. H. Schwartz, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Seiden, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Seldin, Prof. Ascher Shapiro, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sherman, Nate Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. David Silbert, Dr. Harold Simon, Prof. Louis Smullin. Maurice Spertus, Mr. and Mrs. Lou-Stein, L. Shirley Tark, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Taylor, Dr. Myron Tribus, Mrs. Anna Tulin, Harry Werksman and Son, Mr. and Mrs. Louis

From Great Britain: Edgar Astaire, Mr. and Mrs. S.J. Birn. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Blond, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cohen, Sir Claus Moser, Mr. and Mrs. Evelyn de Rothschild, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sebba, Barnet

Shine, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stone. From Canada: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Altman, Dr. David Azrieli. Bernard Bloomfield, Mr. and Mrs. Alien Chisvin, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chisvin, Dr. and Mrs. Kurt Ekler, Yaacov Erez, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lockshin, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Prupas, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Shear, Eugene Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Waltman. From South Africa: Mrs. Shirley Goldman, Mrs. Pamela Levy, Sir Richard Luyt, Mr. Gideon Missulawin, Mr. and Mrs. Solm

From Australia: Prof. Malcolm Chaikin, O.B.E. From Argentina: Sr. Guillermo

President's Reception Includes Two-Act Musical

The annual reception given by the President of the Technion, Maj-Gen. (Res.) Amos Horev, and Mrs. Horev is highlighted by the presentation of a two-act musical in English called "Your People are

This year, due to renovation of Technion's Churchill Auditorium. the event takes place in the Reali School auditorium. General and Mrs. Horev host the gala event for all members of the Board of Govenors, both from Israel and overseas. In addition, guests have been invited from government and industry.

Peace Symposium Highlights Technion Governors' Meeting

The implications of peace with Egypt were high on the Technion agenda this week. A symposium entitled "The Implications of Peace for Israel" keynoted the opening of the Technion's annual Board of Governors'

Professor Jacob Bear, Director of the Technion's Samuel Neaman Institute for Advanced Studies in Science and Technology, chaired the symposium.

The nationwide panel included: Mr. Mordechai Bar-On, Van Leer Jerusalem Institute; Dr. Raphaela Bilsky, Van Leer Jerusalem Institute; Mr. Shalhevet Freier, Department of Physics, Weismann Institute. Rehovot; Mr. Uzia Galil, Elron Electronica Industries; Dr. Aharon Lyish, Department of Islamic History, the Hebrew University, Jerusalem; Mr. Reuven Marko, Technion Student Representative; Prof. Moshe Hill, Faculty of Architecture and Town Planning, Technion.

The following is a list of the Excerpts from Report of the President

"The benefits and advantages of

Maj.-Gen. (Bes.) Amos Rorey, President of the Technion

Two More Hostels Dedicated

at Canada Village The D. Lou Harris-Canada Village student dormitory complex was the scene on Sunday for the dedication of hostels named for leading members of the Canadian rechnion Society. At the dedication, Louis and Sylvia Lockshin of Toronto, and Eugene and Dr. Anna Steams of Montreal were presented with com-memorative certificates by Technion President Maj.-Gen. (Res.)

The President praised the remarkable achievement of Mr. Lockshin and Mr. Stearns in pioneering the Canadian dormitory project which houses over 600 Technion students. The coast to coast Canadian fund-raising effort and the building of the complex took six willing to pay a very high price... A decisive corner has been turned in our history, and from here on new influences and new conditions will affect and shape the very patterns of our life... The time has come for Israel, and all Israelis, to stop short and take a new long, hard look at themselves — and what they are doing to themselves... perhaps the unlversities of Israel, the Technion not least among them and perhaps even more than the others, should seek to ascertain how they can best fulfill their functions and provide the kind of intellectual and moral leadership which is required if Israel is to remain true to its noblest aspirations... In the new era, I believe, more is expected of us, and I call upon the entire Technion fami-- students, academic and administrative staff, Board members and devoted supporters in Israel and abroad, to give greater consideration to what this Institute can do to help provide adequate answers to the problems which face the State in the weeks and months

Bio-Med Honors Pearl Milch

Friday morning, members of the Board of Governors visited the Silver Bio-Medical Engineering Institute. A ceremony was held honoring Mrs. Pearl Milch, President, Women's Division, American Technion Society, for her efforts on behalf of the Medical Engineering Program. President Amos Horev presented Mrs. Milch with the award received from the 1979 Tokyo, International Science Film Contest for Technion's new film on

The new George and Beatrice Sherman Science and Technology Education

Sherman Science and Technology Education Center

Dedicated Mr. Norton Sherman and members of the Sherman family of Boston participated last Thursday in the dedication of the new George and Beatrice Sherman Science and Technology Education Center at the Technion. The Library in the new Education Center has been named for Norton L. Sherman.

The ceremony was attended by members of the Technion Board of Governors, as well as speciallyinvited guests. The George and Beatrice Sherman Science and Technology Education Center will house modern laboratories for the training of science teachers. It will include facilities for the microteaching method, using television video-tape technology.

Presented by the Technion Societies around the world.

Petah Tikva losses mark cricket opener

By JACK LEON Post Sports Reporter

TEL AVIV. - National Cricket League title-holders Petah Tikva "A" have got off to a disastrous start this season, losing their two opening matches in the first division by wide margins. Competition in the division has got off to a late start, following the recent return home of Israel's World Cricket Cup team from a three-week U.K. tour.

Petah Tikva's second defeat came over the weekend at the hands of hosts Ramle "A," last year's runnerup. The Ramle XI won by 75 runs, to register their own second straight victory of the new campaign..

Going in first, the home club totalled 128, with the World Cup team's star fielder Zion Moshe this time showing his batting ability by scoring a fine 59. Leg-spinner Meir Davis was Petah Tikva's most successful bowler, with 5 for 47.

The champions were then shot out for a paltry 53 runs, their batamen having no answer to some great Nissim Reuben (6 for 26) and Elieser Yosef (4 for 16).

In their opening game, Petah Tikva were beaten by eight wickets at home by the Hebrew University. whose captain Stanley Perlman hit a dazzling 115 not out. In a two-hour run riot, all-rounder Perlman cracked seven sixes and 12 fours, as the Jerusalemites passed their opponent's total of 155 in only 29 overs, for the loss of just two wickets.

In last weekend's other match. Ramie "A" routed guests Ashdod 'A" by 10 wickets, Ramle's hero was their left-arm spinner Reuben Reuben, who followed up his World Cup success in England by claiming six Ashdod wickets for 19 runs. The in-form winners are led by Esra

A total of 17 teams are taking part in the Israel Cricket Association's 12th annual league season, which continues until October. The threesection, 60-over competition is as usual being played off on a double round-robin basis.

Essex nearer county title

LONDON (AP). — Essex, runaway leaders in the English County cricket championship, crushed Derbyshire by an innings at Chelmsford on Friday and took a firmer grip on the ti-

Derbyshire needed 177 in their second innings to make Essex bat again, and never looked like doing it. John Phillip with four wickets for 28 and John Lever, four for 45, bowled

Dennis Amiss, former England star, scored a fine century for Warwickshire against Yorkshire at Edgbaston. But his 119 came too late to save the match from drifting to a

At Chelmsford, Essex defeated Derbyshire by an innings and 40 runs: Derbyshire 258 and 187, Essex 485 for 9 declared.

At Oxford, Surrey defeated Oxford University by an innings and 78 runs: Surrey 351 for 8 declared, Oxford University 121 and 157 (Robin Jackman 5 for 56).

FASTEST FATMAN. -- He's billed as Fat Albert in a West Virginia sideshow, but T.J. Albert is not one to bemoan his fate as the 390kilo man. Albert runs the 100 metre dash in 23 seconds, and says 'I'm not like lightning, but I'm faster than a turtle.

Baseball standings

National League

beat former world champion Barry

Sheene of Britain by the length of his machine in a thrilling finish to the Dutch 500 cc Motor Cycling Grand

American League

ı						25-67	-
		W L	Pct.	~ GB		W	L	Pct.	GB
	Montreal	39 24	.619	_	Baltimore	47	22	.661	_
	St.Louis	84 28	.548	41/4	Boston .	43	25	.682	81/4
	Pittaburgh	34 26	.540	5	Milwaukes	40	81	886.	8
	Philadelphia	85 88	.515	614	New York	38	33	.585	10
	Chicago	32 31	.508	- 1-2	Cleveland	82	26	471	141/
	New York	25 37	-	101/	Detroit	31	35	.470	141/4
	MEM TOTY	20 01	-100	181/4	Toronto	28	50	.315	26
		_			•	₩e	st
		West			California	42	31	.575	_
	Houston	45 25	.597	– :	Kansas City	36	88	.535	8
	Cincinnati	36 33	.522	- 5%	Texas	87	38	.529	81/4
	San Francisco	35 38	.500	7	Minnesota	84	82	.515	41/2
	Los Angeles	82 40	.444	11	Chicago	22	87	.464	8″
	San Diego	82 41	.488	1114	Seattle	81	42	.425	11
	Atlanta	25 43	.877	151/4	Oakland	22	_	.306	191/4

BIRES. — Italian Virginio Ferrari Prix Saturday. The narrow win allowed the 26-year-old Italian to regain the lead in the world championship from American Kenny Roberts, the defending champion.

Paige passes Walker with 3:54.6 mile

PISCATAWAY, New Jersey (Reuter). — American Don Paige beat world record-holder John Walker of New Zealand over one mile here. Paige was clocked at 3:54.6 and Walker at 3:55.1. He was overtaken coming off the last bend. Paige's Villanovs University teammate, black South African Sydney Marce, was barred from the 1,500 metres because of South Africa's racial policies. The International Amateur Athletic Union warned foreign athletes not to compete if Maree ran.

Maree is U.S. National Collegiate champion at 5,000 metres. Dennis Morris of New Zealand won the 1,500 metres in three minutes 49.75 seconds. Earnonn Coghian of Ireland cap-tured the two miles in eight minutes 26.25 seconds.

Discussing his race, Walker said: "I'm coming back strong. By the end of the season I should be down to 8:52 or 3:51.

Walker set his world mark of 8:49.4 in 1975.

CRESS. — Philippine Grandmaster Eugene Torre best Fridrik Olafsson of Iceland yesterday, putting them in a tie for the lead of the $5,000 second leg of the Asian grandmasters chess circuit in Manila.

WALK. — Roland Wieser of East Germany set a European record for the 20-kilometre track walk. In a competition against the Soviet Union Saturday, the 23-year-old athlete clipped almost a minute off the previous record of one hour 22 minutes 18.4 seconds. Wieser's time was 1:21:81.2.

Borg on Wimbledon centre court today

LONDON (Reuter). — Sweden's Bjorn Borg will be seeking his 22nd successive single's win at the Wimbledon Tennis Championships when he opens the defence of his men's title against American Tom

Gorman here today. Even for Borg, who has won the last three Wimbledons, it could prove a difficult match and his belief in omens will not relieve any anxiety he may feel before going on to the centre court. He will need no reminding that the last time Gorman played the top seed in this tournament he beat him. That was in 1971, when the unseeded Gorman dramatically disposed of Australia's Rod Laver in straight

Laver, like Borg, was one of Wimbledon's most famous com-petitors and the previous year had established a championship record of 81 successive wins. It remains one of the few Wimbledon achievements that Borg has still to surpass. Borg is not always at his best at the start of a tournament, as he demonstrated here last year when he took five sets to master the cumbersome American Victor Amaya. Gorman, a far more accomplished player than Amaya, has the ability to take full advantage of another slow opening by the Swede.

The other leading men's seeds have less daunting tasks ahead of them today. John McEnroe, the 20year-old New Yorker who is seeded second, meets compatriot Terry Moor who reached the quarter-finals of the Italian championship last month but is unlikely to make much progress against his pugnacious young opponent on the fast Wimbledon grass.

Another American, Jimmy Connors, either top or second seed for the last four years, is seeded third this time. But he is not likely to lose his opening match against France's Jean-Francois Caujoile. Vitas Gerulaitis and Roscoe Tanner, fourth and fifth seeds, should also win comfortably against fellow-Americans Pat Dupre and Van Winitsky, while Guillermo Vilas, the Argentine sixth seed, should beat Roger Taylor of Britain. The women's competition gets un-der way tomorrow. If the seedings work out, the final will be between Martina Mavratilova, the Czechoslovak-born holder, and Chris Evert Lloyd of the U.S. Both gave a memorable display of their talents in the final of a tournament in Eastbourne on Saturday. Evert won, but it took her three hours and a score of 7-5, 5-7, 18-11 to do so.

(Ming

Park and 254) 223 (

牛星 pit-(40 in 47 5

alpo de a Apara

of Israel

Peentative.

on exchan

- June :

PAI BANK LIT

Res CI RRIVE

Mind and the second sec

Anat Meiri sets 3.000-metre record

Post Sports Reporter TEL AVIV. - Tel Aviv ASA's Anat Meiri, 17. established a new Israel record in the 8,000 metres last week, with a winning time of 9.22.3. minutes in an international meet in Meiri was followed home by her 18year-old compatriot, Zehavi Shmueli, of Israel's Ayalot Athletics Club, who clocked 9.24.

Other Israelis who set new national track and field records over the weekend were high-jumper Gi-deon Harmat and sprinter Mannay Rosenberg, as reported in yester-day's Jerusalem Post.

everything that turns your leisure into pleasure! FASHION SPORT • CAMPING at the leisure-pleasure centre!

ENTERTAINMENT

TELEVISION

EDUCATIONAL: 8.15 English 6, 8.35 Language and Communications 3-5, 9.20 English 5, 9.40 Everyman's University, 10.10 Science 6, 10.30 Programme for kindergarteners. 11.10 English S. 15.30 Geometry 5-6. kindergarteners. 16.25 Science Fic-tion series. 17.00 Open Circle - biweekly education magazine for parents and teachers CHILDREN'S PROGRAMMES: 17.30 Little Lord Fauntieroy. Part i of

ON THE AIR

7.07 (Stereo): Morning Concert -

Handel: Concerto Grusso in A Major,

Op. 6 No. 11; W.F. Bach: Plano

1 in D Major; Schumann: Introduc-tion, Scherzo and Finale Op. 52

(Solti); Bach: Brandenburg Concerto No. 3 in G Major; Mozart: Symphony No. 40 in G Minor; Debussy: Ballade

10,15 Elementary School Broadcasts

12.05 Artist's Parade — Aurele Nicolet, flute; Eldad Neumark, plano

- Beethoven: Serenade Op. 41;

Schubert: Introduction and Variations; Fukoshima: "Mai" for 13.00 (Stereo): Noon Concert — Warlock: Capriol Suite; Martini: Fluie Concerto (Rampal): Liszt:

Mephisto Waltz (Michel Cam-panella); Corelli-Kreisler: La Folila (Ida Handel): Faure: Masques et

JERUSALEM, 4, 7, 9 Arnon: The Boys from Brazil. 4, 6.30, 9; Eden: Bare Knuckles; Edison: Paradise Alley, 4, 6,45, 9; Habirah: My Mother the General; Kfir: Direngoff 99, 4, 6,45, 9,15; Mitchell: National Lampoon's Animal Bouse.

6.45, 9; Wed. at 4; Orgil: The Good

Earth: Orion: Odds and Evens, 4.

6.30, 9; Orns: The Thirty Nine Steps; Bon: A Chacun Son Enter; Semaday:

Heaven Can Wait, 7, 9.15; Small

Anditorium Bluvenei Ha'coma:

Autumn Sonata; Cinema 1: The Apprenticeship of Duddy Kravitz, 7, 9.15

Allenby: Paradise Alley; Ben-Yehuda: Şame Time Next Year;

Chen; Cat from Outer Space; Cluema One: The Driver; Cinema Two: Com-

One: The Driver: Cinema Two: Coming Home; Dekel: Midnight Express, 7.(9.15; Drive-In Cinema: The Cat

from Outer Space, 7.15, 9.50; Esther:

Dizengoff 99; Gat: Autumn Sonata

TEL AVIV. 4.30, 7.15, 9.39

bergamasques 14-10 Children's programmes 15-30 World of Science

15.55 Notes on a new book

CINEMAS

10.40 Knowledge for All 11.35 School for Sambs (part 4)

Plano Four-Hands (Kontarsky Brothers); Honegger: Symphony No. 1: Stravinsky: Piano Concerto; Walton: Symphony No. 2 10.08 Radio story

ata No. 5: Haydn: Symphony No.

First Programme

a 6-part series based on the book by Frances Hodgson Burnett 18.00. Quiet, we're on the air.... biweekly youth magazine ARABIC-LANGUAGE programmes; 18.30 News roundup 18.32 Sports

19.27 Programme announcements HEBBEW PROGRAMMES ume at 20.00 with Morasha: the story of the Jewish community of Mashed which converted to Christianity but secretly kept its faith 20.20 The Muppet Show — with guest star James Coco 21.00 Mabat newsreel

16.05 (Stereo): Adina Hamburger

harp; Vivienne Israel-Barkal, cello; Ruth Hefetz, piano; Gideon Lahan, Oboe; Amir Bela, Flute; Amnon

20.05 "The Unfinished" - Bruckner's

Ninth Symphony 21.00 Everyman's University 21.80 Speaker's Podium — with Prof.

Ruth Lapidot
22.05 (Stereo): The Israel String

Quartet, with Arich Vardi, plano — Webern: Six Bagatelles, Op. 9; Ver-di: String Quartet; Brahms: Plano

Quintet, Op. 34 23.23 (Stereo): "23:23": Serge

Garant: Love Songs; Variations for

6.50 Travis McGee — Radio thriller series 7.00 This Morning — news magazine

8.10 Good Morning — songs, chat with Rivka Michaeli

16.10 Magazine on health and

17.10 Meni Peer's talk and entertain-

00.10 (Stereo): Choral Music

2nd Programme

13.05 Midday — news com 14.10 Musical Adventures

Yeshurun, Bassoon —

Faure, Ibert and Bach

21.30 Law of the Day — Prof. Kalman Mann, head of the Hadassah medical organization, and Prof. Haim Doron, chairman of Kupat Holim, debate the proposed National Health Law 22.40 Van Der Valk: Thriller series 22.40 Van Der Vak: Timber series starring Barry Foster: Diane 23.30 Almost Midnight — news JORDAN TV (unoffocial): 17.40° Laff a Bit. 18.00 Thunder. 18.30 French Hour. 18.45 (JTV 8) Grissly Adams. 19.00 News in French. 19.30 in Hebrew, 19.45 Music Box 20.00° News in Arabic. 20.30 Mork and Mindy. 21.05 Against the Wind. 22.00 News in English, 22.15 Botanic Man. 22.40* Rockford Files (Shows with asterisks are also broad-cast on JTV3)

18.38 Sports magazine 18.48 Bible Reading — Psalms: 83, 84 19.00 Today — people and events in

20.10 Communities in Israel — songs

22.05 David Margalit's weekly

6.30 University on the Air — Prof. Yehoshuz Ben Arieb lectures on 19th century Jerusalem

7.07 "707" — Alex Anaki presents selections of music and items from the morning newspapers 8.08 IDF morning newsreel

9.05 Israeli Summer with Eli Ylaraeli

11.05 Favourites - familiar times and 12.45 15 Minutes - Political commentary 18.05 Today's Favourite — songs with a special theme 14.05 Two hours — music, art, cinema and theatre reviews, interviews and 21.85 University on the Air (repeat)

22.05 Jazz Hour
23.05 Let's Listen — new records and recordings with Nathan Dunevitch

19.05 Needle in a record stack 21.00 Mabat newsreel

column (repeat)
23.05 Treasure Hunt — radio game

18.05 Of Men and Figures

Army

CLASSIFIEDS

DEADLINES Jerusalem: Weekdays: 10 a.m. of day prior to publication. For Friday's paper: 5 p.m. on Wednesday. For Sunday's paper: 8 p.m. on Thursday. Tel Aviv and Haifa: Wednesdays and Friday: 12 noon two days prior to publication. For Sunday's paper: 12 noon Thursday

Ads are accepted at all offices of The Jerusalem Post (for addresses see masthead on back page) and at all recognized advertising agencies.

Weekday rates: Minimum charge of IL125.50 for eight words: IL15.70 for each additional word. Friday and holiday eve rates: Minimum charge of IL170.40 for eight words: IL21.30 for each additional word. All rates include VAT.

DWELLINGS

JERUSALEM

ARMON HANATZIV unfurnished 2 room apartment, 1st floor, view, long term. $135. Tel. 02-227024, ask for Betty.

TCHERNICHOWSKY, 4, telephone, July-August. $300. Tel. 02-861827.

REHAVIA. 3 ROOMS, fully renovated, MATAR. Tel. 03-290275. bousehold heating, occupation in one year.

TEL AVIV

IN NORTH TEL AVIV. Shikun Dan ied cottage, 5 rooms + laundry room + central heating. For 2-3 years, Tel. 03-473057. COMFORTABLE APARTMENT accommodation any time, Zohar, 112 Hayarkon. HAIFA

CARMEL, 4½ rooms, luxuriously furnished, all facilities, $450 or nearest. Tel. 04-247319.

INSURANCE

BEFORE RENEWING HOUSEHOLD. HTT HTT HTT DY ALDERA DE ALDER DE ALDER ALDER

PERSONAL

NICE (F) will meet foreigner. Dial: Tel. 08-444508, 5-7 p.m.

PURCHASE/SALE

. માસલાનું ભૂતા મુક્કાલામાં સામા ભાગાના ભાગાના ભાગા

SEGAL BUYS EVERYTHING, televisions. stereos, furniture, liquidations. Tel. 03-

SITUATIONS VACANT BURNARIA MARTINA DA PARTE DE LA CONTROLLA DE L

EARN IL480 PER DAY in interesting tem porary typing jobs, 2-3 days a week or half days also acceptable. See us today. Translators' Pool, 1 Rehov Rachel, Tel Aviv, Tel. 03-241780, 03-230574; Jerusalem, 6 Rehov Yanai, 02-228572, 02-225155; Haifa, 8a Rehov

PROTOTOTO PER TRANSPORTATION PROTOTO DE LA COMPONIO DEL COMPONIO DEL COMPONIO DE LA COMPONIO DEL COMPONIO DEL COMPONIO DE LA COMPONIO DELIGIO DE LA COMPONIO VEHICLES

INTERNATIONAL SERVICE LTD. ase and sale duty-free cars. Tel. 08

URGENT SALE! Ford Escort, 78. automatic + radio + passport. Karmel, apertment 9, 18b, Sderot Nitza, Netanya. FORD CORTINA STATION, 1977, passport good condition, Tel. 03-226993.

PASSPORT, RENAULT 4, 1874, mechanical ly excellent. $2,200, or best offer. Tel. 08-

from June 24 Full Board, Kosher

Price $120

for overseas students Registration: Yehuda Tours Ltd., 23 Rehov Hillel, Jerusalem. Tel. 02-227740, 233147.

GENERAL ASSISTANCE

EMERGENCY PHARMACIES

Jerusalem: Jerusalem, 212 Yafo, 526215; Jerusalem Grand, Haroun Rashid St.,

Aria Aviv: Briut. 25 King George, 223721; Ahva, 165 Dizengoff, 224717; Holon: Naot Rahel, 36 Ellat, 861751; Ramat Gan; Herzi, 722372. Kiar Shmaryabu: Kiar Shmaryahu, Commercial Centre, 920244. Netanya: Merkaz, 36 Herzi, 22739. Rishon: Kiara, 4 Manya Shochet, 93549.

Kiara, 4 Manya Shochet, 93549.

Hadera: Tzellk. 87 Rierbert Samuel, 25023.

Halfa: Chanita, 22 Chanita, 231803. Beersheba: Rambam, Shikun Dalet, Merkaz, 78014.

DUTY HOSPITALS

Jerusalem: Bikur Holim (pediatrica, E.N.T.), Hadassah (surgery, internal, orthopsedics, ophthalmology), Misgav Ladach (obstetrics), Tel Aviv: Rokah (pediatrics), Ichilov (internal, surgery). Nelanyu: Laniado (obstetrics, internal). Huifa: Carmel.

minis: Carmel.
"Ernn" — Mental Health First Aid, Tel.
Jerusalem 669911, Tel Aviv 283811, Haifa
536888, Becraheba 82111.

FIRST AID

Magen David Adom first aid centres are open from 8 p.m. to 7 a.m. Emergency home calls by doctors at fixed rates. Sick Fund members should enquire about

Phone numbers: Jerusalem, Tel Aviv, Haifa — 101. Dan Region (Ramat Gan, Buci Brak, Givatayim, Kiryat Ono) — 781111.

Ashkelon 23833 Ellat 2333 Holon 808183 Nahariya 928888 Nazareth 54333 Netanya 23333 Petah Tikya 912333 Rehovet 054-51338 Righon LeZion 942383 Safed 20222 Tiberias 20111

SUNSET-SUNRISE

Sunset 18.51; Sunrise tomorrow 04.55

POLICE

Dial 100 in most parts of the country. In Tiberias dial 924444, Kiryat Shmona 40444.

Notices in this feature are charged at IL50.40 per line including VAT; insertion every day costs IL828.30 including VAT, per month. Copy accepted at offices of The Jerusalem Post and all recognised advertising agents.

Jerusalem MUSEUMS

za. Æxhibitions. Peace Painisrael Museum. sprintings. Peace Pantings by Egyptian Children. Yocheved Weinfeld: forms of visual images. Arts in Palestine in the 19th Century. Street Art. Birds in Art. From the Collection of the Design Department. From the Collection of the Design Department. From Still Life to Object. Neolithic Figurines from Shaar Hagolan. Childhood Drawings and Paintings of Israeli Artists. Words in Freedom. Exhibit of the month: Moses Receiving the 10 Commandments — 17th century tapestry.

Bockefeller Museum. "War and Peace" — head of Janus. Rare bronze vessels from a Persian period tomb, Nablus. Islamic Arts, from the Israel Museum collection. Visiting Hours — Israel Museum: Sun., Mon., Wed., Thurs. 10 a.m.-5 p.m.; Tue. 4-0 p.m.; Fri. 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Sat. 10 a.m. p.m. Shrine of the Book, Billy Rose Art Garden: Sun., Mon., Wed., Thur. 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Tue. 10 a.m.-10 p.m.; Fri. and Sat. 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Bocketeller Moseum: Sun.-Thur. 10 a.m.-5 p.m.; Fri., Sat. 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Tickets for Sat. and holidays must be purchased in advance at the Muser Cahana or major Jerusalem hotels; in Tel guided tours in English, Sunt., Wed., 11.00 a.m., Tues. 4.30 p.m. from upper entrance ILINGALINYAHAN INTANAN MATATAHAN MATATAHAN MATATAHAN - HANDALIAN PATATAHAN MATATAHAN MATATAHAN MATATAHAN MATATA

CONDUCTED TOURS

Hadassah Tours 1. Medical Centre, in Kiryat Hadas Yours in English at 9, 10, 11 a.m. and 12 noon, leaving from the Kennedy Building. Tour includes Chagall Windows. No parge. On Friday tours begin at 8 a.m. — p appointment only. Tel. 416838.

by appointment only. 1er. 1988.

2. The Hadasseh Synagogue — Chagali Windows — open to the public from 1.30-4.00 p.m. Sunday-Thursday. Buses 19 and

8. Mt. Scopus Hospital: Tours from 8.30 to 818111. 4. Morning half-day tour of all Hadassah s, morning nan-day tour or an Hamsso projects. $5 per person towards transpo tation. By reservation only: Tel. 416338. Hebrew University, tours in English at 9 and 11 a.m. from Administration Building. Givat Ram Campus, Buses 9 and 28. Mount Scopus tours 11.30 a.m. from the Reception Centre Administration

g. Buses 9 and 28. Further details: Emunsh — National Religious Wemen's Organization, Tourist Centre, 25 Rehov Ben Maimon. Tel. 02-663468, 630630, 511588. American Misrachi Women, Free Mornins

Tours — 19a Keren Hayesod Street, , Jarusalem, Tel. 232758. SHOWS e in David's Tower. Sound and Light show in English, every evening (except Friday and festival eves) at 8.45 p.m. at the Citadel near Jaffa Gata, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Saturday also at 10.00 p.m. in English; Sunday and Thursday at 10.00 p.m. in French. Tickets at the entrance. Please come warmly drawed.

MISCELLANEOUS Jarusalem Arts Lane - Khutset Hayet Serusalem Arts Lane — Elizatet Hayetser (opp. Jaffa Gate). Quality arts and grafts. All media. See artists at work. Open daily. Jerusalem Biblical Zoo, Schneller Wood, Romema. Tel. 514822, 7.30 s.m. — 7 p.m.

Tel Aviv

MUSEUMS Tel Aviv Museum, Ederot Shani Tel Aviv Museum, Sderot Shaul Hamelech, Exhibitions — Art of the Sarties: Europe and America. New Acquisitions, 20th century painting, sculpture, drawing. Israel Photography. Work by pupils of the Museum workshops. Helena Rubinstein Pavilion — There is something in it, after all — schibition—workshop on buildings in Tellagy. Visiting hours: Sun. — Thirt Str. a.m. 10 p.m. Fri. 10 a.m. 2 p.m. Sat. 6tt p.m. Sat. morning, 10 a.m. 1 p.m. FREE, Helena Rubinstein Pavilion: Sun. — Thur. 9 a.m. 2 p.m.; 4-7 p.m. Fri. 9 a.m. 2 p.m. 4-7 p.m. 5-1 p.m. 4-7 p.m. Fri. 9 a.m. 2 p.m. 4-7 p.m. 5-1 p.

Beth Hatefutsoth. The Jewish dis past and present, presented by the man readern technology and graphic techni-ques, films, slide shows, andio-visual minals, etc. In the exhibition gailery: 'Image Before My Eyes" photographic history of Jewish life in Poland (1894-1893). In conjunction with the exhibition: "The Life that Disappeared". (Jewish Life in Poland, 1985-39), nide show by Roman Vishniac, daily. Visiting hours: Sun., Mon., Thur. 10 a.m.—5 p.m. Tue., Wed. 3—10 p.m., Fri., Sti. closed.

Beth Hatefusoth is located at Rehov Klaumer, Ramat Aviv (entrance through

CONDUCTED TOURS Emunah — National Religious Wemen. 166 Ibn Gabirol. Tel. 440316, 788942, 7084 Canadian Hadassah-Wizo Office, 116 Rehov Hayarkon. Tel. 227060, 8 a.m.-2 p.m. ORT Israel: For visits please contact: ORT Tel Aviv, Tel. 233231, 762291-2; ORT Jerusalem, Tel. 533141; ORT Netanya.

American Misracki Women. Guest Tours - Tel Aviv - Tel. 220187, 243105.

Haifa Balta Mo Music in the Bible, 26 Shabtai Levi St., Tel. 523255-8. National Maritime, Tel. 58822. Illegal Immigration, Tel. 586249. Japanese Art. Tel. 83554. Mane Katz, Tel. 8365. Dagon Grain Collection, Tel. 68422i. Ar-tists' House, Tel. 622355. What's On in Haifs, diel 640549.

Rehavat The Weismann Institute open to public from 8.00 a.m. to 3.30 p.m. Visitors invited to see film on Institute's research activities, shown regularly at 11.00 s.m. and Tours of the Weismann House every half hour from 9.00 a.m. to 3.30 p.m. and ustil noon on Friday. Nominal fee for admission to Weizmann House. For Teurs of the House please book: Tel-084-83230, 064-83328.

EVERY THING IN ITS PLACE. REPORT SUSPICIOUS OBJECTS!

TRAVEL INFORMATION

FLIGHTS

This schedule is subject to change without prior notice. Readers are advised to call Ben-Gurion Airport Flight Information, (08) 971461-2-5 (or 08-29944) for El Al flights only) for changes in times of Arrivals and Departures.

MONDAY. ARRIVALS

0030 El Al 572 Bucharest 0120 Alitalia 762 Rome 0955 El Al 022 New York 1020 Quebecair Toronto 1225 El Al 004 New York 1805 Alitalia 738 Rome 1400 El Al 386 Rome 1410 SAA 266 Johannesburg, Lisbon

1450 Lufthansa 604 Frankfurt 1500 Britannia 993A Manchester, Athens 1520 El Al 548 Rhodes 1600 TWA 805 San Francisco, New York,

1655 Air France 132 Paris, Lyon 1705 TWA 546 Washington, Bosto 1725 KLM 525 Amsterdam

1785 El Al 348 Zurich 1805 Swissair 332 Zurich 1850 British Air 576 London

1900 TWA 848 Chicago, Paris Rome 1910 Olympic 301 Athens 1925 El Al 358 Frankfurt 2010 Lufthansa 606 Munich 2016 El Al 338 Amsterdam 2100 El Al 324 Paris

2120 El Al 378 Copenhagen 2305 El Al 326 Paris, Geneva 1855 Air France 182 Paris, Lyon 2335 Olympic 805 Rhodes DEPARTURES .

2110 El Al 834 Brussels, Vienna

0030 El Al 005 New York, Chicago 0235 Alitalia 782 Bombay, Singapore Sydney, Melbourne 0600 El Al 385 Rome 0605 TWA 847 Athens, Rome, Buston Washington 0630 El Al 039 Amsterdam, New York 0630 El Al 009 Montreal, New York 0650 El Al 121 Paris, Montreal

0700 Swissair 333 Zurich 0740 Olympic 302 Athens 0800 El Al 321 Vienna. Brusseis 0820 El Al 847 Geneva, Zurich 0850 British Air 877, London 0800 El Al 016 London, New York 0810 TWA 801 Paris, New York

0940 El Aj 387 Ameterdam 1000 El Al 857 Frankfurt 1020 El Al 377 Copenhagen 1040 El Al 328 Paris 1100 El Al 547 Rhodes 1185 Quebecair Toronto 1800 El Al 315 London 1420 Alitatia 739 Rome

1860 Lufthanes 605 Frankfurt 1800 Britannin 983B Athens, Liverpool 1840 SAA 267 Liabon, Johannesburg 1840 Air France 187 Paris This flight information is supplied by it. Ben-Gurion International Airport Con-

One Hour Before Flight-Time-That's Service!

Maxim: A Different Story: Mograbi: The Deer Hunter, 5, 8.30; Ophir: Ice Castles; Orly: National Lampoon's Animal House; Paris: Black and White in Colour, 10, 12, 2, 4, 7,15, 8,80; Peer: Who is Killing the Great Chefs of Europe; Ramat Aviv: Dersu Uzala, 7, 9.30; Royal; Love is a Splen-did Ilhadon, 10, 12, 2, 4, 7.15, 9.30; Shahaff: Going Steady: Studie: California Suite, 4, 7.15, 9.30; Tchelet: Concord Affair: Tel Aviv Museum: Parell Pas Parell; Zafon: Heaven

EATFA, 4, 6.45, $ Amphitheatre; Blackout; Armon: Cat from Outer Space; Atsmon: Summerfield; Chen: Midnight Ex-press; Galor: Nada, 10, 2, 7; Captain

Gordon: White Bim. Black Ear; d: My Mother the General; Limer: ternational Valvet, 4.30, 7, 9.30,

Apache, 12, 4, 9; Miron: The Sabines of the Nymphe, 6 non-stop perfs. Morish: Fedora, 6,45, 9; Orah: Dizengoff 99; Orion: Le Let, 6 nonstop peris.; Ordan; The Summer

Place; Orly: Heaven Can Wait, 5.45, 9; Peer: Autumn Sonata; Ren: My Peer: Autumn Sonara; new, my lother the General; Shavit: Midnight Cowboy, 6.45, 9.

BAMAT GAN, 7.15, 8.30 Armon: When Bight Bells Toll, 4, 7.15, 9.30; Hadar: Dizengoff 99; Lily: Same Time Next Year; Ossis: Nest of Vipers, 4, 7.15, 9.80; Ordea: My Mother the General, 4, 7,15, 9,30; Rama: Secrets of a Door-to-Doo Salesman, 7.15, 9.30, Mon. and Wed. also at 4.30. Ramat Gan: F.L.S.T.

David: Dizengoff 98, 7.30, 9.30. Tiferet: Azhanti, 7,15, 9,15.

Migdal: High Tension, 4.30, 7.15, 9.50. Petah Tikva Shalom: My Mother the General, 4, 7.15, 9.15, Monday: 3, 7.15, 9.15.

Esther: My Mother the General, 4,30, 7. 9.15.

before departure. Bags should be taken to the El Al Terminal the day before departure. All formalities will be completed there so you can arrive at the airport only an hour before take-off time, and proceed straight to passport control. Catl Carmel at (03)625252. From 6.00 a.m. - 23.30 p.m. - for bookings, confirmations or changes of all El Al flights. El Al runs a inxury limousine bus service between Tel Aviv Town Terminal and the airport. For departure times call our Terminal

Use El Al's Advance Check-in Service to chiminate long sirport waits

(03) 253535. Tel Aviv Terminal : adjacent to the Tel Aviv Railway Station - North. Open :4 p.m.until mids Jerusalem Terminal : 12 Hillel Street. 4 p.m.until midnight. :7p.m. until 11 p.m. :Sat. eve: baif-hour after Sabbath end to 11 p.m.

535986, Beerancas 2211.
Mingav Ladach: Open line, 4-6 p.m. every Monday answers to obstetrics, gynaecological, sterility and family planning problems. Tel. 02-633356.

Ashdod 22222 Bat Yam 885365 Beershobs, 78333

prkr

173.5

150.0

182.0

119.0 460.0 460.0

258.0 575.0

556.0 202.5 770.0

770.0 966.0 211.6

185.0

1170.0

176.0

147.0

102.5

580.0 548.0

571.0

765.0 1305.0

11.C. +4.0 +4.0 +2.5

37.0

+17.0 +11.0

+.5 +5.0

+6.0 +6.0 —18.0

—30.0 —30.0

+5.0 +40.0 +5.0

B.C.

+3.0 Tl.C. —2.0 —2.0

n.c. +12.0

+15.0 2.c. —10.0

n.c. +6.0

+17.0

+3.0

+15.0

n.c.

-5.0

-2.0

—¥0.0 —70.0

Petrochem.

Nechushtan b

Arad

Polygon

Rim 4

Taal r

Taal b

Prutaron

Ellera b

Amissar opt

Central Trade

Inv. of Paz b

Wolfson 10 r

Disc, Inv. r

Disc. Inv. b

Hap'im Inv. r Hap'im Inv. b

Leumi Inv.

Jordan Explo

Mizrahi Inv. b

Disc. Inv. opt. "A" Disc. Inv. opt. "B" Disc. Inv. 10% deb. 59

Disc. Inv. 10% deb. 72 Disc. Inv. 18% deb. 130 Disc. Inv. 18% deb. 135

Hap'lm Inv. 1/3 div. 78

Hap'/im Inv. opt. 1 Hap'im Inv. 10% deb 1

Jordan Explo. opt.
Jordan Explo. opt.
Jordan Explo. opt. 2
Jordan Explo. opt. 3
Misrahi Inv. r

Mizrahi 18% deb. 48 Hassuta

Hassuta 20% deb. 1

Hassute opt. "A"

Export Inv. b Koor Ind.

Clai Ri. Est. opt. Cial Ri. Est. 20% deb

Clai Ind. Clai Ind. s.c. opt.

Clai Ind. opt. cert. Clai Ind. 10% deb.

Oz Inv. 10% deb.

Piryon Inv. Piryon Inv. opt. 2 Shares Traded in

Foreign Currency

Agricultural pref. "C" Ind. Dev. pref. "B"

Ind. Dev. pref. "C" Ind. Dev. "CC"

Ind. Dev. "CCI" Ind. Dev. "D"

Unico "A" r

Gazit

Foel

Naphtha

Lapidot r Lapidot b

20.0 82.7

286.9

162.9

+1.0

--10.0

n.c. n.c. n.c. +40.0

+9.0

Clal Ind. 20% deb. 5

Clai Rl. Est.

Oz Inv.

Pama Inv.

Petrochem. opt. "A"

Elite 20% conv. sub.

Investment & Holding

Petrochem, 20% deb. 1

Index bonds mixed while shares rise

Closing prices on the Tel Aviv Stock Exchange

Housing Mtg. opt. 1
Housing Mtg. opt. 2
Telahot pref. r
Telahot

Tefahot r

Ehilion r

Merav opt. 1

Shilton b Shilton opt. "A" Shilton opt. "B"

Shilton 18% deb. 1 Shilton 18% deb 2

Otzar La'taasiya r Otzar La'taasiya b

ind. Dev. pref.

Aryeh

Arych opt. Hassneh r

Phoenix 5 Yardenia 1

Yardenia 5

Sahar opt. Sahar 18% deb.

& Utilities Motor House

Lighterage 5

Lighterage opt. 2 Lighterage deb.

Land, Building,

Azorim opt. "A" Azorim 20% deb. 1

Africa-Israel 1

Africa-Israel 10

LLD.C. opt. "A"

By MACABEE DEAN Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. - The fight to rectify

Israel's adverse balance-of-payments should take precedence over soaring inflation, Dov Lautman, vice-president of the Manufactures Association, told the Federation of Bi-National Chambers of Commerce, at the opening meeting of the organization's seventh world

Lautman pointed out that inflation had many disastrous effects within the country itself as costs of production rose faster than the returns on the sale of goods in dollars.

"However, the ever-increasing gap between what Israel exports and what it imports threatens the very economic viability of the country," he said, noting that the day would come when Israel would not be able to pay its debts "and then the country would be in serious trouble."

He did not think that the Americans would help to bail out the Israel economy, although he believ-ed it would be in America's interest to keep Israel strong and flourishing "especially after what happened in Iran, and the general unsettled conditions in other parts of the Middle

The speaker said that the annual adverse rate of the balance of payments, now several billion, would grow steadily during the next

East.

council meeting last week.

LLDC r

LLD.C. b

Development & Citrus

Delek opt. 1 Delek 20% deb. 2

Cold Storage 1 Cold Storage 1 no. div.

Cold Storage 10
Cold Storage 10 no div
Cold Storage 20 no div
Cold Storage 20% deb.
Israel Electric

Securitas 50% div. 78

Sahar b

10.8 9.7

55.2

12.£

972.1

+20.0 +2.0 +11.0

n.c. 1307.7 +1.0 84.2

+13.0 14.1

+9.0 1756.2 +3.0 1894.8

+5.0 50.0 +4.0 89.5 +2.0 188.6 +2.0 789.7 10.0 1199.5

112.5

250.8 106.0

+7.0 +6.0

+18.0 +2.5

The share market began the week on a positive note as most sectors showed up with advancing prices in moderately active trading. More than IL134m. changed hands. In the latter part of the week, shares. appeared to have gone through a consolidaacceptation phase as prices were generally mixed. For many issues this meant that a new supin he port level was created.

Yesterday's action indicated that the h public, at least for the time being, is favour-ing shares over index-linked bonds. The latter were generally mixed with only the 80 per cent linked bonds showing a clearcut up-Sward gain of up to 1 per cent

As in the share market trading, turnover in of other bond market picked up noticeably and crossed the H.88m. mark.

The scenario in the commercial bank group The scenario in the commercial bank group by continued to repeat itself as most shares rose in keeping with the tempo of the past week Leumi continued its momentum and gained Leumi continued its maintained its their in rapid upward pace as it scored a 10 point gain their in to 423. Hapoalim (R) was up by one while the interest pearer shares gained two points to 467. and a ko Union Bank was three improved. IDB chipped in with a two-point gain while

485.0 2445.0

383.0 539.0 310.0 244.0

398.0 573.0

122.5 149.0

101.0 627.0

627.0

154.0 272.0

278.0

708.0 572.0

523,0 239.5 206.5

144.0

470.0 204.0 145.0

389.0 126.0

212.0

815.D

58,8018

5.8359

15,2005

4.9165

21.3214

27.9667

29,6593

8.4376 18.4522

29.9690

81,25

25.0800 13.5677

15.2822 58.771

12.3257

1.8427 5.8475 4.7030 4.9195 6.4961 21.8242

29.6746

27.9679 8.4465

per $ per $ per $

per$ per$ per$

June 24, 1979

Commercial Banks ASA (O.H.H. r

"Ires lan I.D.B. pref.

ullong "I.D.B. "B"
I.D.B. pref. "A"

Union 18% s.c. 5

Mizrahi b

Mizrahl opt. 2

Mizrahi opt. 3 Mizrahi opt. 4

Mizrahi s.c. 7

Hapoalim opt. 3 Hapoalim opt. 4

Hapoalim opt. 5

Hapoalim 18% s.c. 8

General 18% s.c. 4

Leumi 18% s.c. 6

Leumi 1895 a.c. 8

FIBI.

Carmel b Carmel + opt. "A

File of the state of the state

1 Carmel 18% deb. 10

Dev. & Mig. opt. 95 100 * Dev. & Mig. 18% deb. 86 101 * Dev. & Mig. 18% deb. 87 101 * Dev. & Mig. 18% deb. 94

Bank of Israel

representative

foreign exchange rates — June 24

בנק אמריקאי ישראלי בע"מ AMERICAN ISRAEL BANK LTD.

22.6.79 Friday's foreign ex

er U.S. dellaz tra

DM Swiss Fr.

Sterling French Fr.

Austrian Sch

Swedish Kr.

Norwegian Kr.

Danish Kr.

Canadian $

Australian $

Swiss Fr. Belgium Fr.

Bwedish Kr

French Fr.

Italian Lire

Norwegian Kr.

Yen 217.85, Gold Price: $281.50/282.00

1 men, 3 men. 2,1373/268 2,1309/284 1,8396/416 1,8283/272 2,6321/341 2,8085/075

FORWARD RATES:

Danish Kr Dutch F1.

Yen (100)

Seigian Fr. (10)

INTERBANK LONDON

Rand

Dutch F1.

FOREIGN CURBENCY

as in other curre

54.1574

12,4139

1.8550 5.8894

21.4773 29.8876

8.5071

1.5460/70 29.5850/70

4.2880/4.2900 1.2970/96 5.3330/35 2.0343/53

1.8480/90

886.70/00

5.0975/85 217.85/80

Housing Mtg. r

han 7 J.S. dollars

Jutch F1.

iwedish Kr.

Janish Kr.

Aust. Dollar

3el. Fr. (10)

dan Dinar

ebanon Lira

(en(100)

"inn. M

Mortg. & Inv.

Dev. & Mig. b

Haposlim opt. 7

Hapoalim 10% s.c. 1

Leumi opt. 1

is aru manHapoalim r

Mizrahi 18% s.c. 6

"Strike Mizrahi 15% a.c. 2

I.D.B. opt. 5

Stocks & bonds the market report

By JOSEPH MORGENSTERN Post Finance Reporter

General Bank was up by one but Mizrahi, in heavy trading, was unchanged.

Mortgage bank equities were generally on the upside. General Mortgage rose by six to 838. Shikun (R) gained 13 for a 4.2 per cent advance. Tefahot Pref. (B) eased by 14 while the ordinary shares were five lower. Otzar Lata'asiya, both bearer and registered, were nine higher. In the insurance group, Securitas did not trade yesterday in the wake of the company's announcement that it is extending for one year the exercise rights for holders for Securitas options.

Hazeneh announced that it is acting as temporary manager for the Isram Insurance Company in spite of the fact a lawyer has

235.0 376.5

311.0 185.0

866.0 656.0

135.5

242.0

347.0 .338.0

147.0

39.0

53.0 30.6 26.7 98.7 105.0

93.9

107.7

~87.(

145.9 66.5

+9.0

+15.0

+11.0

—3.0

+2.0

-14.0

+4.0

-5.0 +9.0

+7.0

+87.0 +7.0

Balance of payments said

more crucial than inflation

n.c. 226.3 n.c. 87.5 —2.0 63.6

$20b. and $30b."

+9.0

--18.0

I.L.D.C. opt. "B" I.L.D.C. 20% deb. 3 I.L.D.C. 20% deb. 4

Prop. & Bidg. opt. "A"
Prop. & Bidg. opt. "A"
Prop. & Bidg. 15% deb. 4
Prop. & Bidg. 18% deb. 5
Bayside 1

Solel Boneh b

Bayside 5 Ispro

Pri Or

Urdan 1

Urdan 5

Allience

Eleo 2:5 r

Electra 1

Electra 5

Electra opt.

Eiron opt. "A

Argaman r Argaman b

Ata opt. "A"

Dubek b Fertilizers

Teva b

Molett

Moller

few years until it would be between $5.5b. and $7.5b. by 1982. At that time, the country's total foreign debt

(now $12b.) would climb to "between

At the same time, he feared the government's decision not to subsidize loans to industry would step up competition to find and keep markets "and some plants would have to fold up."

Post Aviation Reporter

EL AL may be heading for renewed labour strife unless the labour agreement for 1978/79 is approved by

A go-slow strike by the airline's ground staff grounded 11 flights due to depart from Ben-Gurion on Saturday, affecting many hundreds of

Although the ground staff returned to work Saturday evening at the behest of general manager Mordechai Hod, after a session lasting several hours, the workers committees have warned that they will not accept any further hold-offs

in the approval of the agreement.

The draft is being reviewed by a panel of experts representing the government companies authority.

El Al faces new labour strike

the end of this week.

Am-Isr. Paper Am-Isr. opt. "A" Am-Isr. 20% deb. 1

Assis 50% div. 78

Teva opt. Teva debt.

Ata 20% deb. 2 Dubek r

Cables p. Cables b. Haifa Chem.

Haifa Chem. opt. 2 Haifa Chem. 20% deb. 1

Argaman pref. r Argamán pref. b

Electra 16% deb

Eleo 2.5 b Eleo opt. "A" Elec 20% deb. 1

Urdan opt.

Rassco pref. Rassco

Oil Exploratio

been chosen, on a temporary basis, to supervise the dissolution of Isram. The latter was originally set up by American interests but ran into difficulties with its automobile policies, which resulted in large losses.

Land development and real estate issues were mixed. Mehadrin was a good feature as it gained 65 to 11000. Pri Or rose by 20 to 1100. Property and Building was unchanged while Bayside IL5 was easing by six to $21. Industrials enjoyed a good session.

Alliance rose by 45 to 1205 while Paper Mills was gaining 40 to 970. Taal (R) was on the losing side as it fell by 5.6 per cent to 302. Arad gained somewhat more than five per cent to Phoenicia did not trade yesterday as the company announced its 1978 results. The company's board of directors has decided not to make any dividend payment on account of last year's activities. The company's sales were just under IL150m. and its pre-tax profit stood at IL11.6m.

Investment company equities rose. Clal Industries stood out with a 24 point advance to 551. Clai Investments rose by 14 to 614. Piryon was a 19 point winner to 309. Central Trade gained 40 to 1030.

162.0

1100.0

24B.0

409.0

1205.0 539.0

267.0 272.0

104.0 93.0

590.0 388.0 398.0 309.0 183.5

161.0

50.0 76.0 81.0

192.0 838.0 262.0 626.0 970.0 405.5 277.5

n.c. --2.0 --2.0

+20.0

+22.0

+45.0 +1.0

Representative | New York bond prices

bond price			l
	Price	Change	l
129 Con.r generobareur		с	I
Group 1. Yield: - 3001		+1.3	I
3010	593.5	+1.3	ı
	-0.01		į
3013 3020	593.8 518.3	n.c.	l
Group 5. Yleid: -		n.c.	ŀ
3027	503.5	-4.1	ı
3032 4002 (R)	446.3 653.0	-8.8	l
Group 22. Yield:		n.c.	Ì
3101	360.2	-3.1	l
3108 Group 24, Yield: +	297.6	-2.8	Į
3110	298.6	—I.9	١
2015	282.8	-1.8	l
4% Gov't (80% C-o-L)			l
Group 42. Yield: +	-3.06 234.6	+2.1	l
3206	221.8	+2.0	I
Group 44. Yield; +			ł
3213	216.3 205.7	+1.5 +1,5	ļ
6% Gov't (80% C-o-L)		. 1,0	ı
Group 52. Yield: + $501	8.34 207.7		ļ
3504	184.0	+1.7° +1.5	l
1% Gov't (88% C-o-L)		- 114	1
Group 62. Yield: +	3.50 177.0	+0.6
3526	164.8	+0.6	ì
Group 64, Yield: +	-3.59 157.3	TV 2
3533	155.3	+0.1 +0.1
Group 56, Yield: + 3534
3534 3541	145.3 138,4	+0.1 +0.1	l
6.5% Defence loan			ı
Group 1. Yield: — 75 (Ayin Heh)	-1.40 878.3	5.8
80 (Peh)	880.8	7.0	l
Group 3. Yield: -	-1.25 865.3
90 (Tzadi)	95.0	n.c. 0.1
202 (Resh Bet)	_
51 (Nun Aleph) 70 (Ayin)	1008.0 920.0	n.c. 1.0
Gov't double-option linked	_	.]	١
2001 2011	173.9	-0.3
2021	153.2 146.0	n.c. +0.2
Delence loan 69
9 (Tet) 44 (Mem Dalet)	690.0 546.0	n.c. —20
Bonds 100% linked to	-1010
foreign currency	748.0	+7.0
67: Isr. Electric Corp. "B' 57: Dead Sea Works	748.0 1800.0	+7.0 +33,0
5.5% Gov't 6026	118.0	n.c.
Bonds 70% linked to foreign currency
5003	160.5	5.0
Dollar denominated bonds			i
7% Unico 7% Gen'l Mtg. 43	98.2 97.0	-0.1 +1.2
Hollis 15	96.5	—1.0
Hollis 20	94.9	+0.9
Hollis 25 6.5% Wolfson	84.2 75.6	2.0 n.c.
757 Tefahot 10	98.5	n.c.
7% Clai investment 2	97.8	n.c.
8. Fr. denominated bonds 6% Bank Yaad 38	105.8	_0.3
5.5% Mimunim 5	105.7	_0.9

(The yield reflects the difference between the "theoretical" value of bonds — based on the date of issue and current Co-L indexes plus accumulated interest — and the actual market price. It is based on the assumption that future C s will be zero. A negativ

106.4

5% Meniv 8

Stock Exchange

Closing prices - June 22 Due to technical difficulties, the New York Stock Exchange report does not appear today. We regret the inconvenience.

we regret the inco		ice.
Hork	(Tesing	(January)
l 	. peter
Allied Chemical	_
ASA Amer. Isr. Paper Mills		_
Avro		_
Bueing	=	_
Burroughs	_	_
Braniff	=	_
Bell & Howell	_	_
Bally	_	_
Bausch & Lomb	_	_
Control Data	=	_
Curtis Wright		_
Dow Chemical	-	_
Eastman Kodak	Ξ	_
Etz Lavud Ford	_	Ξ
Fairchild Camera	=	_
General Dynamics	_	_
Gulf & Western	_	_
Holiday Inns	_	-
Houston Oil		-
Honeywell Inc	- - - - -	_
Hilton	_	_
IBM	_	_
Lockheed Litton	=	_
LTV	_
McDonnell Douglas	_
Merrill Lynch		_
мсм
Motorola	-	=
NCR	_
Natonas
National Semiconductor	_	_
Occidental Petroleum	=	_
Penn Central Pan American	_	_
Polaroid	_	_
RCA		_
Revion	_	=
Raytheon	_	-
Sears		_
Sperry Rand	_	_
Syntex	_	_
American Tel & Tel	_	_
Telex	_
Teledyne	=
Tyce Lab. United Airlines	=
United Carbide	_	=======================================
UV Ind.	_	_
Western Union	_	_
Westinghouse	_
U.S. Steel	-	-
Xerox-	_	_
Zenith	_	_
Exxon	_	_
PIT leter the American Stee

"{Listed on the American Stock Exch (These stock prices are mofficial)

This selected list

by courtesy of ISRAEL DISCOUNT BANK: 3

Tel: 8 a.m.—12.30 p.m. — 627542 5 p.m.-7 p.m. - 223111

Most active shares

Leumi	382	+4.0 13498.8
Mizrahi r	272	D.C. 2446.3
FIBI .	423	+10.0 1199.5
Volumes	24.6,.79	21.6.79
Shares traded:	IL136.5m
Convertibles:	IL10.4m.	II.9.2m
Bonds:	IL86.1m.	IL45.2m.
Share index up 1.01 to 124.67

_
l bb	revia	tions:
. o .		sellers only	n.c	no change
1.0 .	_	buyers only	r	registered
ľ	_	without dividend	b	bearer
:	- —	without coupon	pref. —	preferred
	-	without bonus	opt. –	option
	_	without rights	CONV	convertible
.c.	_	subordinated capi	tal notes

These stock prices are unofficial reported this week that the company has broken what it considers the major barrier to overseas distribution of its highly sophisticated four-way six-bolt safety locks through a system of special courses for in-

The success of this new export ser vice is reflected in overseas sales of almost double last year's. Based on ourrent orders the company anticipates exports of $500,000 in 1979-80 compared to $270,000 during 1978-

Following the pattern of its continuing training programme for installation experts in Israel, the comfour continents to prepare technicians for the effective distribution of the equipment in their home

The company first invited foreign installation personnel to train at the Mul-T-Lock factory and still welcomes overseas representatives, but it decided that the Israeli instructors, by being on the scene, would help importers overcome the practical technical challenges they face in their markets. After more than five years of overseas activity Mul-T-Lock found that resistance to its product among potential importers was not based on quality or price, but on the fact that its advanced design presented a challenge in installation as contrasted with the more simplified standard locks which these distributors were ac-

In addition to its four-way security lock, Mul-T-Lock also exports steel

אגודת ישראל-גרמניה

ISRAELI-GERMAN SOCIETY

Rudolf Kuestermeier Prize With funds kindly put at our disposal by

Mr. AXEL SPRINGER, we shall award for the year 1979 3 PRIZES OF IL50,000.-

The prizes are intended for Israelis or Israeli groups who, through their work or achievements in the fields of

CULTURE, ART and LITERATURE ECONOMICS YOUTH and SPORT ACTIVITY

· have contributed towards the strengthening and deepening of the friendly relations between Israel and Germany.

Detailed written descriptions of the works or achievements, accompanied by relevant documents, are to be submitted to the ISRAELI-GERMAN SOCIETY, P.O.B. 26176, Tel Aviv. not later than August 15, 1979.

Chairmen of the Juries Dr. ELIMELECH RIMALT • YEHUDA SHAARI • ADIN TALBAR

The presentation ceremony will be held during November YOSEF TAMIR, MK

President of the Society

The aim of our society is to develop and advance closer relations between the peoples of Israel and Germany in the political, economic, social, cultural and scientific fields, and attract wide circles of the Israeli public.

All those interested to join the ISRAELI-GERMAN SOCIETY are invited to write to:

P.O.B. 26176, TEL AVIV; P.O.B. 3231, JERUSALEM; P.O.B. 4777, HAIFA.

FOR SALE

in Ramat Aviv "B", Tel Aviv

For further details and conditions, please apply to Shikun

U'Pituah Leisrael Ltd., 18a Rehov Ha'arbaa, Tel Aviv.

Sunday — Thursday from 3 — 5 p.m. Registration closes on Tuesday, July 3, 1979.

> Greater Dan Region Association of Towns Sewerage Purposes Tender No. 144/D-4/ISP/79 Israel Sewerage Project

AMENDMENT

An error occurred in the advertisement concerning the above tender. The site inspection for contractors will be held on July 1, 1979 and not as published in the advertisement.

> Y. Elitzor Acting Chief Engineer of G.D.R.A. of Towns

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO TRAVELLERS TO ITALY

Because of the unclarity concerning the announcements on the abolition of visas for Italy from July 1, 1979, the Israel Association of Travel and Tourism Agents suggests the following procedure: persons planning a trip to Italy dur-ing July-August, should contact their travel agents with a request for an Italian visa.

This arrangement will be in effect until an authorized an-

Israel Association of Travel

Lock makers send men abroad to help install product

By JOSEPH MORGENSTERN Jerusalem Post Finance Reporter TEL AVIV. — Israel's largest security device manufacturer has achieved a breakthrough in its export marketing through a new system of providing expertise along with its products. Avraham Bachri, managing director of Mui-T-Lock Ltd., security device developer and producer, stallation personnel abroad.

pany is now conducting courses on customed to handling.

nut mini-safes for homes, offices, stores and vehicles and Pladelet, a decorative steel-surfaced security door with safety lock.

Canon PIO-D

KARAT LTD.

KARAT LTD. 10, Montefiori St., Tel Aviv Tel.03-55244

nouncement is published by the Italian authorities.

and Tourism Agents.

An Rath Editor and

POST

Founded in 1932 by the late GERSHON AGRON, who was Editor until 1955 Editor 1955-74 the late TED LURIE Editor 1974-75 LEA BEN DOR EDITORIAL OFFICES AND ADMINISTRATION The Jerusalem

Romema, Jerusalem. P.O.Box 81 (91000). Telephone 528181. Telex 25421 TEL AVIV 11 Rehov Carlebach, P.O.Box 20126 (61200). Telephone 294222 HAIFA 34 Rehov Herzi, Hadar Hacarmel' P.O.Box 4810 (31040) Telephone 645444 JERUSALEM BRANCH (ads. subscriptions) 6 Rehov Aristobulus, Telephone 223966 Published daily, except Saturday, in Jerusalem, Israel by The Palestine Post Ltd. Printed at The Jerusalem Post Press in Jerusalem. Registered at the G.P.O. Copyright of all material reserved, reproduction permitted only by arrangement.

Kibbutzim on the move

THE KIBBUTZIM account for about three per cent of the population of Israel; the two Labour-affiliated kibbutz federations who have decided to merge into one movement, number two per cent. Yet, kibbutzim have always played a role in Israel public life far out of proportion to their mere numbers. And they have always had a special place in Israel's heart and in the imagination of Israel's friends abroad.

Kibbutzim were founded during the four decades prior to Israel's establishment and during the decade or so after, by a self-selected pioneering elite which was deeply committed to concepts of public service. It is hard to imagine Israel's arising and flourishing without the crucial contribution of the kibbutzim and their dedicated members.

Yet, during the past two decades and more, kibbutz members and especially those of the second and third generations have retreated into their own form of privatism, welcoming their share of the false prosperity that engulfed Israeli society after

The middle generation leaders of Ihud Hakibbutzim and of the Kibbutz Hameuhad who have pushed for unification over the opposition of some of their elders are imbued with the need to restore the kibbutz movement to a deeper sense of involvement in Israeli public life. This should be welcomed by all Israelis concerned with the progressive breakdown of critical facets of Israel's public life. Kibbutzim are still an impressive reservoir of human talent and will and can contribute much.

The kibbutz leaders are making no secret of their intention to express this deeper involvement of their movement in public affairs by asserting their power in the Labour Party.

The Labour Party could use such a cleansing internal shaking up. That party, under whose aegis the struggle for Israel's creation was conducted, and which presided over the remarkable progress made in the first decades of statehood, became a corrupted, bankrupt and paralysed political body in its last years in power.

It is small consolation that the Likud, which has supplanted Labour as Israel's ruling coalition, has proved as feckless as Labour in its worst and final years. That is a source for consternation for next to nothing has been done to reform Labour in its two years out of power.

The kibbutz leaders could lead a movement for such internal reform, if they so choose. But there is the danger that they may instead choose to conduct the same, self-seeking struggle for power, for power's sake, that has characterized many in Labour's leadership in its declining years.

The job of cleaning Labour's stables is such a gargantuan one that any groups sincerely undertaking such a task should wish for sufficient time to start on the needed internal changes before being again confronted with the task of assuming national political responsibilities as the result of new elections.

.The eager kibbutzniks who are preparing to take over the Labour Party should be reminded that 97 per cent of the Israelis are not kibbutzniks and that the Labour Party must establish its credibility in the eyes of the public at large if it is to return to power on their votes.

Labour has spent the past two years trying to recover from the trauma of being driven into the opposition and subsequently engaging in vociferous but often petty slanging matches with a Likud grown ever more panicky and savage with mounting problems and failures. Labour has not, however, offered any atimage, or leadership.

If the challenge mounted by the revitalized kibbutz leadership could, in partnership with other new forces, introduce such alternatives into the public arena it would mark a welcome new development in Israeli politics.

Banning the DC-10

THE TRANSPORT Minister's decision forbidding DC10 airliners to land in Israel springs from a proper solicitude for passenger safety. Such a cautious attitude is normally welcome, but in this particular case seems excessive.

True, the plane's airworthiness certificate has been temporarily withdrawn in the United States and — as the Ministry points out virtuously — the aircraft is an American product, so they should know best.

On the other hand several reasons are thought to have been responsible for the crash of the DC10 in Chicago last month. One is inadequate maintenance. Another is the possibility of metal fatigue, which comes with age. The aviation authorities in Switzerland took all this into account when re-examining the Swissair machines. The European governments have all come to the conclusion that the DC10 is now, following on proper inspection, safe to fly. It seems presumptuous on the part of Israel's Civil Aviation Department to refuse it landing rights.

The Israeli administration has more than once found itself on the defensive about the safety of its own airports. Its feeling was that Israel's professional judgment on the subject should be

The argument can be turned the other way. If the Swiss are ready, after careful consideration, to let their own nationals travel on the aircraft, both as crew and passengers, do we have legitimate grounds to say them nay?

POSTSCRIPTS

A GENTLEMAN from South Dakota

"I and my wife have just had the pleasure of completing our first tour of your small, but highly interesting country, harbouring a great people.

"In my capacity as Professor of Ancient Middle East History, allow me to express my profound admiration for your government policy. Ceding El Arish to Egypt, its legitimate owner, is an act of bold and courageous character. In so doing it has righted a long lasting

"El Arish, an ancient Mediterranean port in territory occupied by

Information Department

June 26, 1979.

MINISTRY FOR RELIGIOUS AFFAIRS

Egypt circa 1700 B.C. was termed Rhinocolura, "cut off noses," by the Ancient Greeks; describing Egyptian procedure of so mutilating war captives sent to labour at the port, to discourage escape by rendering fugitives readily identifiable. Consequently Sadat is definitely justified in proclaiming that territory "Sacred Arab Soil."

"I am surprised that on the same precedent your government hesitated in laying timely claim to Damascus, an important city in David's empire, as well as the home of Isaac's chief administrator; quite sufficient to be sacred to the Meeting of Intellectuals and Public Figures to Discuss:

"Spiritual and Social Implications of the Peace for Israeli Society"

The meeting will take place at Beit Agron, Jerusalem, at 4 p.m. tomorrow, Tuesday,

Chief Rabbi and President of the Religious Court of Rehovot

Remarks from the Chair: Rabbi Dr. Yaacov Weinstein, Chairman of Agudat Moria

Opening remarks: Mr. Aharon Abuhatzeira, Minister of Religious Affairs

Addresses: Mr. Avraham Hermon, President of the Hebrew University

Rabbi Simha Hacohen Kook

Writer Aharon Megged

'IN THESE DAYS of soul-searching and budget-trimming we should con-sider realistic possibilities to reduce the waste of manpower in the public services, and to increase the morale and productivity of the main body power in public service.

Research has shown, or simply verified what everybody perceives, that administration is full of unmotivated clerks and, therefore,

What has so far hampered pruning staffs is not only union protection of the weak but also a number of fallacies or out-moded policies. We have long believed that there exist no valid criteria for curbing the number of unproductive civil servants; that public services must absorb persons who might otherwise become in need of social welfare; that public services should be the first to accept new immigrants, mothers, the underprivileged and the under-trained; that it is all the fault of supervisors if their subor-dinates do not work properly, and only they must be called to order . By such policies, now out-dated, public offices have become saddled with a huge overweight of invisible unemployment, low-work morale and inefficiency. Paradoxically, the worst victims of bureaucracy are fellow-bureaucrats, with the effect that overstaffing and inefficacy are snow-balling.

Moreover, administrators have to devote an inordinate time to the unmotivated rather than to their principal functions.

WE MAY NOW start dismantling these fallacies.

As to finding a criterion to pinpoint some of the unmotivated or unproductive, I suggest we start looking for secondary earners and restricting their employment in future. It has been found that a significant part of the unmotivated are not the main providers in the family. Such can better risk slackness and absenteeism, in-difference and inefficiency. This goes both for male and female employees. Though the latter are undoubtedly the majority, there are also plenty of men whose wives or other relatives are the primary earners on whom they rely financial-

WORLD OF WASTE

A. JOSEPH discusses fallacies about bureaucracy and formulas for overcoming the tremendous waste of man-

This suggestion is in tune with the well-known principle that no person should receive more than one salary from public coffers, inasmuch as the primary earner is in public employ. And in both cases double salaries are verifiable to about the same extent.

Another criterion for locating the unmotivated should be the identification of units whose functions have become outdated or redundant, e.g. because of automatic processing or reorganization.

Some executives or work committees may at first be interested in Parkinsonian Expetuation, but in the long run all of them will suffer. High qualifications for entrance into public service also should be

NOW THE QUESTION of feasibility arises. First of all, nobody unqualified, unmotivated, on being a secondary earner should be eligible for public employment. Secondly, severance pay or early retirement could be offered. At a later stage, pressure for leaving the service might be exercised, e.g. by freezing promotion. Every annual wage agreement should contain a clause or two in this direction as a condition for basic-pay rises.

It is in the nature of things that the unmotivated be in the lower half of the pay scales, but this very fact helps to minimize retirement funds expendable and enhance feasibility.

In any case, grades lower than the present No. 13 carry miserable pay and are ripe for abolition except those few needed for short trialperiods and transitional work. It may be reiterated that every 10 employees necessitate, roughly speaking, two more for supervising and servicing them, with costly equipment and building spaces. Let us now return to the other fallacies. The second and third are those which make a case for absorbing the weak and such who need encouragement. That was good general policy indeed, once upon a time; when welfare services were in their infant shoes, families too poor for self-aid, immigrants too many for absorption, spouses less interested in high living standards, opportunities for professional training too little and too late, army duty shorter and non-public jobs less

These and many other facts of life have now changed and can no longer be a pretext for protecting the lowoutput clerks and officials. What is more, inflated public employment is one of the salient causes of budgetary and general inflation,

WHAT COUNTS is that private services and industry are now eager to absorb most people looking for jobs, to more effectively control and motivate them to instil pride of work and, finally to increase their pay have profited from such a change-over already. But those who stay on are too often secondary earners, nonchalant and immobile, except for leaving their deaks for hours a day. They have got used to the "good life" and become less and less ready to jump into the waters of the private market.

Certainly our public employers should stop stranding new ones, for the common good. They must know that the unmotivated show a bad example to youth and newcomers and are the core and reference point for working standards of the lowest common denominator, over which there is very little control available or possible in public service.

Now this brings us to the fourth fallacy, that of blaming the bosses for all failures of discipline and productivity. Well, they have no carrots and sticks left after years of erosion in authority. Only if they manage units that are both frontline and "main-purpose" in the organization will they have fair means to push on.

For supervisors of "back-room boys" and clerical auxiliary ser-

Dry Bones

MAYBE THE GOVERNMENT is getting SERIOUS AT LAST!

ı gili'l.

Mil

vices, special motivation aid must be provided, including career planning, constant image enhancement and powers to reward and reprimand.

Now if, by raising standards and etrenching staffs, too few people remain in office, ways should be sought either to streamline or curtail

OF COURSE, these suggestions and arguments refer only to part of the problems. But waiting till all other problems are selected for solution is self-defeating. Therefore, it is easonable to make some start at the individual level and wherever lack of motivation can be diagnosed.

In wider perspective, a drastic overhaul of employment and wage policies has long been overdue. The waste of public money on unearned pay-cheques could be converted into many development projects, and retraining and welfare

To implement such an overhaul, high political priority is warranted, and to be evidenced by the appointment of a special Deputy Minister of Public Manpower. His task should be to complement the existing ministers and the Civil Service Commissioner to mastermind and bulldoze more breakthroughs.

No doubt a new impetus is due for career planning and senior man-power development. The U.S. Treasury, for instance, has eatablished, in keeping with Civil Service Commission guidelines, very successful programmes, ingenious in conception and cheap in administration. Their realization is guaranteed by the appointment in every agency of an Executive Manpower Management Officer, who elicits initiative for upward mobility from both the employees and management, and finds the anticipated vacancies and candidates and channels resources to develor manpower, while adapting demand and supply.

The author is a public servent employed in the Treasury.

NEOT AVIV

To the Editor of The Jerusalem Post

Sir, — We represent Neot Aviv and our attention has been drawn to the article which appeared on June 4.

1. The order directing the Equidation of our client was granted by the District Court Tel Aviv and not by the Supreme Court. In fact an appeal was lodged by our client to the Supreme Court Jerusalem and pending the appeal the Supreme Court ordered a stay of the liquidation tinuous trading of its shares on the Stock Exchange as well as the continued activities of our client in its ordinary and usual course of

2. The building project referred to in your article is in Neot Ilan and not

3. The information reported by you in regard to the construction of the apartments in Givatayim is inaccurate. The project involves the construction of 318 apartments at a total constructed cost of IL240,000,000. Our clients and the other party concerned are each required to contribute one-half of any sum actually required to be paid. However, to suggest that our client will be contributing the sum of IL120,000.000 is incorrect as there is little doubt that under present market conditions, the sale of the apartments will provide most — if not all — of the financing required. Moreover, as was stated in the directors' report, the investment in the project will be made in line with the progress of sales. At this stage actual construction has not commenced.

4. Our clients, like most other building companies have distributed dividends and declared bonus shares and therefore we find your state-ment "most of the gains came as a result of profits which were not distributed to shareholders" vague and ambiguous. Most of the profits were derived from investments in securities which were so effected to maintain the value of the capital of the Company.

ISIAH PRYWES,

Somoza's regime has also used weapons to violate the territorial integrity of peaceful, neighbouring world attention from the real problem within his country. This is a proper time to remember that little,

genuinely democratic Costa Rica has been the single Latin American country that has consistently and bravely stood by the just cause of Israel in the UN, when even our "staunchest" allies let us down and the rest of the world slandered us.

For those reasons, and above all,

because our own ancestral history, values, and tradition demand it from us, the Government of Israel must cease its ties with the Somoza regime and stand by the side of the oppressed and heroic people of Nicaragua in their struggle for

WEITZNER-

Costa Rica in an attempt to diver

Tel Aviv.

BREAK TIES WITH SOMOZA Nicaraguan dictatorship long ago.

To the Editor of The Jerusalem Post Sir, - As a Jew and lover of Zion, I wish to appeal to the government of the Jewish homeland to stop the sale of arms to the Somoza dictatorship which has used them against the people of Nicaragua.

Through its representatives, the government of Israel has reminded critics that the dictator's family, in power throughout decades in Nicaragua, sold us Jews arms when they were essential to our survival and very hard to obtain. However, Mr. Begin's regime should also remember that we Jews needed those arms to sustain our own struggle for national liberation, and that we did not acquire them gratis. Somoza's tyranny has been conducting a systematic massacre of his own people in order to crush their fight for national liberation; a goal totally opposed to the one that guided the use of weapons acquired by the Jewish people with the help of the

WRONG PARTY

To the Editor of The Jerusalem Post

Sir, - In your report, "5,000 youngsters to try tennis this summer" (June 11), you published the pictures of three young players. You erroneously called the centre youth Marcel Herschaft, while in fact it was my grand-son, Ronen Nakar. Both he and I were most disappointed by this mix-up. LOTTE TURBOWICZ

AGUDAT MORIA

for Jewish Values

To the Editor of The Jerusalem Post Sir, - The Shavuot Mabat

DAMAGING REPORT

human rights.
ESTHER J.

Mexico City.

programme contained a short but extraordinarily "effective" scene in which a Gush Emunim man, looking like a modern Shylock, was teaching his little son to beat up Arabs. The newsmen responsible for this item must be aware that, since the human mind tends to generalize from the particular, this boorish individual will represent, to the world at large. not just one fanatical Israeli, but every Israeli, and its effect will be to embarrass our friends and play into the hands of our enemies. While there is every justification for objective criticism of Gush Emunim's policies and activities, this type of character assassination. with its appeal to the emotions, will do far greater mischief than what was, presumably, intended.

SPIRIT MORE SACRED THAN STONES

the authenticity of those places must

· To the Editor of The Jerusalem Post Sir, - After having read your editorial of May 24, I am astonished to see once again the list of the 'cities' holy to Christians, with Rome in the first place. This is certainly not true for hundreds of millions of Orthodox and Protestants. I believe that, if it is a question of the importance of the events which occurred in these cities, then every Christian will say that Jerusalem is much letter of Fr. Baratto of June 5).

Christians. believe we should avoid talking about "Holy Land," "Holy Cities" and "Holy Places." I don't feel obliged to follow the Crusaders' form of religion or the way of speaking of certain periods of history. We do not find "Holy Places" in the words of Jesus as transmitted by the Gospeis. nor in teachings of the apostles and the Church's doctrine. Moreover, the general Christian position regarding be decided by competent archaeologists and is not a matter of . faith. The Byzantines centred their. liturgy on the celebration of the mysteries, recalling the events of Jesus' life. To do this, they chose certain places in our country, some of them authentic, others more or less I have lived in Israel 20 years and for 15 years, I have guided pilgrims from different countries of the world. There are two ways of approaching the Christian pilgrimage: either take people from one "Holy Place" to another, or try to help them relive the events of the Bible and of the life of Jesus by getting them to understand how things happened, love the country as a whole, its landscape, the People of the Covenant, Jews and Samaritans, and also the native Christians, This is the way that I have chosen and most pilgrims accept with enthusiasm. I am not indifferent to

THE ARLOSOROFF AFFAIR

To the Editor of The Jerusalem Post Sir. - I refer to Yosef Ahimeir's letter and Dr.Dov Joseph's reply

(June 14) concerning the Arlosoroff affair.

In August 1939, I was an occupant of the Central Prison in Jerusalem, having been convicted of conspiracy to organise "illegal" immigration into Palestine. I acquired the doubtful reputation of honorary legal adviser to many of the prisoners. Arab and Jewish. On one occasion, two Arab prisoners were introduced to me as the murderers of Arlosoroff. One of them was Abdul Mejid el Hindi and I do not recollect the name of his smaller companion. They told me without any hesitation that they had killed Arlosoroff, but they had not known who he was at the time and that they had not had any intention to kill anyone. They were out only to rob, and Abdul Mejid said that he carried a revolver only to frighten prospective victims. Unfortunately, however when Arlosoroff suddenly flashed a torch in his face, he reacted nervously and pressed the trigger. They told me that they had immediately run away and had spent some time on a bench in Rothschild Boulevard before making their way back to Jaffa. They were later sentenced to life imprisonment for another murder. When information seeped out from the prison that they had admitted to other prisoners that they were the killers of Arlosoroff, they were visited by a member of the Stavsky defending team who assured them that no harm would come to them if they admitted to the killing, that as there was no evidence of premeditation, they could not be sentenced to death, so that they would not suffer any punishment in addition to that which they were already suffering. They therefore agreed to make the affidavits which were subsequently produced to the court.

However, before they were called to give evidence, a police officer

RENT-A-CAR 50% DISCOUNT All New Cars Dally $10, Weekly $60

TAMIR, RENT-A-CAR 8 Kikar Ha'atzma'ut, Netanya, Tel. 053-31831, after office hours: Tel. 053-25763 visited them in the prison and told. them that they had been wrongly advised, that they could be sentenced to death and persuaded them to withdraw their confessions. Shortly after my release from prison, I addressed a public meeting in Tel Aviv on 'Prison conditions and experiences'" and in the course thereof, I related all the above facts. Sergeant Alec Stewart of the Jaffa C.I.D. sat in the front row and made copies of my remarks. After the meeting, I asked Stewart whether I had said anything to which objection could be taken to which he replied:"Not at all, everything you

Yosef Ahimeir may be disappointed that no official assurance has been forthcoming of his father's innocence, but he may take some comfort from the fact that the Yishuv as a whole never believed in his guilt or that of Stavsky or of Rosenblatt. MAX SELIGMAN

PENFRIENDS

ANTOINETTE MOORE (27), of 18 Abbotstown Drive, Fingles West, Dublin, Ireland, would like to correspond with Israelis in order to learn more about our country and its peo-

THE ECONOMIST

June 16, 1979

 ISRAEL AND EGYPT: Hot and bothered. IRAN AND THE ARABS: Whom can a holy man trust?

Bronfman's Agency Ltd.

Will your child surprise you with a good school report?

Surprise him

for the summer holiday.

the historical links between the topography and the Scriptures, but let us not speak about Holy Places, if it means that the stones have come sacred and superior to Nabot's vineyard.

Let us leave the Israelis and the Palestinians to search for a solution for Jerusalem which will respect their respective rights. I believe this is possible. But let us not mix up this aim with our claims to rights in the name of religious principles which are disputable. I do not think there is any need for international guarantees of free access to places venerated by followers of all three monotheistic religions beyond those provided by the Israel Government No other government in the world has been asked to furnish such guarantees during the British Mandatory period or during the Transfordan occupation.

We rely on the civilian authorities of Israel to enable Christians to tour the courtry and understand and relive the circumstances in which God spoke to man. But His image is more sacred than any place or 💵 obiect in the world.

(Ft.DANIEL) ORWALD RUFFRIREN O.C.D.

Abdal~ Hamid's Palestine

Rare century-old photos from 155 private collection of the Ottom Sultan Abdul Hamid II. Hundred of revealing pictures, selected and introduced by Jacob M.Landing Published by Carta. Hard cover size 27x21 cm.

> IL216 incl. VAT Post free worldwide.

From Steimatskys, Bronfman and Lonnie Kahn and better bookshops everywhere, or from the offices of The Jerusalem Post in Jerusalem, Tel Aviv or Haifa of by mail. Please complete and return the coupon below.

TO POST

POB 81, Jerusalem. Please send me Abdul Hamid

NAME. ADDRESS. Mhike in and Agreement

Telegis of the state of the sta

Palestine. My cheque for 1216 is enclosed.